WILLIS CADWELL,
Broken Bow, Neb.

A number of our citizens went to Ansley yesterday to witness a game of ball between a home club and Ansley. From reports it was rather a rocky game. The score stood 18 to 7 in favor of Ansley.

Mrs. Harvey was formerly a teacher in this county and was a most excellent woman. She leaves a husband and two children of her immediate family to mourn her death. She was a sister of Mrs. Harry Wright of this vicinity. The Republican extends sympathy to the relatives in their great bereavement.

Callaway Gets a Downpour of an Inch in Half an Hour.

Callaway Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special)—On Saturday evening a storm came up from the northwest, accompanied by wind, rain, thunder and lightning. In less than thirty minutes time over an inch of rain fell, filling the streets and ravines to overflowing. During the storm a barn belonging to Bert Whaley was struck by lightning, and burned to the ground, together with several bushels of corn, several tons of hay, harness and a saddle. The house of H. Stapleman was moved from its foundation by the heavy wind, and every window light broken out by the hail. Stacks of hay and grain were scattered over the country for miles, and the corn literally beaten into the ground.

The session will be one day shorter than usual, but the officers will put forth every effort possible to make the attractions equal to any exhibition that the society has given. Those who have blooded stock or grades that are exceptionally fine should get them in shape to put on exhibition. Breeders of blooded stock cannot better advertise their business than to bring some of their best animals to the fair.

$5,000 REWARD!

For the apprehension of Thos. Lennon, the Actor.

DESCRIPTION:

Lennon is about 31 years old, has a deep, rich bass voice, is about 5 ft. 10 in. high and weighs about 180 lbs.; is a very good natured man and generally makes lots of friends. He is strictly temperate but is an awful tobacco user. He is a member of the Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Elks. Is a great story teller and will probably seek the acquaintance of the best people in every town he visits. He is a married man and his wife will probably be with him on all occasions.

When last heard from he was heading an excellent Dramatic Company of fifteen people, playing the larger cities and doing a land office business. This man is wanted by C. P. Groat, Opera House Manager, who wants him and his Company for six nights at his theatre, during fair week, as he wants to give his patrons a rare treat by presenting the Lennon Stock Company.
