"JUMBLED."

Among the many symptoms of eye defect none is more trying on that delicate organ, and none more alarming to those familiar with the eye and its ailments, than is that condition where objects become 'jumbled' at close range. At times clear and distinct; again blurred and wavering. This is usually a condition brought about by long abuse; is a timely warning that the eyes have almost reached the limit of endurance.

M. E. CHURCH.

At the M. E. church Sunday morning, a topic along revival preparation lines. Subject: "Our Savior at the Well—a Lesson in Soul Saving." Text: John. 4:26. In the evening an address to young men. Subject: "A Sad Picture." Prov. 7:7. Geo. P. Triggs, Pastor.

The Bankers Union of the World will meet Friday, January 10, at the I. O. O. F. hall.

Dr. C. PICKETT, Pres.
Mrs. R. A. HUNTER, Sec.

M. B. A. Officials Elected.

The M. B. A. lodge of this place at their last meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing year.

President Rev. S. W. Richards; Vice President Mrs. J. B. Smith; Secretary D. M. Amsberry; Treasurer Mrs. Evaline Amsberry; Chaplain Mrs. S. P. Richardson; Guide Mrs. J. H. Cosner; Watch L. A. Wells; Sentry P. A. Reynolds; Physicians, Dr. Clinton Day and C. Pickett.

The Suffrage Club Meeting.

We met at the home of Aunt Bertha. Whose husband we always call "A Bill." They have such a nice home to go to. To describe it, a paper 'would fill

There were some of our number not present. The reason we do not now know. Perhaps they were tired and sleepy. And afraid of the great fall of snow.

They missed a good time I assure you. We are sorry they made a mistake. For we had a most excellent program, supplemented by coffee and cake.

There was Young Pickett and Fredmore. And a number of ladies besides. Who kept up such a volley of talking. Showed their tongues had never been tied.

But let us not say any more. And give them a chance for their life! For every man knows of their falling. Who has ever been blessed with a wife.

And so we'll stop writing at present. And like Schley, "make a beautiful loop." For if we should stir up their anger. We'll be sure to get in the soup.

Mrs. L. J. Gandy moved into the rooms adjoining the Republican office on the north. Monday, where she will run a boarding house.

W. S. Swak is having the interior of his store room materially improved this week by having it repaired and painted. L. E. Cole is doing the work.

Miss Nannie Barrett was installed in the Central office as telephone operator January 1st. She is learning rapidly and will give good service in a short time.

Rival meetings will begin in the M. E. church about January 26. Rev. Triggs expects to have two Deaconesses from the Omaha M. E. Deaconess Home to assist him.

W. P. Henman informs us that a literary has been organized at Shilo school house. It meets on Friday night. All those who can conveniently are invited to attend and help make it a success.

Alfonso Pool of Hays township made this office a friendly call in company with Peter Mohat. It was Mr. Pools first visit to the county seat in ten years. A number of changes have taken place in that time.

John Gillard of Berwyn, made this office a friendly call Monday and had the date of his, and his brothers subscriptions, of Glennwood Iowa advanced in to 1902. Mr. Gillard is one of Custer county's successful farmers and he never forgets the editor in his annual visits.

HERBINE should be used to enrich and purify the blood; it cures all forms of blood disorders is especially useful in fevers, skin eruptions, boils, pimples, blakeheads, scrofula, salt rheum and every form of blood impurity; it is a safe and effectual cure. Price, 50 cents. Ed. McComas, Broken Bow and Merna.

Last week we stated that John Sanderson's property near Berwyn, lost by fire was insured in the Farmers Mutual Co. The facts are that Sanderson was insured in the Union Fire Insurance Co. of Lincoln of which G. W. Waters is the local agent and not in the Farmers Mutual. The loss was adjusted within five days after the fire to the entire satisfaction of Mr. Sanderson.

D. E. Bauder, contractor and builder who recently moved here from Grand Island is negotiating with parties in Grad Island with the view of putting in a brick yard here next spring. The main object now seems to be to get a suitable location. A brick yard is greatly needed here as it would induce many to build of brick that will not build now because of the high price of brick.

L. E. Kirkpatrick went to Platte-mouth on 43 Monday.

Nicholas Smets of Green called Monday and had his subscription account advanced a year.

I. P. Mills of Arnold, was a friendly caller at this office yesterday. He left his order for the Life of McKinley.

Luther Case, who has been working near Bloomfield, for several years is visiting in the county with relatives. He, in company with his brother Arthur, were friendly callers at this office Tuesday.

Miss Minnie Stinman of Broken Bow, Miss Della Berger of Anselmo were others of Custer county who attended the State Teachers meeting at Lincoln last week that we did not mention last week.

A beautiful scene took place at the U. B. church last Sunday when four members of the Sunday School were awarded beautiful medals for having attended an entire year without missing a single day.

Ed. Myers, who has been spending his holiday vacation with his parents at Georgetown made this office a friendly call Saturday. He was on his way to Lincoln where he is a student in the State University.

Gov. Nash of Ohio, asks that January 29 be observed as a holiday throughout the country in honor of the late President William McKinley's birthday. No doubt the governors of the several states will act in conformity with the request.

The properties of BALLARD'S Snow LINIMET possess a range of usefulness greater than any other remedy. A day seldom passes in every household, especially where there is children, that it is not needed. Price, 25 and 50 cents. Ed. McComas, Broken Bow and Merna.

The Broken Bow Business College, after two weeks vacation for holidays, opened again Monday morning with increased attendance, the enrollment now reaches 105. By the efficient work and strict discipline maintained, the college is becoming very popular with the public.

