The organists, mandolin, violin, banjo and guitar parts were especially well rendered, as were also the reading by Miss Farrell, and the violin solo by Mrs. Dalbey. An organization of this orchestra is a credit to Broken Bow, and Custer county, and should these esteem able people conclude to give a return entertainment they will meet with a very cordial reception. Eloquent Methodist Divine.

Cheyenne Tribune, (Colo.)

The large membership of the First Methodist church of this city, are feeling jubilant. The cause of their joy, is the fact that an eloquent divine has been sent to them to preside as their pastor to succeed the Rev. Benj. Young, who has been transferred to Ashbury church, Denver, and over which fact an unusual amount of sorrow has been felt. Rev. D. D. Forsyth, the new pastor, preached his first sermon in Cheyenne Sunday morning to a large and what developed into a highly appreciative congregation when they realized that they were being addressed by one of the most powerful speakers who has ever stood in a pulpit in this city. The expression of praise was universal after the dismissal of the services, and the Methodist people consider that they have drawn a prize in the ministerial lottery.

THE NORTH PLATTE VALLEY

in northwest Nebraska, offers some wonderfully good opportunities to the man or woman with a little money to invest in irrigated lands. Excellent irrigated land can be had now for $12 to $15 an acre, but it is plain to those watching the development of the North Platte Valley that this low price is just about to fade away.

The farmers of this valley are now reaping an abundant harvest. Alfalfa, corn, wheat and garden vegetables yield good profits. There are also good openings in the live stock business.

If you are interested in the North Platte Valley, write for our booklet describing it. It is free.
