The rains of the past week have put quence the celebration this year looks the ground in excellent shape, and the like it would be bigger and better than farmers are jubilant over their prospects ever. A large sum of money has been for an extra large crop this year.

O. D. James, who has purchased a twenty-acre tract of ground adjoining the town on the west, will soon begin the erection of a fine new residence.

O. D. James returned to Callaway Monday, after having spent a week with friends and relatives in Omaha. He was accompanied home by a nephew, who of 6 to 8. The game was a very interestwill spend the summer here.

Attention Farmers____

Why remain in the North and stay in doors six months in the year consuming what you raise during the other six months?

Go South where you can work out doors every month in the year, and where you are producing something the year round. If you are a stock raiser you know your stock are now 'eating their heads off' and, besides, have to be protected from the rigors of winter by expensive shelter.

Economical stock feeding requires the combination of both flesh-forming and fat-forming foods in certain proportions. Alabama and Florida produce in abundance the velvet bean and cassava, the first a flesh producer, and the latter a fat producer, and they are the cheapest and best fattening materials known to the world. More money can be made and with less labor, in general farming, fruit and berry growing and truck gardening along our road in the South than in any other section of the Union.

If you are interested and desire further information on the subject, address

Jacob Mauk who has returned from a visit of nine months in South Central Iowa, says he used to wonder why so many people that left Nebraska came back. He says now it is no longer a surprise. Of course those who were born and raised in one of the eastern states can be satisfied with his surroundings. But after spending à few years in Nebraska where sunshine lights up the atmosphere more than 300 days out of the 365 in a year, where mild winters prevail and crops of all kinds yield in abundance and where 160 acres is as easily cultivated as 40, east of the Missouri river it is no wonder that every Nebraskan longs to get back home. CLIFF.

May 30th will long be remembered by those that met at the M. E. church Monday afternoon to witness the splendid program for Decoration Day that had been provided by Misses Cylvia Cool and Libby Schmitz. The exercises consisted of the opening song by the congregation, America; prayer by Rev. C. Hercock. Then followed the rendering of a program by the children of whom too much praise cannot be given. After the program the address of the day was made by Rev. W. E. Mathews of Merna, His address was timely and highly appreciated. The speaker gave the children to understand why the day was observed and that graves of our soldiers was especially dear to the American people, which was exemplified in decorating them with flowers. The address was especially highly appreciated by the old comrades present. The congregation marched to the cemetery, there being sixty-five teams in the column and decorated the graves of all.
