A GOOD PAIR.

Every well regulated pocket should carry the one, and every well regulated household have the other.

In this working season its an economical proposition for you to have time, both in your pocket and in the house.

The man who is always asking some one for the time is behind the times and the only way to get up and stay up is to supply his pocket and his house with these two essentials of a well regulated life.

Local Mention.

Mrs. Bangs is having an addition built to her residence property on Fourth avenue.

Mrs. N. L. Reynolds and children are visiting with Mrs. Reynolds' parents near West Union.

Pat Stevenson and Miss Orva Keelin were married Sunday. Judge Armour officiating.

See W. D. Blackwell at Farmers Bank for Fire, Cyclone and Tornado insurance. 7-11 tf

Dr. R. B. Mullins' new residence south of the Commercial hotel a block, is rapidly nearing completion.

The republican primary for Broken Bow township will be held in the court house next Monday afternoon. See call.

C. S. Osborne returned to Grand Island Monday, where he expects to get a position as collector for the McCormick Co.

Peter Ryerson has bought Stack & Holcomb's bicycle business and consolidated it with his own. We bespeak for him success.

The Ansley Chronicle says that Prof. Zahn of that place is being groomed by his friends as a candidate for county superintendent.

Roy Walker is spending this week at home with his family. His swing is now located at Cheyenne, Wyoming. He expects to return Friday.

Mrs. B. E. Predmore's new residence in the northwest part of town, when completed, will be one of the best residence properties in that part of town.

J. B. Empfield, the Nasby of Reno, was a friendly caller at this office Monday. He is now sixty-nine years old and does not get to the city very often. This was his first visit since last September.

M. E. Peacock, south of town, lost a pocket book while in the city Monday of last week containing a five dollar bill and some silver. The finder will confer a favor on him by leaving it at this office.

Miss Lillie Henne of Merna, is being urged by a number of her friends for the office of county superintendent. Miss Henne is well qualified for the position and would be a strong candidate should she be the choice of the convention.

Sterling Stevens of Comstock, is being talked of from his locality as a candidate for register of deeds. Mr. Stevens has the advantage of being quite generally known, from having traveled over the county considerable for the Singer Sewing Machine Co. Personally we do not know him.

George W. Dewey of Gates, is being favorably considered by a number of his friends for county clerk. Mr. Dewey was a member of the county board for a number of years where he showed more than ordinary ability. His record would be to his credit should he be the choice of the convention.

From the newspaper reports we notice that in a number of towns in the state last Friday was observed as a day of prayer for rain in compliance with Gov. Savage's proclamation. It is further a noticeable fact that in all those places where the day was observed more or less rain followed. In fact a large portion of the state has since been blessed with rain since last Friday. None of the churches of Broken Bow observed the day, and we have had no rain.

Since going to press last Thursday rain has visited a large area of the county, and corn in most localities has been improved. On Thursday evening the precipitation at Broken Bow was 41 of an inch. Some localities had less, others more. In the vicinity of Dale, two inches of rainfall is reported for Saturday evening. Many farmers report their corn earing well notwithstanding the extended dry and hot weather. Most fields, where well cultivated, will make some corn. The damage by chinch bugs is confined to cornfields where surrounded or joining wheat fields. Only a portion of those fields are destroyed. More rain is necessary to make ears fill well, but there is a good growth of stalk and there will be some corn without any more rain. The rains over the state the last few days has cooled off the atmosphere very materially, which increases the prospect for corn.

Mrs. J. J. Crable of Nebraska City, is visiting with relatives in this city. She came up last Friday.

F. H. Young and family returned Tuesday from Lake Dome, in Wyoming, where they spent several days recuperating.

J. J. Crable, who contracts for the B. & M. in Wyoming, has been in our city since Tuesday morning, the guest of his daughter Mrs. Wm. Davis.

Prof. McBryan, deputy state superintendent, made this office a friendly call yesterday, in company with Prof. Waters. Mr. McBryan came up to visit the teachers institute now in session.

The entertainment given at the Berwyn school house Saturday by Herbert Watts and the Ryerson boys for the purpose of buying an organ for the use of the community to use in Sunday school and church work was quite a success and very much appreciated by the citizens of the vicinity. The receipts of the evening was $9.40.

Dr. T. W. Bass, the dentist, has bought out Drs. Finch and Patterson to whom he recently sold and will resume business at the old stand August 1. Dr. Bass had built up a good business before leaving for California, and his many patrons will be pleased to learn that he has again located in Broken Bow permanently to practice his profession.

