NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

The Business Coll go Will Incorporate

At the invitation of Prof. C. W. Roush, proprietor of the Broken Bow Business College, a number of the citizens who had subscribed for stock and a few invited guests met at the Globe Hotel Monday night to consider the proposition of incorporation. One of the pleasant features of evening was the participation in one of those fine and elaborate suppers for which Mine Host Izzard has become so noted. The bill of fare consisted of oysters raw, young onions, raddishes, celery, mixed pickles, fish, baked trout, prime sirloin of beef, turkey with cranberry sauce, young pig with apple sauce, chicken, cold slaw, mashed potatoes, escalloped corn, browned sweet potatoes, raisin pie, cream pie, oranges, apples, tea and coffee. After partaking of the thus elaborate and dainty repast, a temporary organization was effected by electing F. M. Rublee, chairman, and Prof. Davis, secretary. The report of the committee on the property and financial condition of the school was made by Willis Cadwell chairman of the committee. This report drew out a general discussion of the possibilities of the school and the advisabilities of incorporating the school. The report showed the financial condition of the school first class and the property in the very best condition. The general consensus of opinion was that the school could be strengthened and its usefulness greatly improved by the business men of Broken Bow lending their assistance in a business and moral way. It was decided to incorporate the school and on motion a committee was appointed, consisting of Alpha Morgan, Willis Cadwell and L. H. Jewett to prepare articles of incorporation and to report at the call of the chairman. A committee of three was appointed to solicit stock consisting of Dr. C. L. Mullins, F. H. Young and L. H. Jewett. Over $2,000 of stock had been taken and it was decided to capitalize the school for $10,000 for which there was ample showing made. Those present were Prof. Roush, F. H. Young, G. W. Apple, Alpha Morgan, F. M. Rublee, Willis Cadwell, L. H. Jewett, H. B. Andrews, Dr. C. L. Mullins, Joe Molyneaux, A. R. Humphrey, E. R. Purcell, John Robinson, J. C. Bowen, S. P. Groat O. H. Conrad, Prof. Davis, W. B. Eastham and D. M. Amsberry.

Mercury twenty below zero in Nebraska and strawberries ripening in Southern Texas; quite a contrast: wish I had squatted there.

Mrs. B. F. Empfield presented her husband with a valentine, a son, born February 14th. To say B. F. is elated over his second son don't express it.

The Prophet predicted, Amos 9:13, "Behold the days come when the plowman shall overtake the reaper." If this weather continues Nebraska will answer the prophecy.

James Moore and wife started for their home in Aurora, after visiting three weeks in these parts. Mr. Moore notices many changes since his visit fifteen years ago and is better pleased with our county.

The Literary at the school house in District 54, was largely attended last Friday night, and judging from the hour of adjournment must have been a hummer. The woman suffragist cause, received a setback, according to the decision of the judges.

Life Insurance.

Now is the time to secure a policy in the Security Mutual Life of Nebraska. The following following will show what J. V. Ainsworth, retired banker, did when he wanted life insurance:

Three reasons why J. V. Ainsworth decided to take life insurance in the Security Mutual Life of Nebraska:

First.—All the company's securities must be deposited with the auditor of public accounts to guarantee payment of its policies.

Second.—That all such investments are free from taxation.

Third.—The company is owned and controlled by the policy holders and the management is in the hands of reliable and competent men who keep Nebraska money in Nebraska.

Every insurance man in the state should place his insurance with the Security Mutual Life of Nebraska.

A SOLID COMPANY.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 4, 1900.

To whom presented:

It gives me pleasure to state that I am personally acquainted with the officers of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Lincoln, Nebr., and know them to be men of unquestioned integrity and ability, and I know from investigation that the company is doing a splendid business and upon correct principles, as the premium charged is acknowledged by the best actuaries to be adequate to carry out the policy as written. I placed my application with and hold a policy issued by the Security Mutual Life of Nebraska. I consider the company absolutely safe, and cheerfully recommend this company to any one wishing a life policy. I will add, I believe every man ought to carry some life insurance. Truly,

M. WEIL.

Security Mutual Life Int. Co.,

Lincoln, Nebr.

Gentlemen—For several years past my late husband, Mr. Osker Glidden, carried a life policy of two thousand dollars in the Security Mutual Life of Nebraska, and I hereby acknowledge, receipt of your check in full payment of same. Mr. Glidden had two or three other policies, and as you are the first to pay, I feel that it is right that I should testify to the fact that you have fully discharged your part of the contract in a prompt and very satisfactory manner, which is sufficient evidence to me that any family protected by a policy in the Security Mutual will not have long to wait for a settlement should death occur.

Wishing you continued success, I am, very respectfully,

MRS. ANNA GLIDDEN.

MARRIED.

HICKMAN--BURNETT—A very beautiful and unique home wedding took place 8 miles south of town at the home of Robt. F. Burnett, brother of the bride. The contracting parties were Mr. Fred C. Hickman and Miss Amy Burnett. The guests were received from 10 to 12 o'clock, February 10th. Promptly at high noon the contracting parties marched into the parlor where they were met by about twenty-five relatives and intimate friends and Rev. I. P. Kelley of the M. E. Church, of Hillsdale, Iowa, as officiating minister, who is an uncle of the bride, who performed the ceremony in a most impressive unique manner which united the lives and fortunes of two of Custer Counties best young people. The bride was attired in a drab cassimere dress trimmed in white silk and white silk applique. To her intellectual attainments she has added a refined and pleasing personality. The groom is a young man of sterling qualities handsome and manly in his bearing and a wide awake industrious farmer. The ceremony concluded amid congratulations and good wishes of hosts of friends. The happy couple with the guests present partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner of five courses. They are now at home to their many friends on the farm, where
