

Memorial Day in Broken Bow.

With the exception of the muddy streets which made it impractical to march to the grounds the program as announced for Memorial Day was carried out in this city.

The members of the G. A. R. met at 10 o'clock in their hall and had their ritualistic services. In the afternoon they marched from the hall to the Opera House accompanied by the W. R. C. the Spanish-American Soldiers, Co. M. of the State Militia and a large number of children and citizens, being led by the brass band.

The session was opened with prayer by Rev. Smith, pastor of the Christian church. The reading of Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg was read by Mrs. Alpha Morgan.

Sites Agreed Upon.

The rains of the past week have put the ground in fine condition, and rye and small grain of all kinds are doing their best, although the cold weather is very severe on the corn.

It appears that Callaway citizens are following out the prophecy of W. J. Bryan, when he said that there would be no more Fourth of July celebrations. At this time there is some talk of a celebration, but that appears to be as far as it is going.

Charley Carothers, who was thrown out of his livery barn by Savidge & Brittan having a lease on same, has begun work on a new barn and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Three foot races are booked to come off at this place next Saturday afternoon. Woodford Oliver and Sam McDonald will run one hundred yards.

Johnnie Moran and Bennie Booth, two young men of perhaps ten summers, put in a garden this spring, and as a consequence are the first to place early garden "seeds" on the market, from which they are getting well paid for their labors.

One of the most interesting games of ball that has yet been played on the Callaway diamond this season was played last Saturday between the Sand Valley and Callaway nines. The game was very close from start to finish, and was played with but little fussing from either side.

ANSELMO.

Anselmo did itself grand last Saturday in the observance of Memorial Day, despite the heavy rain the two proceeding day. At 10:30 a. m. the school children and old soldiers formed in marching order in front of Geo. M. Williams store and from there marched to the church, the children ahead but separating at the entrance of the church and allowing the old veterans to pass between the children's ranks.

ed by Sons of Veterans bearing muskets. At the church fine selections were rendered by the choir, and declamations were given by Miss Marguerite Bedwell and Miss Ross. Mr. J. M. Adams as a remnant of the confederacy read a very fine and impressive paper.

The Fair Date Named.

The Board of Directors of the Custer County Fair Association met last week and named September 1, 2, 3, and 4, as dates of the county fair. This will give an early fair, and will, no doubt, meet with the approval of those who always attend. The meeting has generally been held at a later date, but last year's cold rains of the latter part of September, greatly impaired its success.

The premiums in horses, cattle and hogs have been increased 50 per cent., and special inducements in farm products such as has never been offered before indicate that the fair this year will be conducted with the view of taking care of the farmer as well as the race horse man. Now if the management will get some real live attractions and put on a good street fair every night for the entertainment of the younger generation the show will be worth going to see.

Encouraging.

Mr. Chas. Arndt of Cummings Park, dropped into the Leader office this week for a chat, and showed some of his cream statements. In adding up the amounts of money received the past month and for two weeks of May, we found that his fifteen milk cows are netting him the handsome income of $53 a month, clean cash.

Arndt is also carrying on an extensive farming business, and is enthusiastic with the prospects ahead. In another year Mr. Arndt expects to have double the number of milk cows, which will make an income of $100 a month, besides the profits of milk turned into hogs and growing calves.

County Sunday School Convention.
