DENNISON MUST GO TO IOWA.

District Judges Deny Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Prof. William James of Harvard is very popular with the more intelligent and studious of the undergraduates. When these young men, however, make rash, or bold, or unbecoming assertions he does not hesitate to take them down. Not long ago a sophomore said some rather atheistical views before Prof. James. "You," the latter said, "are a free thinker, I perceive. You believe in nothing." "I only believe—haw—what I can understand," the sophomore replied. "It comes to the same thing, I suppose," said Prof. James.

A Paying Washington Industry
Cascara bark peeling has become an active industry in the forests of western Washington. The bark is taken from the barberry and chittimwood trees that grow profusely in the Grays harbor district. It has a commercial value of 8 cents per pound. An ordinary tree yields from 50 to 100 pounds of the dried bark. Whole families are engaged in collecting the bark and selling to dealers. Some men make $5 a day at the work. Entire sections are contracted by eastern buyers and peelers engaged to supply the bark. There is talk of petitioning the legislature to enact laws for preserving the trees, which are more valuable than any timber grown in the native forest. The bark is used for medicinal purposes. It is estimated that one pound of dry bark will make enough liquid extract to sell for $2 at wholesale.

The Brooklyn Bridge.
The twenty-first anniversary of the opening of the Brooklyn bridge took place recently. It has been a busy place since 1883. The total receipts therefrom from 1883 to 1898, when the structure passed into the possession of the railroad companies, were $17,272,890, and the expenditures for the same period were $18,151,301. The railroad earnings from 1883 to 1898 were $13,734,818, and the earnings from the roadway in the same period $1,205,460. The Brooklyn bridge cost $11,500,000, while the cost of acquiring real estate, etc., for the terminals was about $4,500,000. The cost of the Williamsburg bridge, the second of the East River bridges, will be in the neighborhood of $20,000,000. The cost of the Williamsburg structure will be less than that of the Brooklyn bridge structure, but the expense of acquiring real estate for terminals and approaches was greater.

First Daguerreotype in America.
It is perhaps not generally known that the earliest practical information as to Daguerre's process of catching and holding the figure of his camera obscure came to America through Prof. S. F. B. Morse. In a letter to a friend in America, to be quoted in Abraham Ogardus' "The Lost Art of Daguerreotype" in the May Century, Prof. Morse tells of constructing the first daguerreotype apparatus made in the United States from drawings furnished by Daguerre. "My first effort," Prof. Morse writes, "was on a small plate of silvered copper procured at a hardware store, and, defective as the plate was, I obtained a good representation of the Church of the Messiah, then on Broadway, from a back window of the New York City university. This I believe to have been the first daguerreotype made in America."

TWO STEPS

The Last One Helps the First.
A sick coffee drinker must take two steps to be rid of his troubles and get strong and well again.
The first step is to cut off coffee absolutely.
That removes the destroying element. The next step is to take liquid food (and that is Postum Food Coffee) that has in it the elements nature requires to change the blood corpuscles from pale pink or white to rich red, and good red blood builds good strong and healthy cells in place of the broken down cells destroyed by coffee. With well boiled Postum Food Coffee to shift to, both these steps are easy and pleasant. The experience of a Georgian proves how important both are.
"From 1872 to the year 1900 my wife and I had both been afflicted with sick or nervous headache and at times we suffered untold agony. We were coffee drinkers and did not know how to get away from it for the habit is hard to quit.
"But in 1900 I read of a case similar to ours where Postum Coffee was used in place of the old coffee and a complete cure resulted, so I concluded to get some and try it.
"The result was, after three days' use of Postum in place of the coffee I never had a symptom of the old trouble and in five months I had gained from 145 pounds to 163 pounds.
"My friends asked me almost daily what wrought the change. My answer always is, leaving off coffee and drinking Postum in its place.
"We have many friends who have been benefited by Postum.
"As to whether or not I have stated the facts truthfully I refer you to the Bank of Carrollton or any business firm in that city where I have lived for many years and am well known." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
"There's a reason."

OMAHA—By the opinion of the district court, handed down by Judges Day, Redick and Troup, no habeas corpus writ will be allowed for the purpose of preventing the extradition of Tom Dennison to stand trial for complicity in the Pollack diamond robbery.

A large crowd was in the court room to hear the opinion rendered. The decision of the court was announced by Judge Day, who merely called the case and stated that inasmuch as the parties were all present in court the decision would be handed down. He then proceeded to read a written opinion of some length. As soon as he concluded, Judge Troup read a supplemental opinion and Judge Redick still another, all agreeing as to the findings, and expressing in a measure the individual views of the judges.

Briefly stated, the court held that the various points alleged in behalf of Dennison had not been sustained. That the statute of limitations had not run against the crime, owing to the fact that Dennison had been out of Iowa nearly all the time since the crime was committed; that the governor's extradition warrant was sufficient and in proper form; that the grand jury indictment of Dennison was properly authenticated and sufficient proof that a crime was charged; and finally, that Dennison had failed to establish that he was not in Iowa at the time charged, the court finding therefrom that he is a fugitive from justice.

CHADRON—After holding the body in the Mead undertaking rooms for over a week trying in vain to reach an aged mother in Canada, Doris Davidson, the young woman from Casper and Douglas, Wyo., was buried under the auspices of the Woman Christian Temperance union. It will be remembered she committed suicide by taking laudanum in the Depot hotel at this city last week. Nothing could have been sadder than this funeral. Not one human being that had ever heard or seen her before, a stranger in a strange land, but there were prayers and songs and tears and flowers. Pictures were taken of her and the flower covered casket to send to the mother when she is found.

At a meeting of the public library of Grand Island it was ordered that the library be closed for three days and that all the books be fumigated. Complaint has reached the library board, directed at it, that it has permitted books to go and come from a home in which there was scarlet fever, and it is stated that such an incident did occur, though there are comparatively few cases of scarlet fever.

One of the biggest land deals made in this section for some time, says a Beatrice dispatch, was made of the H. H. Smith farm of 160 acres to W. He Was a Good Risk.

The Marquis of Donegal, who died the other day, was some years ago made the subject of an insurance gamble. In 1890 some one took out a policy against the marquis, who was then in his seventieth year, and as he had no children, this looked a good thing for the insurance company, but in his eighty-fifth year the marquis married again and left a son, who is six months old. Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed it has a rambling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.
