[Omitted last week.]

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Penn spent over Sabbath with M. Conley.

The corn crop is so much better than was expected that farmers are much elated.

Yesterday it rained all day. Precipitation about two inches; beneficial to rye and pastures.

H. G. Donnel has tired of Nebraska, and started enroute to Ladysmith, Wisconsin, today (Monday) to look up a more desirable location. If he finds it, he proposes to sell and take up his residence there.

Not since 1889 has there been such a hot August as the one just passed, which had an average of 79 degrees above zero. Two other years was the month hotter than the last, and they were 1881, with an average of 84 degrees, and 1889, with an average of 80 degrees.

I am very lonesome; folks gone east. L S and I are running the ranch. No candidates to tell you how to vote to save the country; no cigars; am obliged to smoke a pipe. Oh my, are you monkeying around and neglecting to revive your fire guards? You may need them on short notice.

The month of August just passed was a record breaker. According to the United States weather bureau and observatory, there has not been such an amount of rain in a corresponding period. Nine inches and a fraction characterized the month, while the greatest during any preceding August according to records, was in 1893, 5.51.

John L. Williams, our efficient mail carrier from the junction with the Broken Bow and Callaway route, near the residence of Ernest Sholts, on Ryno table, to Oconto, has made arrangements to carry passengers and parcels. This will fill a long felt want, as he will be in connection with Broken Bow and Oconto daily, leaving junction going south at 9 a. m., returning at 4 p. m.

DIED—Near Ryno, Sept 7, 1900, Mrs. Geo. A. Griffith, nee Stowell, of typhoid fever, aged 38 years, 7 months and 20 days. The deceased was born in Kane county, Illinois, January 17, 1862. She was married to G. A. Griffith in Taney county, Missouri, Feb. 5 1880. She was the mother of five children, of whom four survive her, also her husband, aged mother and one brother. She immigrated to Nebraska from Iowa, in 1885, where she and her husband, by economy and thrift, have secured a pleasant home. She was a kind mother, closely allied to her home and family, yet ever ready to assist those who needed help. The funeral services were conducted from the residence of Rev. Buckley, after which her remains were followed by sympathizing friends to the Callaway cemetery, where they were laid to rest. The family wish to express their gratitude to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted during the death and burial of a beloved wife and mother.

Dearest mother, thou hast left us,
Here thy loss we deeply feel;
But 'tis God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.

Weather cool and cloudy reminding us that winter is coming.

Davis Headly got his leg caught in a corn binder in such a way that he could not help himself, after calling for help for an hour Mrs. Chumley came to his relief though not seriously hurt it was a close call.

GO BACK EAST TO VISIT.

Many People Take Advantage of Special Rates on the Burlington to Visit Former Homes.

Much satisfaction is expressed by the Burlington over the result of the first "Home Visitors'" excursions over that railroad. The rates were effective yesterday. Last evening No. 2 went through Omaha for the east with twenty-six carloads of passengers in three sections. No. 12 came later with twelve car loads, and was made up in two sections out of Pacific Junction. No. 6 went through this morning with ten car loads. In addition heavy traffic was reported from Nebraska through the Nebraska City and St. Joseph gateways.

The next chance to go east as "Home Visitors," at one fare plus $2, will be on September 26.—Omaha World-Herald Sept. 11.

The Paramount Issue.

The paramount issue to be fought out in the battle of 1900 may be summed up in five small words. Do you want a change?

This is the simple question that every citizen will ask himself before he casts his ballot, and the verdict will depend upon the conclusion reached by a majority of the 15,000,000 voters who will record themselves on one side or the other next November.

It cannot be gainsaid that the American people are as prosperous and well-to-do this year as they ever have been. Do the American people want a change?

Does the great army of wage-workers, which is better fed, better clothed and better housed now than ever before, want a change?

Do the American farmers, whose products are in steady demand at good prices at home and abroad, want a change?

Do the merchants and tradesmen of the country, who are doing a larger business in the aggregate than ever before, want a change?

Do the manufacturers and employers of labor in mill and factory, whose products are marketable now at fair profit, want a change?

Do the professional men, whose services command higher remuneration now than ever before, want a change?

What would any of these classes gain by a change?

This is the poser which neither Mr. Bryan nor any of his champions will be able to answer satisfactorily. They will talk about the Declaration of Independence, about the crime of 1873, about the beauties of free silver coinage, about the disastrous gold standard, about the menace of imperialism and militarism and about the rapacity of the trusts. But all these subjects are overshadowed by the question that dominates all men who are constantly striving to better their condition, but do not willfully and deliberately expose themselves and their families to the risk of a relapse to the distressing, hard times experienced before the advent of McKinley and the ascendancy of republican policies that have restored confidence, raised the national credit and set the wheels of industrial and commercial activity in motion.—Omaha Bee.
