Where? At my door. At the Eagle Grocery. What in the world is it, my dear? It is at the Eagle Grocery, a mammoth stock of Groceries, and at the lowest prices you ever heard of. The Eagle has been reading the papers and kept posted on what was being offered for sale. They don't say anything about Terbacker and Candy, and other good things like that. It is not pickle dishes you want now, it is Candy. The Eagle has 2,000 pounds of candy for sale cheap. Everybody is invited to call and get my prices. Wm. Oxley Arrested.

The Supposed Murderer of W. H. Fullhart in the Custer County Jail.

Sheriff Armstrong Arrested Him at Louisville, Neb., Last Saturday Afternoon.

Last Sunday morning Sheriff Armstrong arrived in the city from the eastern part of the state, where he had traced Wm. Oxley, the last person seen with W. H. Fullhart, who was found dead northwest of Anselmo on the 24th, and now has his prisoner safely lodged in Custer county's jail.

The sheriff left here Wednesday morning of last week for Arnold, where he learned that Oxley had been making his stopping place through the summer with David Parks, with whose daughter it is claimed that he was enamored. Learning there that on the 12th of November he borrowed a horse of Parks, which he had not yet returned, and that he had relatives living in the vicinity of Springfield, Neb., it gave the sheriff a clue, which led him to Gothenburg, in which direction Oxley had been seen going on horseback the week previous. On reaching Gothenburg, the sheriff learned that Oxley had secured a stock pass to South Omaha, and had arranged with the mail carrier to take Parks' horse back to Arnold. The Sunday State Journal, in giving an account of the affair, states that on the day the body was found Oxley arrived in South Omaha on a stock train, having accompanied a stock shipment from Gothenburg. When questioned last night, Oxley was not certain as to the day on which he left Custer county. He thought he left Gothenburg Friday morning or Thursday night. He had been staying the past summer with Farmer David Parks, near Arnold. He has not been working for Parks, he claims, but has staid there the greater part of the time. He is a young man, perhaps twenty-eight years of age. He has parents in Red Willow county, and has a sister near Louisville. He is unmarried. He was brought to Lincoln last night on Burlington train No. 3, placed in the city jail here until 11 o'clock, and taken to Broken Bow on train No. 41. Sheriff Armstrong kept him heavily ironed, although Oxley was not in the least an unruly prisoner.

OXLEY REFUSED TO TALK.

When Oxley was arrested at Louisville, he was not told what he was wanted for. He turned deathly pale, but asked no questions of Sheriff Armstrong. He submitted to arrest, and was ironed for the trip. At Lincoln a Journal reporter approached Oxley and asked him why he was under arrest. Oxley said he did not know. Further questioning brought out answers showing that he had left Custer county about ten days ago, and that he had ridden a horse belonging to David Parks, of Arnold, from Arnold to Gothenburg. He sent the horse back to Parks by the mail carrier, who led the animal behind his mail wagon. Oxley said he asked a stock man for a pass to Omaha, and it was given him. He arrived in Omaha Saturday, but was not certain what day of the week he left Gothenburg, and what day he arrived in Gothenburg. He could not tell how long he had kept Parks' horse in his possession. From South Omaha he went to Springfield, and from Springfield he went to Louisville, where he was apprehended by Sheriff Armstrong. Later he denied he left Custer county ten days ago. Finally he became angry, and said he would wait until he reached his journey's end before he submitted to a preliminary examination.

"You speak of a preliminary examination. What crime do you expect to be charged with?" was asked Oxley.

"Do you think I am a fool? Do I look like one? I am not nearly so green as I look," he replied. He was very angry, but continued to answer unimportant questions, notwithstanding his statement that he would answer none. He was not informed by the officer what he had been arrested for. He did not ask any questions, and appeared to be a very pleasant sort of young man, excepting when ruffled by questions that located him near the Fullhart place on Thursday, November 22.

THE SEARCH FOR OXLEY.

Since the body was found Sheriff Armstrong has been keeping a sharp lookout for the murderer. He suspected Oxley from the first, but that young man had disappeared. No trace of him could be found. The sheriff learned that he had left the county on a horse belonging to David Parks. He learned that he had been seen in Gothenburg, and that he had gone east from there. Later he ascertained that he had relatives at Springfield, and thinking that he might have visited them after leaving Omaha, he went Friday to search for him. The search was short. In the afternoon the sheriff and a friend were going to the Louisville depot after a fruitless search of the town. They met Oxley coming across the street. The sheriff held him up, placed him under arrest, looked the shackles on him and searched him. No arms of any kind were found on his person, but he had two pocket knives and a razor, the latter of which had belonged to Fullhart. He was wearing new clothes and had shaved off his moustache since seen in Custer county. He had a little more than $18 in his pockets.

It was believed that the crime was committed with robbery in view, as Fullhart was reported to have received $1,600 a short time before he was killed. The usual reward of $300 had been offered by Governor Poynter on behalf of the state for the apprehension and conviction of the murderer.

It is reported that Oxley sold four head of cattle to the T. L. V. ranch, sixteen miles southwest of Fullhart's place, the same week the murder is supposed to have been committed. Oxley had been on the ranches in that vicinity several years prior to six years ago. Since then nothing had been known of him until he returned last spring. There is a timber claim entry in the T. L. V. ranch, which Oxley took a number of years ago when he was an employe on the ranch, but as the company for which he was working broke up nothing farther was done with the timber claim and it yet remains in his name. The ranch is now owned by Tierney Bros. of this place. County Attorney Kirkpatrick spent the first of the week in the vicinity of the crime trying to secure what information possible, in the case before ordering a preliminary trial, which will be held next Monday. Sheriff Armstrong feels confident he has the right man. Oxley claims his parents live in Red Willow county.