Sheriff Armstrong arrested Harry Brintine, proprietor of a wholesale liquor and cigar house at Grand Island last Friday, on the charge of selling liquors unlawfully in Broken Bow. They arrived in Broken Bow in the afternoon on 47. He gave bond and took a continuance to August 15. The arrest grew out of evidence obtained in the trial of the case against Carstensen, which was dismissed.

Geo. Honts and O. H. Conrad have erected a small frame building on the block opposite the postoffice for their gas plant with which they hope to be able to demonstrate the advantages of their new light. The process is one developed by G. W. Honts and Dr. T. W. Bass, of which we made mention several weeks ago. If the light proves to be what the inventors claim for it they will be able to light the streets of Broken Bow.

William H. Kellenbarger, of Merna, is a candidate for the office of county clerk. Mr. Kellenbarger is a son of J. A. Kellenbarger, one of the early settlers of Dale valley. He is an extensive farmer and stock raiser in his vicinity. Mr. Kellenbarger is an energetic young man and well qualified for the position to which he aspires, being a high school graduate of Merna. One of the pleas urged in his favor is that the populists have no one on their ticket from the northwest part of the county.

C. D. Konkle, who was in the city Saturday informs us that Chester Sams of Weisert, who attempted suicide by hanging himself last Wednesday, has apparently fully recovered from his insanity, and went to work last Friday afternoon cutting his wheat the same as nothing had ever been wrong with him. He complains of his neck being sore, but he has no idea of what caused it. He knows nothing of the matter. It is thought the shock received from the fall and the agony he endured in coming too had something to do in removing the cause that unbalanced his mind.

W. S. Foster, who has recently located in this vicinity, lost a valuable horse Thursday night in a very unusual way. He hitched his team to a spring wagon and came to town with the view of moving his family to the farm next day. In snapping the breeching strap the buckle was turned the wrong side up, and the tongue of the buckle cut a hole through the flesh and let the intrals out. Mr. Foster did not find out any injury had been done until he was unharnessing the animal after he got her in the barn. Dr. Shoemaker was called to dress the wound, but the injury was too great and the horse died in a few hours. This should be a lesson to others that a similar accident may not occur. The strap is in this office and may be seen by anyone that takes the trouble to call and see it.

The patrons and teachers meeting held in connection with the institute was held last Saturday in the Presbyterian church. The attendance was quite large in the afternoon. Those who participated in the discussion of the various subjects were Prof. Jackson, Lewis and Henne in the forenoon. Their respective subjects were, "Change in Text Books," "The Compulsory Attendance Law," and "Architecture." In the afternoon J. K. Dean filled the place of J. J. Wilson, president of the Broken Bow school board, who was billed for an address. The "Rural High School" was discussed by James Stockham, W. W. Thornton, A. C. Towle and Prof. J. M. Scott. They each adduced arguments in favor of the rural high schools but the last speaker took exceptions to the present law. W. S. Delano and J. D. Ream discussed agricultural instructions in our common schools. This was followed by the question box, which is said to have been one of the most interesting features of session. We were absent at the time and did not hear it.

The Teachers Remembrance of Supt. and Mrs. Tooley.

One of the many pleasant events of the institute was the presentation of an elegant silver tea set. A resolution offered by H. D. Owen for the efficient way that Supt. and Mrs. Tooley had conducted the educational interests of Custer county for the past four years and that the teachers make a donation to purchase a remembrance. The resolution was unanimously adopted by the institute. The following purchasing committee was appointed: Misses Henne, Whitehead and Smith, and Messrs. Owen and Smith. The presentation speech was made in a very appropriate manner by Frank L. Williams and responded to by Supt. Tooley in a very feeling and earnest talk. The closing session of the institute had a time of sadness to it in as much as it was the last year the teachers will associate with Supt. and Mrs. Tooley in their present position. The teachers are unanimous in their well wishes for Supt. and Mrs. Tooley through future life.

Alliance Against Broken Bow.

Two interesting games of ball were played between Broken Bow and Alliance Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

As the Alliance boys passed through here Friday night on their way to play a match game with the shop boys at Havelock, representatives of the Broken Bow club met them at the train and prevailed upon them to stop Monday on their return home to play Broken Bow. The score Monday was kept low by both nines and a good game was played. The result was 3 to 4 in favor of Alliance. The home club not being entirely satisfied that Alliance could beat them at the bat, challenged them for another game the next day. As an inducement we understand, a handsome sum was hung up and the visitors accepted the challenge. The second day the score run higher as Broken Bow's catcher, Carstensen, was accidentally struck on the head and rendered unable to fill the place during the rest of the game. The score was 13 to 14 in favor of Broken Bow. The following is the score:
