(Anselv Chronicle.)

The public and private life of Judge Armour is unassailable. Four years a public servant and not a flaw anywhere to be found, to be picked up and hurled with violence at his candidacy by the opposition.

J. W. Craig is authority for the statement that Westerville township will roll up one of the largest republican majorities ever known in its history. He gives as his reasons for this prediction that every republican is working for the success of the ticket.

George Dewy, the republican candidate for county clerk, is a farmer. He has served on the county board and gained a reputation for honesty and his manner in handling county business showed him to be a man of good business judgement.

Alpha Morgan, chairman of the republican county central committee was in Anselv a few hours Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Morgan was on his way home from a three days tour in the eastern part of the county. He predicts success for the republican ticket and we believe his judgement is good.

The republican candidate for sheriff is making a strong canvass of the county. Mr. Sullivan if elected will make as good a sheriff as Custer county ever had. Morally, he is a clean and temperate man; physically, he is strong enough to jerk before the bar of justice all law breakers within his grasp.

Every republican should make it a point to go to the polls on election day and cast his ballot for his state and county tickets. It is true that this is an off year in politics, but it is our duty as republicans and American citizens to vote and uphold the principles that has made our country the leading nation of the world.

(Anselv Citizen.)

Last week, Darr Sullivan leased a half section of land for another year. Looks much like he intended to move back to Iowa, Mr. Beacon.

The populist candidate for county clerk is the man who used his official position last fall to prevent the names of the mid-road candidates from being placed on the ballot.

You can't do a better thing when you go to the polls to vote than by putting a cross in the circle opposite the word "republican" at the head of the ballot.

Vote the republican ticket straight this fall. It is the strongest ticket ever placed in nomination in this county and one that every republican can well be proud of.

The chances for the success of the republican county ticket grow brighter day by day. That the entire ticket will be elected is almost a certainty. There is not an incompetent man on the ticket.

You will make no mistake if you vote for Walt George for treasurer. He has had ample business training to take hold of the office and go right on with the work. You may count on it that he will come under the wire a winner in November.

There is but little doubt of the reelection of Judge Armour. He has made an excellent official. Not one word of complaint has been raised against him. A man whom the opposition can say nothing against must be a pretty good man. See that you do your duty by casting your vote for him on Nov. 5th.

VanAntwerp Competent.

A Strong Testimonial by Hon. James Whitehead.

Broken Bow, Neb., Oct. 29, 1901. Editor Republican:—Permit me through the columns of your paper to bear testimony to the efficiency of Mr. F. E. VanAntwerp, republican nominee for the position of county surveyor. Sixteen years ago, I, in connection with others, employed Mr. VanAntwerp to run the lines subdividing the section in my homestead situated in Grant Township. That the work was done satisfactorily and well goes without saying. The following spring I constituted one of an outfit that for several days accompanied Mr. VanAntwerp, as flagmen and assistants in the running of lines and locating of corners in the hills bordering Redfern table on the north and west. It was here that his competency and thorough knowledge of his business as a surveyor was demonstrated to the satisfaction of all.

On the 19th of this month, preparatory to building fence, it became necessary, seemingly to begin run the lines, all corners having been obliterated. In three instances the places where they were supposed to be had been leveled by roads and cross-roads and no way appeared to locate the same except by costly and expensive running of lines. Mr. VanAntwerp was employed and in less than half a day had located the corners, designating the very spot where, upon digging down into the hard road and undisturbed sod, bricks were found that were placed there by himself many years ago, thus solving a problem that had caused us much anxiety, with but little cost and that could not have been accomplished by anyone however competent, who lacked the experience and local knowledge.

I present these facts in justice to our candidate for County Surveyor and to call the attention of those who are not acquainted with him to his competency and fitness for the position.

Yours Truly, JAMES WHITEHEAD.

A Strong Plea For Lewis By A "Teacher."

(Communicated.)

Editor Republican—If an American citizen should be interested in any part of the coming campaign it should be in the office of county superintendent. We do not want a man in this position who has nothing to commend him except his fidelity to some party, but we want a man that is competent has the proper education and experience and one that is fair and impartial. The office of county superintendent is an important position and each voter should attempt to find out which of the candidates are best qualified and leave politics entirely out of the school proposition. We have two candidates for this position and one will be successful next Tuesday. Which shall it be Murray or Lewis? That depends, Mr. Voter upon which you cast your ballot for. How is a person to tell which one to support? I answer by applying the following test: (1) Has he the proper education to lead educators? (2) Has he had experience? (3) Is his judgement sound? (4) Does he favor any sect? (5) Is he a narrow partisan? (6) Will he support some party or church first and the public second?

Apply the two candidates to the first requirement; has he the proper education; I answer that Lewis is fully qualified and that Murray is not. Lewis is a graduate from the Broken bow high school and after that from one of the best colleges in the state. Murray graduated from the Arcadia schools which is little more than a country school and finished the freshman or first year in our State University. He lacks three years of hard study of being with Lewis in education. Three years of drill in college is quite a difference in point of qualification as any intelligent person will know. I claim that Murray is not competent to examine the papers of our best county teachers.

Yet you say Murray is competent. If any one who has only completed the first year in our University is competent to direct the affairs of education in a county, then why make any claims for an education. If education does not benefit them why spend thousands of dollars annually to maintain them. If you expect to keep the schools up, place an educated man at the head and it will prove a long step in the right direction. Education is not all, but let us take up the second question. Experience. Mr. Murray has taught several terms in the county schools. Mr. Lewis has the same. Murray taught one term in the summer school and he was given the place by our present excellent superintendent. Ask Prof. Pooley whether Murray was a success in this school. The question is answered by the record. Did Murray get the place again? If not, why not? How does it happen that Mr. Lewis held this position year after year and in addition to this he was the principle instructor in institutes in this county and in other counties. Do you suppose that Mr. Tooley ever thought of placing Mr. Murray in the institute? No, because he knew that he could not manage it. If Murray is elected he will be at the head of the summer school and institute and the schools in general and it must be a fact apparent to all that Murray is not competent to take a lower position in any one of these matters. Lewis has not only had experience in summer schools and institutes but in graded schools where he gave the same general satisfaction. Apply the other questions. Is his judgement sound? Is he a narrow partisan? Will he support some party or church first and the public second? To all of these the voters should be able to judge as well as I, but as to qualification and experience there is no comparison between the two candidates.

Why should any man vote against the common school interests, simply to vote with a certain party. If J. J. Tooley had been nominated the republicans would have supported him just as they did two years ago, not because he was a republican or populist but, because he made a good superintendent. Were those combinations that defeated Tooley's nomination and gave it to Murray for the good of the schools, or were they political and otherwise. Why did Lewis get the nomination? It was because of his recognized ability as an instructor. He never was a partisan. Before casting your vote next Tuesday for county superintendent remember that the good of the schools are paramount to any political party.

Any good citizen can certainly lay aside politics, for schools. If there were no politics in this fight Murray would not get twenty percent of the votes cast in Custer county. It remains to be seen whether this intelligent county will vote for any man that can get the nomination for the head of our schools regardless of his ability, experience or any of the requisites for a successful school man.

Yours for the Public, A. "TEACHER."
