ORTELLO.

A. D. Hunt is on the sick list since Saturday.

No Sunshine for four days now, yet but little snow has fallen.

Ed. Day purchased eight head of young cattle from C. H. Cass on last Saturday.

Mr. George Hughes will spend this Christmas with his parents in old Mo., he has been away from home five years.

We ommited to mention last week that David Cass had sold his farm to Frank Michel, one of the pioneer settlers in Dale Valley. It was a trade between old batchelors and out side of that fact are both good citizens. Mr. Cass will remove to the C. H. Cass place, and farm it the coming year.

The Sunday school will give an entertainment on Xmas eve. And will this year try the place of giving, rather than receiving. And a box of good things will be gathered by the primary, and intermediate classes, and sent to the Home for the little waifs at the Christian Home Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Miss Nellie Hills friends remembered that Sunday was her sixteenth birth day. And they planned to give her a surprise on last Saturday evening, and about 30 of the young people gathered at her home but she was not surprised as she had known of their intentions for more than a week, yet the occasion was a pleasant one.

RYNO

H. G. Donnel shipped his sheep this (Thursday) morning.

Bert Waddington of Ortello is visiting among relatives at Ryno.

BORN.—To Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Headley on Thanksgiving day a son.

It is not necessary for Custer readers to write that we have winter but they are those in other localities who are anxious to her from us and our weather.

Two years last May G. H. Carrell tired of Custer and shipped to Colorado expecting to better conditions but failed to find what he sought. On last June he went to Indian Territory with no better success; labor not renumerative; malaria plentier than money; his family took sick his oldest son died, and he concluded to arise and return to his father in Custer, arriving ten days since; judging from his conversation Indian Territory is a good place for laboring men to stay away from.

ROUND VALLEY

Ole Olsen is fatning 2 carloads of sheep which will be ready for market in January, they are now very fine.

Fred Weinman will be the first man in this neighborhood to get his corn out as it will be finished this week. Alfred Larson will be the next.

Severt Lee don't believe in the modern way of building by rushing up a building in a hury, but thinks our fore fathers way is the safest, in taking good time with it then you can be sure it is well done when once ready.

The report is that Joe Houmont and Frank Christie are to ship a carload each of fat cattle this week to Omaha market. Oscar Engelsgjerd who has been feeding his cattle since last July is to ship next week a carload to Omaha.

On account of the storm the boys of Round Valley did not have the Thanksgiving shooting match for Turkeys. They put it off to Saturday December 20th to get Christmas turkeys. They will begin at 10 o'clock forenoon and keep it up all day.

Say, you'd hate to have people think you were not real bright, wouldn't you? Well, they will if you refuse to go with the crowd to Ryerson & Watts to buy your Christmas presents and toys this year.

Cure for Balky Horse.

I see in your valuable paper of November 21, J. E. M. of Newport, Ark., wants to know how to break a balky horse. Will give him my way, and I never saw it fail. Harness horse and hitch to wagon, same as you usually do, except don't hitch the the tugs, but tie his tail to the center of the whiffletree and he will pull a good, big load. Would like to hear results.

J. R. YORK, Athol, Kan.

Use for Coal Ashes.

Sprinkle the dropping boards of the hen-house at least two or three times a week with sifted coal ashes and all the value of the manure will be saved. The place will also be kept sweet and clean and the manure will be much easier to handle. Keep a bucket of ashes with tin scoop in the water closet and let every one throw down a little at every visit. It will prevent the place from becoming a nuisance and when you clean it out the neighbors will not complain. It will be even less offensive to handle than barnyard manure. Some persons may object to the dust. This is easily overcome by moistening the ashes very slightly, not enough to make them at all wet or spoil their absorbent qualities.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—All of block 6, Jewett's Addition to Broken Bow, Neb. A fine home. —MRS. FANNIE L. STUCKEY, Ansley, Neb. 26-28

It isn't the material that goes into your repaired watch that results in a perfect job, it is the Know How that does the business, any bungler can buy the fine kinds of material that I use in repairing; but skill is the most valuable material that can be used in watch repairing; and the bungler can't buy it. I sell my skill for what it is worth and it will cost you less than bungling at lower prices.
