The Western Supply House.

The Western Supply House is the name of a new firm recently launched in business in Broken Bow. This new firm we understand is connected with a similar company in Kansas City. The object of the company is to deal in all classes of property on commission. At present the company is making a specialty of real estate. In a week's time the firm informed us that it had listed 60,000 acres of land for sale. It has already established business correspondence with a large number of real estate firms in this state, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri. The principal promoters of the firm are B. W. Blair and J. M. Ash. The REPUBLICAN extends its good will to the new firm and hopes to see it succeed.

The Baptist Boys Brigade.

The boys of the Baptist Sunday school have formed an organization known as the Baptist Boys Brigade. The organization was effected last Friday night with forty members. The officers elected are, Lawrence Hollandsworth, captain; Ray Kelsey, First Lieut.; Ross Armour, Second Lieutenant; Ruemont Pigman, First Sergeant. The headquarters of the brigade for the present is Haerberle's building on main street recently vacated by J. W. Cook's grocery store. Simon Cameron late of the Second Nebraska has been elected drill master. He will have charge of the brigade until some of the members of it are capable of the work. The boys are very much delighted with their organization. They have adopted a constitution and rules for the government of the organization, which are similar to rules adopted for the government of the state militia. The ages of the present membership range from fifteen years down.

The ordinance passed last week by the city council requiring certain streets to be planted to trees is becoming fruit in abundance already. Not only trees are being planted where the ordinance requires, but enterprising citizens in other parts of the city, prompted by the suggestion, are putting out trees.

Mr. J. C. Moore charged me with asking the city council to pass the tree ordinance so I could sell a lot of trees. I really thank Mr. Moore for the suggestion, and I have ordered 500 elms and 500 hackberry trees from 6 to 10 feet high, which I hope to have in Broken Bow for delivery on Arbor Day, at 10c a piece.—WILLIS CADWELL.

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, the eminent Presbyterian divine, died on Saturday last at 9 p. m. His remains were deposited yesterday in the Greenwood cemetery in Brooklyn, New York where he was pastor prior to locating in Washington.

The Ord Quiz has changed to the form of a magazine, reducing its size from a 20 inch six column quarto to a 10 inch three column 32 page. While the new form is convenient for its patrons, Mr. Haskell will find it will be more expensive than the former size.

John Wehling, one of the successful hog raisers of the West table called last week and left his order for a supply of printed stationery. He reports he is having good luck with his pigs this spring. In the past week, from seven young sows he has 47 pigs.

W. G. Purcell, the senior editor of the Chief, wife and little daughter, left Saturday night for St. Louis. They will accompany the Nebraska Editorial Association on an excursion to the south. Hot Springs, Arkansas, where the National Editorial Association meets is among the points of interest contemplated on their journey.

The horse buyer, who was buying for the New York market, correctly guessed their ages, which would indicate that the condition of a horse has more to do with the price on the market than the age.

Francis at present general passenger and ticket agent of the B. & M., will succeed Mr. Eustis. We hope the other companies may be able to see their way clear and make similar arrangements. The day is not far distant until nearly every farmer in Custer county will have an opportunity to have telephone connection with the rest of the county, and every one should work to get the best possible service for his money.

He is going to engage in the commission business and will handle fruits, vegetables, flour, feed, fish etc. He says it is a lovely town of about 4000, located on the Columbia river.

The case of John Scribner of Sargent, who is charged with keeping a gambling room and gambling devices, occupied the time of Judge Armour Tuesday, and part of forenoon Wednesday. There were about 30 witnesses in the case from Sargent and vicinity. The attorneys in the case were County Attorney Kirkpatrick and C. H. Holcomb for the state, and attorneys Moon of Taylor, Wall of Loup City, and Gadd of this city, were for the defendant. The attorneys for the defendant labored hard for their client and made the very best defence possible to save him but they did not succeed. County Attorney Kirkpatrick had so well fortified himself with evidence against the defendant that it could not well be overcome. A majority of the witnesses for the state claimed protection against incriminating themselves and making their testimony useless for the state. But out of the great number of witnesses were found some who remained true to the state, satisfying the court that that there was probable cause for the charge. The defendant was put under bonds for his appearance at the next term of the district court.

S. M. Dorris, our genial townsman and proprietor of the Central blacksmith shop, is not only a blacksmith, with all the high attainments the name implies, but is progressive. Not being satisfied with the old method of pounding out iron and steel by muscular force, he has manufactured a machine with a power hammer attachment, that not only works like a charm, but does the work neatly and with dispatch. A power hammer of the latest inventions costs from $80 to $125. By his ingenuity, Mr. Dorris has made one that performs highly satisfactory work. The power is furnished by his gasoline engine, which runs the hammer at the rate of 150 strokes a minute, and is capable of going as high as 200. The hammer weighs twenty pounds, and is capable of hammering out as many plow lathes a day as can be heated by four forges. Yesterday afternoon we called at the shop to see it operate. One man at the furnace with a Royal blower could not heat the iron more than one-fourth fast enough to keep the hammer employed. A six inch slab of steel was heated and before the second was near hot Mr. Dorris had a shovel plow lathe drawn out, made and ready to trim. The hammer is controlled by the foot with a treadle, and can be thrown off or on in an instant. As a labor saver, the machine is a great success, and highly commends the ingenuity of its inventor.

Walter T. Henne of Springfield, Illinois, was a friendly caller at this office Tuesday, and had his name enrolled for the REPUBLICAN. Mr. Henne has an interest with his brother in a half section of land thirteen miles southeast of this city, and Tuesday was the first time he had seen it, although he has owned it for a number of years. He arrived here last Friday night from the state of Washington, where he bought a half section of land in Douglas county, near a quarter section he has owned for several years. He is a brother to Miss Lillie Henne of Merna, and it was with the desire to visit with her that he stopped off on his return to his home in Springfield.

Tree Planting.

The following good advice on tree planting is from Willis Cadwell, which was crowded out last week for lack of space.

In planting trees under the new ordinance, let me suggest that some one or more persons make a specialty of putting out and cultivating trees for lot owners.

A good heavy team and disc harrow are the first requisites. The line for trees should be first thoroughly cut up with the disc, at least ten feet wide. This ground should then be plowed with a 14-inch plow, leaving a dead furrow for the trees. Then run the disc again, thoroughly working the soil as mellow as an ash heap. Now run a furrow and plant the trees, not too deep, as by above preparation you will have quite a dead furrow. The trees should be cultivated with one-horse five or seven-shovel cultivator or fourteen-tooth cultivator at least once a week, especially the next day or two after each rain, until about July 1st. After the June rains, the tree row, and all ground that has been cultivated, should be thoroughly mulched, filling the dead furrow full. Well rotted manure from livery barn corrals, with very little straw or hay, is the best. Be careful about watering trees unless you thoroughly cultivate after each watering, or ground is well mulched.

Knight Templars Seek Promotion.

Tonight a number of the Masonic fraternity, who recently attained the degree of Knight Templar, will go to Omaha to be initiated in the order of the Mystic Shrine. As they were promoted at the same time to the degree of Knight Templar the are desirous of taking the next degree together. They are C. L. Gutterson, J. A. Armour, C. T. Orr, P. F. Campbell, C. H. Jeffords, Alpha Morgan, J. C. Bowen, L. E. Wilson, J. G. Haerberle, J. G. Brenizer, R. W. Wilkinson, H. B. Andrews and H. W. George. We understand, that F. H. Young, F. M. Rublee and J. J. Wilson will go down with the boys to see that they do not get lost. We anticipate the crowd will enjoy their trip and come back a happy lot of Shriners.
