VOL. XIX.

BROKEN BOW, CUSTER COUNTY, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1901.--EIGHT PAGES.

NO. 38

The size of the lens has much to do with comfort or discomfort of your glasses. Lenses too large mean increased weight, annoying reflections, unsteadiness. Lenses too small bring still greater annoyance. Taste and skill in the selection of lenses, and style of mounting, as well as an accurate correction of all refractive errors, go to make my glasses most becoming and most comfortable.

It isn't the material that goes into your repaired watch that results in a perfect job, it's the know how that does the business. Any bungler can buy the fine kinds of material that is used in repairing; but skill is the most valuable material that can be used in watch repairing, and the bungler can't buy it. I sell my skill for what it is worth and it will cost you less than bungling at lower prices.

Life is a problem, strange in its completeness. To morning, every one shall add the night-time. Shall quaff a cup of mingled gall and sweetness. Until death draws the line and ends a life-time.

One whom we loved, the problem has completed. The sun has found which all the world is questioning. For such a look of joy came o'er his features. One who died draws the line and ends a life-time.

He could not speak to us, earth's humble creatures. But brighter beams must have hovered round him. We also long but 'tis a hopeless yearning. To see his form beside the hearth and table.

The children long for grandfather a returning. To understand the change they are unable. We also long but 'tis a hopeless yearning. To see his form beside the hearth and table.

We can but look by faith to Heaven's city. Accept the hand a saviour has extended. Commend him to that saviour's love and pity. And trust to meet him when the problem's ended.

A Convincing Answer.
"I hobbled into Mr. Blackman's drug store one evening," says Wesley Nelson, of Hamilton Ga., "and he asked me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with which I had suffered for a long time. I told him I had no faith in any medicine as they all failed. He said: 'Well if Chamberlain's Pain Balm does not help you, you need not pay for it.' I took a bottle of it home and used it according to the directions and in one week I was cured, and have not since been troubled with rheumatism." Sold by J. G. Haerberle.

District Court Notes.

One of the first cases to have been tried Monday was the case of the state against Ed Penn on the charge of forging a check on Mike Roggan of Oconto for $37.50. Instead of a trial Penn plead guilty of the offense charged. His sentence will not be announced in all probability until the close of the session.

The case of the state against Fred Chapel was continued to next term as was also the case of the state against Joe Moore of Anselmo, who is under bond on the charge of selling intoxicants on Sunday.

The case of Peter Rapp against Fred Cummings was compromised by the litigants. We understand that Cummings was to pay for the horse and each pay their own costs.

Feb. 19th.—In the case of Carrie E. Steward vs John K. Steward, a divorce was granted the plaintiff, also the custody of the children.

Died.
Andrews.—Sunday Feb. 17, 1901, Mrs. Clara L. Bishop died of pneumonia and stomach trouble age 53 years 1 month and 23 days.

The deceased's maiden name was Bishop and was a native of Peoria, Illinois, she was married thirty-four years ago last Christmas to David Andrews of Peoria. Three years later she moved to Iowa and from there came to Custer county in 1892. She was the mother of eight children, five of whom and her husband survive her. Of the five living are four sons and one daughter, Mrs. J. A. Owens. In 1893 she united with the church of God of which she was a member at the time of her death; she was also an active member of the Ladies Aid Society. The members of the Aid Society were very attentive to her wants during her sickness. The funeral was held on the 18, Rev. John Hinkle and wife conducted the services. Her remains were laid to rest in the Jonesville cemetery near Berwyn. The REPUBLICAN extends to the bereaved relatives the sincere sympathy of their friends.

Obituary.
Nelson Potter died of La Grippe, at his home in Lee Park, Custer county, Feb. 4, 1901, aged 58 years 5 months and 18 days. The deceased was born at Northville, Ill. His boyhood days were spent in Illinois and he was married there Dec. 9, 1865 to Hattie M. Porter. Mr. and Mrs. Potter made their home in Illinois until about 21 years ago, when he came to Lee Park took up land and built the house that now stands on the old homestead. His family soon followed and since that time the home has been in Lee Park. Mr. Potter was taken suddenly sick with La Grippe about noon of the Tuesday previous to his death, his heart's action was very feeble and he came near dying at that time, but rallied and seemed a little better until Sunday evening when he grew worse. Monday at 3:15 o'clock p. m. he passed away quietly and peacefully. The funeral service were held at the Lee Park school house Feb. 7. Rev. Clark of Arcadia preached the sermon after which the M. W. A. conducted the service, he having been a member of that order. The deceased had known sorrow, on April 11, 1875 an infant son was called home and April 23, 1896 the mother joined the son. Three children, Darius and Frank Potter of Lee Park and Mrs. Albert Stone of Arcadia, remain to mourn the loss of the father. The entire community deeply feels the loss of one of its old respected members.

The claim of the other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimony of Mr. C. D. Glass, an employe of Bartlett & Dennis Co., Gardner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cold and cough in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of, without permanent help, until one day I was in the drug store of Mr. Houlehan and he advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and offered to pay back my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I got a cold, and soon find relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines." For sale by J. G. Haerberle.
