It makes a difference whose ox is goared.

For economy in county affairs, elect republican officials.

Many of the best men in the populist party are now warm supporters of the republican county and state tickets.

Read the Republican and then turn it over to your unfortunate neighbor who does not know how much he needs it.

The Beacon is very much exercised at the prospect of losing the county patronage and the Chief does not know what to do?

The socialists have put a state ticket in nomination. What is the matter with Custer county that she has no ticket for her socialists?

Let the good work go on for the next thirty days and every republican candidate in the state and county will be elected. Recruits are reported from nearly every locality.

The republican board has run the county on a seven mill levy this year, and it took, never less than fourteen mills, and as high as eighteen mills under a populist administration.

Send in your order for the Republican at once if you want the best paper published at the county seat. It will only cost you one dollar a year. It is the official paper of the county and republican straight.

In voting for Prof. J. W. G. Lewis for county superintendent, you will vote for a man whose great ambition is education. He is a successful educator, a ripe scholar, a man of good judgment self-made, and one who has grown up in Custer county.

O'd subscribers can avail themselves of our special offer of the Republican and the History of William McKinley by paying one dollar fifty cents in advance. The book is the parlor edition and retails for $1.50.

The pop ship is the one that is leaking now, and we would advise those who do not want to go down with it that the republican's is in fine trim and extends a welcome hand to all who want to see our government maintained and prosperity continued.

Pops have been great on economy and reform! In the ten years of pop administration they never ran the county on less than a fourteen mill levy, and on one or more occasions exceeded the limit of the law by making a levy of eighteen mills. The republican board has been able to meet the debts of the county and the current expenses on a seven mill levy.

In voting for Dorr Sullivan for sheriff you will vote for a man of even temper, yet firm and fearless. When in his presence, officially or otherwise, you will be treated as a gentleman and will not be domineered over as autocrat over his servants. He is self-possessed at all times, yet courageous, and will make an ideal public official. See that your neighbors vote for him.

The mouthpiece of the pop party called the Beacon, is now very much opposed to Judge Armour, simply because he has been nominated for the third time by the republicans to the office which he so ably and satisfactorily fills. The Beacon, doubtless, has forgotten how vigorlessly it urged the election of O. M. Kem for the third term to congress. Then again, with no less effort, appealed to the voters to support H. H. Hiatt for the third term for county superintendent! If it was right for a populist to be elected for the third term, when not qualified, as is conceded in Kem's case, why is it so great a mistake for the republican party to renominate a man so eminently qualified and satisfactory to the public as Judge Armour for the third term. Oh, consistency, thou art a jewel! What does the Beacon offer instead? A single termer. A model official! The unanimous choice of his party? No! It does not even mention the name of Judge Armour's populist competitor. Merely by inference the Beacon seeks to detract from the popularity of Judge Armour. His political competitor is J. R. Dean, who has served two terms in the capacity of of county attorney, and now seeks a third term. Did he prove efficient and loyal to his trust? Is his record such for efficiency and fearlessness as an officer and loyalty to his party colleagues such that you want him elected to a third term instead of J. A. Armour. If you do not know ask such men as Wm. Pfrehm or Fred Cummings, of West Union, and many others, who are leaders in the pop ranks. What the people want is the best men, men best qualified, and that will serve the best interests of the county, irrespective of party or creed. The republican party has nominated just that class of men in J. A. Armour, for county judge; C. O. Lind, for register; W. A. George, for county treasurer; R D. Sullivrn for sheriff, J. W. G. Lewis, for superintendent, Geo. W. Dewey for clerk and F. E. VanAntwerp for surveyor. They are men who are competent and will make efficient officers. No less competent are the men nominated for supervisors. They are successful business men capable and strictly honest and will run the affairs of the county economically and for the best interests of the whole people. They are J. F. Brechbuhl, H. J. Edington and Jules Haument. The election of these men means economy, honesty and true service.

What have the republicans of Custer county to offer taxpayers for their support this fall. Their record before the populists took hold of affairs in this county stands out against them as the depths of hades.—Beacon.—

The republicans had control of the county in its infancy, before there was a foot of land to tax. Homesteaders had but little personal property to tax, and there were no business firms with capital as now, nor no railroads in the county. The population jumped from 1,200 in 1880 to 13,000 in five years, and in ten years to 25,000. Ninety-five per cent. of the increase were homesteaders, and hundreds of them were practically penniless. Notwithstanding this fact, they were enterprising and hopeful. They believed in law and order. They wanted a county government that the law might be enforced, and that they and their families might be protected from the Texas cow boys, who respected the rights of none. They disputed the rights of the homesteaders in every locality. Frequent murders resulted, and expensive trials followed. The republican officials were equal to the situation. They were fearless and determined. They prosecuted every case of lawlessness to a successful termination, and in doing that, they incurred expenses greater than the legal levy on the limited amount of taxable property would meet. They brought peace and prosperity out of chaos and poverty. Schools and churches were established where outlawry and deeds the darkest in the history of the state have been perpetuated. The homesteader was protected. Two hundred schools were established in ten years, where there had not been one. Temporary county buildings were superceeded by the magnificent court house, that is now the pride of every loyal citizen. With all these expenses, under so unfavorable circumstances, in ten years of construction, the republican party had run the county without increasing a dollar of bonded debt, and had assets sufficient to meet every dollar of floating indebtedness, when they turned the administration over to the pops in 1890. No county in the state can show a better record. It was a record of economy, a record of law, a record of progress that has not been equaled by any county in Nebraska. Then we have the record of the present year, in which the county board has met the expenses of the county on half the amount required by a populist board. It may be a record "as dark as the depths of hades" to the reform apostle, who wrote the above creed, but if so, he has our pity, as we can account for it only on the theory that to some, heaven would be a hell.

Winter Reading on the Farm.

Long evenings are here again and naturally one thinks of a good family agricultural weekly, because its regular visits are welcomed by the whole family.

The Twentieth Century Farmer is out of the rut in which most agricultural papers travel. This is true particularly of the splendid illustrations from photographs taken by their own artists and special articles by the best known and most practical men in every branch of agriculture, such as N. J. Harris, secretary of the Iowa Seed Corn Breeders' association; H. W. Campbell, the authority on soil culture; James Atkinson of the Iowa experiment station at Ames Ia.; Frank G. Carpenter, famous for his letters of travel; C. R. Thomas, secretary American Hereford Breeders' association; B. O. Cowan, assistant secretary American Shorthorn Breeders' association; Dr. A. T. Peters, Nedraska experiment station; E. F. Stephens, president Nedraska Horticultural society; Woman's Department, conducted by Mrs. Nellie Hawks, Friend, Neb. J. J. Edgerton of the Iowa Experimeat Station will answer all questions relating to live stock matters.

This is a weekly agricultural family paper, in which the farmer's wife is particularly interested on account of the pages devoted to her particular interests. In fact, there is no paper published either in the east or west that meets so well the wants of the western farmers and stock raisers and their families.

If you do not get it send 10 cents for a ten weeks' trial subscription to The Twentieth Century Farmer. 1559 Farnam street, Omaha, Neb, and you will have an opportunity to become acquainted with it. A dollar will bring it for a whole year. 10 10 2t
