to success, provided only a vigorous and aggressive campaign is waged. For this the wide acquaintance of Judge Kinkaid in the district and his experience in previous canvasses will surely serve in good stead.

The people of the Sixth district have been enjoying unprecedented and constantly increasing prosperity since the administration of national affairs under republican policies. These effects of republican prosperity have been seen in the steadily weakening grip of the fusionists, at one time all-powerful there, which ought to be entirely shaken off at the coming election. The ability of Judge Kinkaid to represent his constituency with credit in congress is conceded by all. He is closely identified with the various interests of his section of the state, whose advancement will certainly be substantially promoted by his election.—Omaha Bee.

M. P. KINKAID THE NOMINEE.

Nomination Made on the 178th Formal Ballot.

Currie, Grimes, Cady, Beeman, And Darr Short on Votes.

The most extended republican convention ever held in the Sixth congressional district was held at Crawford last week.

The meeting was called to order by chairman of the central committee, McDonald, who introduced Judge Wall as temporary chairman of the convention. Judge Wall on accepting the position thanked the committee for the honor conferred and discussed the political situation for about thirty minutes in an able an forcible manner. F. F. Keyer was elected temporary secretary, and P. Lambert assistant. The usual committees were appointed. The temporary organization was made permanent. The convention at once proceeded to business and on motion an informal ballot was taken on candidates for congress.

The informal ballot resulted in Kinkaid 75, Currie 49½, Grimes 35½ Beeman 19, Darr 13, Cady 12.

Balloting continued until six o'clock when a recess was taken for supper.

Balloting was again resumed at 7:30 and continued up to 11 o'clock p. m., when the 100th ballot had been called. There being no prospect of a break the convention adjourned to 8:30 next morning.

The recess during the night instead of solving the problem appearantly increased the effectiveness of the dead lock that had prevailed the previous day.

Balloting resumed at 8:30 a. m. on the 13, varying but little from the first cast. Kinkaid would occassionally reach 81½ and frequently Currie would make 51½. A recess was taken about 10 o'clock when there was an apparent deal entered into by the Beeman, Grimes, Darr and Cady supporters to nominate one of the four by stampeding the Kinkaid or Currie forces. The deal was commenceed with Grimes and cast their combine forces for him five times and alternated to each of the other three until one of them had secured enough votes from the other candidates to elect. But the ruse did not effect the Currie and Kinkaid forces sufficiently to elect. Grimes' vote run up to 88½, Beeman to 81½, Darr 80½ and Cady 87½. As it took 104 to nominate no election was secured and the ballot dropped back to the old score, with the exception of a gain of two votes from Blaine for Currie and an occasional 3½ vote to Currie from Cheyenne. The recess at noon gave Kinkaid's men an opportunity to get together and renew their determination to stand by their prefered candidate as long as he was in the lead. Currie's supporters as well as Grime's men declared themselves in favor of staying with their man and if neccessary die with him. It appeared from subsequent developments that Beeman and Darr, had canvassed the situation with the view of finding an easy place to light.

Balloting was again resumed at 1:30, but the break that was looked for did not come. Grimes reached as high as 52½ votes, and Currie held from 43 to 52, while Kinkaid held steadily onto 75 to 81½. It was about three o'clock in the afternoon when everybody thought they wanted a recess and 40 minutes were taken. Up to that hour 177 formal ballots had been recorded, and the vote stood Kinkaid, 79½; Grimes, 48; Darr, 13; Beeman, 19; Currie, 42; Cady, 9; Wall 9.

Whether the recess would develope Wall's chances as a dark horse or make Kinkaid, Grimes, Currie or Cady, was a mere matter of speculation. But before the 40 minutes had expired, the deal was consumated. Beeman, and Darr had joined forces and found and easy place to light. They had, by combining, 32 votes. Kinkaid only needed 24½ votes to land him safely.

Chairman called the convention to order and called for a report of the committee on resolutions. The report was read and adopted. The resolutions were very similar to those passed by the Custer county convention.

The 178 roll was called, which resulted as follows: Kinkaid, 124½; Currie, 43; Grimes, 30½; Cady, 9. Before the result of the vote was announced, Senator Currie moved that the nomination of Judge Kinkaid be made unanimous. The motion was seconded by Judge Grimes, and the motion went through amid great excitement. For several minutes the applause was immense. The motion was declared carried, but the secretary's tally of the 178th ballot was never announced.

For an hour or more the time was occupied with speeches by Judge Kinkaid, Beeman, Senator Currie, Judge Grimes, Cady and Darr. The defeated candidates pledged their support to Judge Kinkaid.

After transacting some miner business and selecting the central committee the convention adjourned.

Republican Resolutions of Custer County

The republicans of Custer county in convention assembled, reaffirm the principles of republicanism as set forth in the national platform of 1900.

We congratulate the people upon the happiness and prosperity that has come to them as a result of republican policy and republican legislation. Wages were never so high, nor producers so well compensated for their products as now. Men were never so well housed, clothed and fed, and have never before had more contentment of mind than during the years since republican policy has been enacted into law.

We congratulate the President and the Army on the satisfactory progress made in the Philippines in surpressing the insurection and establishing order, and we unqualifiedly endorse the policy of our government therein. Our flag is in the Philippines and there it will remain until such time as the American people may deem it expedient or proper to give the islands a free and independent government, such as it has just given Cuba.

The American Army has taken up the work of maintaining authority in the Philippines, and while we deplore and severely condemn any instances of cruelty which may have occurred, we remember our soldiers are fighting a barbarous and treacherous foe which has inflicted most revolting and inhuman atrocities upon its prisoners. It is the Nation's Army drawn from every section of our country, knowing no politics nor creed, but fighting the Nation's battles under the Nation's Flag; and we resent with indignation, the recent democratic efforts to drag its honor in the dust and cast reproach upon its fair name.

We congratulate the republican party for the faithful fulfillment of the pledge made at its national convention of 1900, to give the oppressed Island of Cuba a free and independent government, which was consumated at Havana on May 20, by the withdrawal of the American troops and the turning over of its government to its own people.

We commend our present county officials for their business like methods in the administration of county affairs.

We congratulate the people of Nebraska upon the present prosperity of our state, and we commend the business like and economic methods employed by Gov. Savage and the state officials of his administration, which have resulted in a saving to the state in comparison with preceeding administrations of nearly two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Be it further

RESOLVED, That we disapprove of the inequality of the present methods of the assessment of property for taxation, there being no two counties assessed upon the same basis. We therefore demand that our revenue laws of the state be amended so that every dollar's worth of property or franchises shall be assessed at its actual cash value and that the levies be decreased to the lowest possible number of mills, that will provide sufficient revenue for county and state purposes. Be it further

RESOLVED, That it be made the duty of the attorney general and county attorney to see that the law is properly enforced; and be it further

RESOLVED, That we recommend the calling of a constitutional convention in the near future, or that the question of amendments to the constitution be submitted to the people of the state for their ratification.

With the understanding that the Hon. F. M. Currie is a candidate for the position of congressman from this congressional district; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That we recognize in Mr. Currie his eminent fitness for the place; and as a mark of our confidence, we do hereby authorize him to name the delegation to represent his interest in the congressional convention.
