

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Feed your hair; nourish it; give it something to live on. Then it will stop falling, and will grow long and heavy. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the only hair food you can buy. For 60 years it has been doing just what we claim it will do. It will not disappoint you.

"My hair used to be very short. But after using Ayer's Hair Vigor a short time it began to grow, and now it is fourteen inches long. This seems a splendid result to me after being almost without any hair."

MRS. J. H. FIFER, Colorado Springs, Colo.

for Short Hair

She was nearly 77 years old and she began teaching in the summer of 1846 when I attended my first term. I owe an immeasurable debt of gratitude to her for she it was that confirmed me in my thought that all people should have justice alike. She was an unflinching advocate of the freedom of the colored race and their uplifting by educational means. She lived most of her life in or near the town of Newport, where the head office of the Underground was situated. She was a worker side by side with Levi Coffin and wife for many years in assisting the slaves to a place of security. A great many of the things that I have written and will yet write, I obtained from her in regard to the care of the people of that town gave the fugitives. It seems strange but every few days things come to my mind that she told me a half century ago. Ruth Ann Egeton was the woman's name, but when she began teaching her name was Rogers. She was born in North Carolina but left there when a child, but went back and attended school there for a while and she observed the effect of slavery on the communities where it existed. I well remember an instance that proved her sterling integrity and love of right. In those days we went to subscription schools where the parents paid tuition to their teachers. This was before the advent of district schools to any great extent. At the old Quaker meeting house we had this kind of schools and the teacher was somewhat under the care of a committee of the Friends as the patrons were mostly members of that church in that place. There was in the settlement and close to the meeting house where the school was held a colored family by the name of Rice. Whether old Mister Rice had ever been a slave or not, I do not now re-

Attention Farmers

Why remain in the North and stay in doors six months in the year consuming what you raise during the other six months?

Go South where you can work out doors every month in the year, and where you are producing something the year round. If you are a stock raiser you know your stock are now "eating their heads off" and besides, have to be protected from the rigors of winter by expensive shelter.

Economical stock feeding requires the combination of both flesh-forming and fat-forming foods in certain proportions. Alabama and Florida produce in abundance the velvet bean and cassava, the first a flesh producer, and the latter a fat producer, and they are the cheapest and best fattening materials known to the world.

More money can be made and with less labor, in general farming, fruit and berry growing and truck gardening along our road in the South than in any other section of the Union.

member, but they were very good people and several of their children attended the schools and were bright boys and girls. We never thought of anything wrong in going to school along with these children and in all our classes and in all our plays they were admitted without thought on our part as they were nicely behaved everywhere. But during one of the schools there was a man named Taylor, who moved into the settlement and sent his children to school. These children were not near so well behaved as the colored children, but Miss Rogers was a model teacher both as an instructor and disciplinarian and we all got along pretty well. It was not long however till Mr. Taylor (who was from Kentucky and could smell a darkey from afar,) came to the school and requested that the teacher should send the colored children home and not let them come any more as he did not want his children associating with nigger. I well remember how Miss Rogers rose to the occasion and when she had asked us all to put away our books for a little while, she walked up and looked face to face with Taylor when she gave him such a rebuke in kind but firm words that he winced under it like a whipped puppy. She did not desist until she had informed him in plain terms that those darkey children were just as good as his children or any other white children in school and that unless the patrons forced her to shut them out she should not do it and if they did she would quit at once as she would not disgrace herself by teaching in a neighborhood where there was any difference made between white and black pupils. She knew very well that the other patrons would not tolerate such sentiments and she so informed Taylor, and further if he did not like the manner and make up of her school he had her permission to remove his children at any time. My brother and several of the boys and girls told her after Taylor had gone that it was the proudest day of their lives to be blessed with a teacher who would stand for the right as she had done that day. In a few days Taylor complained to the other patrons and there was a meeting had which was attended by Mr. Rice and all the old Quaker patrons, who informed Taylor that they would not be dictated to by such a man or any man instead. He, Taylor threatened to use what he was pleased to call a bull dog on them, by which he meant a pistol, when Daniel Hill arose and walking over directly in front of him said:

"Friend Taylor, thee need not think to scare us with that bull dog as we have heard more dangerous dogs than that which persuing the poor colored man and harked on by such men as thyself. Now I advise thee to go home and when thee thinks over the matter tonight and finds that thee don't want thy children with these good children of Friend Rice's thee can keep them away, if however thou should'st think better of it and wish thy children to have a better education and be taught better manners than thou has manifested today just send them on to school for Ruth Ann will be here tomorrow and the school will go on as usual with or without thy consent just as thee will."

The result was that he soon removed his family to Delaware county where after a few years he killed a man in cold blood without much provocation, if any, was sent to the pen for life where he would not work so they used the water cure on him compelling him to pump or drown which latter he chose. And so perished this feind in human shape. I was told that by the good influence of their mother the children became pretty good citizens and free from the miserable prejudice which like a canker ate out their fathers life.

Itch-Itch-Worm.

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes April 25, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the "itch." The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle. Sold by Ed. McComas, Broken Bow and Merna.

ORTELLO.

F. C. Embree and J. Whittle were doing business at the Bow on Saturday.

K. Killenbarger reports that his barn is nearly completed regardless of cold weather for the past three weeks.

Although the weather was cold and raw, there was a number of our people attended the funeral services of Tommy Berlin last Tuesday.

Pastor W. C. Miller has given notice that he will begin a series of meetings at Ortello Chapel next Sunday evening, and he expects some help a little later.

E. D. Beals and wife drove down to the Bow on Friday returning Sunday evening. They contemplate moving and if they can arrange matters will make home in that place.

There is much sickness in our midst the past week. At this writing Mrs. P. Johnson and Mrs. T. Waddington are in bed, Mr. Hill, Mrs. C. D. Day and Auntie Colison are all very much improved.

A number of the young men, who belong to J. F. Bakers Sunday School class went and husked corn for him on Saturday. No doubt but it cheered him, to feel that in his misfortune he was remembered. And the boys were happy in doing this little service.

A number our young people have organized themselves into a Literary and Social Society, and will meet weekly at the home of one of its members. Its purpose is mental and social improvement. Last Friday evening they met with Mattie Fodge and completed organization.

A Reception.

The members of the senior B. Y. P. U. gave Mr. and Mrs. L. D. George a reception last Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Pigman. A pleasant time was enjoyed for several hours in the playing of games and social chat, after which luncheon was served. It was nearly midnight when the genial party took their departure for home. On leaving they all expressed themselves of having enjoyed a very pleasant evening and wished the bride and groom many years of happiness and prosperity in their journey in life.

CROUP

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat. Mrs. A. Vliet, New Castle, Colo., writes, March 19, 1901: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Ed. McComas, Broken Bow and Merna.
