Those who from April date their year Diamonds should wear best but for vain repentance!

DIAMONDS EMBLEM OF INNOCENCE

April, the month, when the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love—the month of showers, daisies and diamonds. Young man, if you have the girl, I have the ring. Should not object to the diamond although 'tisn't her birth month; the diamond is always acceptable—never depreciates in appearance or value—a thing of beauty now and forever.

Local Mention.

Miss Ama Amsharry was at home from Dunning Saturday and Sunday.

The Arnold telephone line which has been in process of erection from Callaway for some time by Ben Harden, has been completed and is now in working order.

W. D. Grant found a money order Sunday morning, issued at Broken Bow, to J. W. Hartpence of Harrison, Ohio, which he left at the post office for the owner.

It is reported that F. P. Barks, who recently died at Ansley, carried insurance to the amount of $5,000, of which $2,000 went to his widow and $1,000 to each of his three sons.

Aaron Pool of Hayes township, was a city visitor Saturday. He reports that the loss in cattle is about ten per cent. in his vicinity, as a result of the snow and rain the past six weeks.

Jas. May, who is farming Charles Humphrey's place on Stop table, while engaged in repairing the wind mill last Friday week, was struck in the mouth by one of the loose fans, caused by a gale of wind, and thrown to the ground, a distance of twenty-four feet. One of his wrists was badly broken and the other dislocated. The blow from the fan broke out several teeth. No serious internal injuries were sustained.

H. J. Kolbo of Ogento, was a city visitor Monday. He reports the arrival of another girl at his home last Friday. He now has an even half dozen girls and only two boys.

Roger Summerville of Eudell made this office a friendly call Monday evening. He was on his way to Cherry county with a view of securing government land and work for the summer.

Henry Sanderson was down from Mullen Tuesday. He reports more snow in his vicinity Monday night than here, and that it rained all day Monday there while it only rained from the middle of the afternoon here.

From private source we learn that Nellie Cooper of Mont Rose, Col., formerly of this city, and the daughter of J. K. Cooper, jumped from the buggy of a runaway team Tuesday, April 2, lighting on her head, breaking a blood vessel of the brain, which rendered her unconscious. On the 8th she had not yet gained consciousness and fears were entertained that the injury would prove fatal.

Tom Goodier's team of Callaway, broke loose from the hitching post at the Pinnell school house last Sunday night week, where Mr. Goodier was attending church. The team, instead of following the wagon road home, followed up the railroad track, and in attempting to cross a bridge fell through, where they remained until Monday morning, when they were found in their perilous condition. One horse was badly cut up and the buggy and harness were considerably worsted.

H. G. Henderson of Dallas, Texas, who says he is the Cudahy kidnaper, says Pat Crowe had nothing to do with the kidnaping. Mr. Cudahy and son were expected in Dallas yesterday to see whether young Cudahy could recognize Henderson as one of the men.

Be sure and hear the wonderful boy singer at the opera house, Friday afternoon and evening. The Tacoma Evening News on April 3, 1901, says: "Mr. Blatchford Kavanagh has certainly fulfilled the promise of his youth. His voice, once a soprano of marvelous range and brilliant quality, has deepened into a baritone whose magnetic beauty moves his audience to smiles or tears as he wills. There is in Blatchford Kavanagh's voice a peculiar quality which once heard is never forgotten. It was there as a child and it has grown with his years until it marks him as a singer set apart. It is the quality which gives to his singing its rare charm and which makes him a favorite wherever he is heard. Of the 'Roney Boys,' it is hardly possible to say too much. As an illustration of juvenile talent and cultivation they are unequalled. The remarkable voice of Master Harry Cockrell, who is only 11 years old, is a marvel in its range; he sings with ease through three octaves and even upon occasion can touch an additional note in altissimo.

