

More About the Fullhart Murder.

On last Friday we had the pleasure of meeting J. S. Branyan, an attorney of Huntington Indiana, where resides Mrs. Margaret Hushaw, the sister of W. H. Fullhart, who was recently murdered north-west of Anseimo.

The conflicting reports about the value of the property, together with a desire to have him look for the can of money, caused her to send her attorney, Mr. Branyan, visited the Fullhart ranch Friday, but instead of a fine brick house, he found one of the worst sod hovels in this part of the country.

J. A. Kellenbarger, of Dale, was among the number in the city Monday, looking after the school land advertised to be leased. He secured another quarter, which makes a section of school land he has enclosed in his pasture, which consists of 4500 acres.

California Travel Increasing. The increasing popularity of tourist sleeping cars for transcontinental travel is a subject of much comment among railroad men. It is said that 85 per cent of the passengers to and from California travel in tourist sleeping-cars. These cars are comfortable and not nearly so expensive as palace sleeping-cars.

The Burlington railroad is doing a great deal to encourage tourist-car travel, having increased its California tourist car service this season from once-a-week to three times a week.

Consumption of Quinine. The people of the United States consume one-third of the total quinine output of the world. The average consumption per head is 20 grains annually. The cinchona tree, which furnishes quinine, Peruvian bark, and callaya bark, is a native of the western South American coast countries, more particularly Peru; yet but a comparatively small portion of the world's product now comes from that region. Cinchona trees have been transplanted in Java and British India, and the bulk of the quinine used now comes from these countries.

Palm Trees in Cuba. The royal palm of Cuba consists of a tall, straight trunk of a very fibrous nature, and supports a cluster of tentated leaves like a bunch of plumes on a long stick. The leaves are large and leathery. These leaves continue to grow from the center to a great length. When the leaves cannot grow any more they drop to the ground from the bottom of the cluster, thus making room for the new ones, which are always coming out of the center. It also yields, in the proper season, yellow flowers. The fruit cannot be eaten.
