Report From Vincent's Meeting.
 A Slim Reception—Admiral Dewey Preferred—16 to 1 a Dead Issue.

Oconto, Neb., April 9, 1900
 A Mr. Vincent, a great populist leader and editor of the Non-Conformist, a paper printed at Omaha, Neb., made a speech at Oconto on Saturday evening last to about 15 people in the audience.

After the speech, which was a combination of socialism, anarchism and some other ism, Mr. Vincent asked that all parties who were not thoroughbred pops of the frat water, should withdraw from the hall as he then wanted to organize a Ku Klux Klan. Eight voters then left the hall—leaving Mr. Vincent and his seven thoroughbreds.
 Mr. Vincent then said he had a few questions to propound, and to show their ock each party was requested to promise to answer—yes—to each question. on the suff was off.
 Inq. 1. Don't you know that our congress should follow the example of the democrats that were in congress during our civil war and vote no more men and no more money for those hirelings now in the Phillipine Islands?
 Ans. Yes, by all sever.

Inq. 2. Don't you know that John M. Thurston and Bill McKinley brought on this unholy war with Spain?
 Ans. 2 Mr. Middleswart said that he always understood it was our senator W. V. Allen but rather than go out of the Klan would answer yes, as he had a cousin holding a good job under Gov. Poynter!

Inq. 3. Don't you know that W. J. Bryan is richer today, that is, owns more filthy lucre, than he would have had in fifty years, if he had not run for president and took up collection?
 Ans. 3. Mr. Conley took exceptions to this question and made quite a good speech. He said he was a Bryan man, had fought, bled and died for populism and Mr. Bryan, and whereas Admiral Dewey was a great and good naval officer, he did not believe he was a thoroughbred democrat or pop—as he did know or ought to know, that the pops, with the exception of J. G. Painter, were on Spaul's side. Great applause and int. withdrawn by Hon. Mr. Vincent.

Inq. 4. Don't you know that 16 to 1 is the only standard for monetary affairs.
 Mr. Conley mildly proposed, that as that was a dead issue the question be withdrawn. Carried.

Mr. Vincent then made another short address in which he said, that although he was for Dewey as the best chance to defeat the republican party, he was in fact a socialist and would like all present to join hands and join the new party but if they would not do so, vote for Dewey or Bryan as the convention ramed.
 Truly,
 SOD.

Do you want a fine table? Look at the Wisconsin, ball bearing slides, massive carved bracket legs, a child can open and close it. A. W. Drake.

Mike Scanlon has already opened his place of business on North Side, first door South of Wilsons & Drake's. He gives a kindly invitation to all his old customers and many new ones, Mike is no stranger in our city, and has been in the same business for years in Broken Bow, he knows how to treat his customers. His room is very small, but was the best location at the time of renting. He is sorry that license was defeated for it makes a difference in his trade and is going to lose his nearest neighbor. Mr. Jack Larkins is one of his best friends, but the best of friends must part. Mike has put in a nice line of fresh candies and confectionery and he will try to run the lunch department as near as he can on the short order plan. No square meal for twenty five cents. He will charge according to what you get. He means to keep a fine line of cigars and tobaccos. He will try to please all.
MIKE SCANLON, Broken Bow.