From the Reporter, of Knoxville, Iowa, we clip the following in reference to the work of Rev. M. L. Everett, who is well known to a number of the readers of the REPUBLICAN and will be remembered by others as the evangelist who held a series of meetings in Broken Bow in 1899:

"The Baptist church is taking on new life since the new pastor, Rev. M. L. Everett, came to work with the church. There have been more additions by baptism in the last six months than in any corresponding period of time for nearly ten years. The ladies of the church are endeavoring to raise money to buy new chairs or pews, which are badly needed. A new parsonage has just been purchased and the pastor has already taken possession. Monday night of last week the church people and neighbors gave him a 'house warming,' an occasion very much enjoyed by all. Wednesday night of this week the B. Y. P. U. gave a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Frush, on East Robinson street. Sunday evening of last week the church was crowded to hear the pastor's address on 'The Amusement of a Man,' the third address in the series. It is difficult to describe these interesting addresses. But they are highly enjoyable and the appreciation of the people is being shown by constantly increasing attendance. There was baptism after the evening service." The Knoxville church was badly run down when Bro. Everett took charge of it six months ago and the attendance was quite small when he commenced his work. He has baptised into the church 28 since he has been there and the Reporter speaks of him having a crowded house and the attendance constantly increasing.

Roney's Boys.
Batchford Kavanagh's voice is soft and sensitive, yet powerful and penetrating. It is sympathetic, and with the first tone holds the attention of the listener. It is musical, it is under complete control, it is soothing. In styles so different as "Lead Me Your Aid" from "Queen of Sheba," and "My Old Kentucky Home," each seemed to be the one specially adapted to him. It need not be a detraction to add that Mr. Kavanagh's handsome face adds interest to his performance. Fully met expectations.—Omaha Bee. At opera house, Friday, April 19.

M. B. A. Meeting.
The regular meeting of the M. B. A. lodge, No. 296, will be held Saturday night, April 27, instead of the 26th, as the hall will be in use on that night. Secretary.

Obituary.
It pains us deeply to chronicle the death of our friend and neighbor Ephram Banning, who died at his home near Lillian, April 13, 1901, of a paralytic stroke from which he never rallied, although he was conscious up to the hour of death. Short funeral services were conducted at the house by David McGugan of Walworth, after which the remains were interred in the Gates cemetery. Mr. Banning was born in Virginia, in 1834. He was married twice. He leaves a wife and five children by the first marriage, three of whom are absent from home.

He was of a quiet, inoffensive turn, made many friends and few enemies.
He was a member of Company H., 11th Va., and did noble work as a soldier. He came to Custer county, Nebraska, in 1883, suffered the hardships of a homesteader's life, which no doubt hastened his death.

A., No. 4477, will, on Friday evening, April 19, at their hall, and the opera house, give an entertainment, consisting of a musical and literary program, toasts, supper, and in conclusion winding up with a dance for all those desiring to participate. P. H. Marlay of Mason City, spent several days in this city last week with the view of locating here in the near future. We understand that Mr. Marlay contemplates engaging in the mortgage loan business. As that branch of business is unoccupied here there is no doubt but it would prove a profitable enterprise from the first.

G. E. Cadwell arrived Saturday evening from Utica, Ill., where he has recently engaged in raising fine stock. He had been through Missouri and Kansas and the eastern part of this state looking for thoroughbred Herford cows. He expects to take back with him two car loads from Nebraska. Mr. Martin has been in Europe for two years or more, having visited the principal cities and countries across the water.

Dr. Graham writes from Lincoln that he has purchased a fine residence in University Place at a bargain, and will move Mrs. Graham and daughter Edith to it at once. Miss Edith will take up work in the University, continuing her partially completed course. The Dr. will remain in Lincoln until the family are moved and settled, and then will return and continue his dental work here.

Sargent New Era—
A. H. Barks came over from Ansley Sunday, to fetch back Mr. Hartley's team. He went back on the train Monday to settle up some business affairs, and the New Era force will get out his paper again this week.

We understand that O. S. Pulliam will be associated with A. B. Hartley in the real estate business.
Lieut. Gov. Savage went to Lincoln Wednesday to be present that night at a banquet given to the Governor's staff. He returned Thursday.

Callaway Courier—
While assisting Ben Hardin in making connections with his telephone line Tuesday, W. A. Overman met with a painful accident. He had the climbing spikes strapped to his feet, and while climbing a pole he accidentally slipped and slid down the pole to the ground, one of his feet striking on top the other, and the spike pierced it through and through just back of the large toe. Owing to the fact that both doctors were out of town, Ira Shupp was called upon and dressed the wound.