Bob Hunter left a package of cotton seed at this office that he brought from Kansas City recently. He says that the cotton seed meal is now being feed extensively to cattle and it selling for $33.00 a ton. He saw a bunch of 4000 head that are being feed exclusively on the cotton seed meal. It has not been long since cotton seed was thought to be worthless after the oil was extracted. He says cattle take on 3 lbs of fat a day where feed on it.

The advantages for a poor man, in Custer county has been exemplified by the experience of W. P. Henman of Loup township. Mr. Henman was one of the early settlers of Custer county, who with many others decided in 1891, the drouth year that he would seek a better climate. He sold his interests and went to Missouri and afterwards to Kansas. Two and one half years ago he was in Kansas and found himself possessed of but one horse, a cow and a wagon. Remembering the advantages he had left in Custer county, like the prodigal he returned. He rented a farm and went in debt for the necessary team, implements to equip himself for the work. He now has six mules, two horses, nine head of cattle, three wagons, two lists, one walking and one riding plow, three cultivators and 160 acres of land, all clear of incumbrance, except $275 against the land yet, which he has the cash to pay as soon as the title can be cleared. What Mr. Henman has done why not others?

A. A. Collom visited Omaha the first of the week.

T. G. Gardner of Westerville called to day and had his subscription advanced.

W. S. Metcalf of Walworth, kindly remembered this office yesterday while in the city.

C. B. Chapman of Walworth, called Tuesday and renewed his subscription to the Republican for another year.

The fragile babe and the growing child are strengthened by WHITE-CREAM VERMIFUGE. It destroys worms, gets digestion at work, and so rebuilds the body. Price 25 cents. Ed. McComas, Broken Bow and Merna.

Willis McWilliams of Tabor, Iowa, arrived, in the city Wednesday morning accompanied by one of his neighbors Mr. Grey. Mr. McWilliams is a brother of our towneman J. L. McWilliams and formerly resided east of town on a farm he still owns.

C. R. Juddins of Lincoln, who has recently located here as business manager of Foster & Smith's Lumber Co., was a friendly caller at this office Monday. Mr. Juddins is a man of pleasant appearance and will doubtless prove a valuable citizen. He is a man of long experience in the lumber business and a resident of the state a number of years. He was located at Table Rock ten years before he went to Lincoln. We bespeak for him a liberal share of the public patronage in his line.

Mrs. D. W. Thompson has packed her stock of Millinery goods with the view of moving west in the near future where she and her husband will engage in business together. Mr. Thompson will leave the first of next week for Idaho to look for a location. He may visit Washington and Oregon before locating. As these estimable people have been separated since their marriage by their individual business relation they feel it will be more pleasant to locate where they can be together, hence the change. It is with regret we see them leave Broken Bow after so long a residence here, but the Republican with their many friends extend to them our best wishes in their new home.

Our efforts to supply the demand for the Life of McKinley in connection with the REPUBLICAN has not been equal to the emergency. The publishers have not been able to get them to us fast enough. Before our last shipment was received last Friday our orders were double the number received. We now have an order in for double the number formerly ordered, which we hope will provide for all our subscribers until another invoice can be shipped. At the price we furnish them we are forced to have them shipped to us by freight, which delays them from a week to ten days longer than if they were sent by express. The book is highly satisfactory to those who have received copies. The exceedingly low price which we furnish to our subscribers, affords every body that wants the book a splendid opportunity. If you want a book write us and we will enroll your name. The REPUBLICAN and the book are $1.50 at the office, and 20 cents extra if sent by mail. The book retails by all agents for $1.50.

The Broken Bow Schools opened Monday after a two weeks vacation with increased attendance and vigor. Prof. Maoy and his able corps of teachers are doing splendid work considering the circumstances. Supt. Maoy not only hears classes for every hour in the day but has to superintend the school besides which not only employs all his time of the school day but several hours besides. This we understand he does without a murmur not withstanding his salary is but little, more than half that has been paid in former years. Mrs. Maoy who has charge of the work that has formerly required two teachers doing her work highly satisfactory as is also Miss Downey

"MALONEY'S WEDDING DAY."

The humorous blunders and embarrassments of Dan Maloney's courtship with the Widow Clancy has stirred up more 'wealthy laughter' than any two dramatic productions rolled into one. The author truthfully claims that it was written for laughing purposes only, and since its birth has been the source of exhaustless fun to countless thousands. The press of the large cities pronounce it the most big comedy drama success of the season, and wherever it appears crowded houses greet it and relish its three solid hours of genuine enjoyment. It brims with merry mischief, tells a story of deep interest, and reveals as much real mirth as can be laughed into one hundred minutes. James L. McCabe as "Dan Maloney" is matchless in Celtic comedy and Hibernian wit. The supporting company comes with the best of press approbations and Manager Great promises his patrons a good, big, rich dramatic treat at the who has the work of two teachers. Neither of these teachers receive any more work than one teacher did formerly. The work in Miss Whitehead's grade is progressing exceptionally well. If possible there should be some provision made another year to compensate those that have double the work of former years for the extra work they do. A small advance would be an acknowledgement of the faithful work they are doing.

A revival meeting will be begun at the U. B. church next Sunday. The pastor will be assisted by Rev. J. W. Cummings an evangelist of many years of successful experience. He is an able preacher and an efficient worker. All are invited to attend. The Juvenile singers will sing Sunday night.

The Highlanders initiated nine members into the mysterious of their order last Tuesday night. After the initiation ceremony had been completed the members enjoyed a fine supper consisting of oysters, cake, coffee etc. At their next regular meeting, which will be the third Tuesday night of January the officers elect will be installed.
