Discarded Lines

For the past nine months we have been weeding out our shoe department—closing out such lines as do not seem to meet our requirements. We still have a few of the Hamilton Brown Line that we are willing to part with at very low prices.

We do not have a complete line of sizes on any of these shoes, but these prices should close out the remnants in quick order.

It is hard to overcome the inertia of a long fixed habit. A man who pays $5.00 and $6.00 for a shoe cannot realize that times have changed. He was right twenty years ago, even ten years ago, but that was before the time of Specialty Shoe Factories.
