

STOP! WOMEN, AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with woman's diseases covers a great many years. You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private ills to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Following we publish two letters from a woman who accepted this invitation. Note the result.

First letter.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
For eight years I have suffered something terrible every month with my periods. The pains are excruciating and I can hardly stand them. My doctor says I have ovarian and womb trouble, and I must go through an operation if I want to get well. I do not want to submit to it if I can possibly help it. Please tell me what to do. I hope you can relieve me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 59th and E. Capitol St., Benning P. O., Washington, D. C. Second letter.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
After following carefully your advice, and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very anxious to send you my testimonial, that others may know their value and what you have done for me.

"As you know, I wrote you that my doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I then wrote you, telling you my ailments. I followed your advice and am entirely well. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I owe my life to you and to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I wish every suffering woman would read this testimonial and realize the value of writing to you and your remedy."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 59th and E. Capitol Streets, Benning P. O., Washington, D. C.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women whose testimony is so unquestionable, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

NOVEL GRAVITY RAIL SYSTEM.

Particularly Adapted for Crossing Rivers, Gorges and the Like.

A novel railway system has been invented by Abraham Abelson of New York City. This system is particularly adapted for crossing rivers, gorges, ravines and the like, says the Scientific American, and it is designed to effect an economy over existing systems of transportation.

It consists of a tower at each anchorage built of skeleton framework. In the center of which an elevator operates. Cables are suspended from a cradle at the tower top and anchored near the base of the opposite tower. Pivoted counterweights are provided, which serve to keep the cable taut and to compensate for any variations in cable lengths. These weights also remove the lateral pressure of the towers, producing instead a downward pressure thereon.

The system does not require any elevated approaches to the bridge entrances. The transporter cars are suspended from swivel trucks, which travel on the cables. In practice a car is raised by means of the elevator to the top of a tower, the trucks being turned so as to clear the cables. When the top of the tower is reached the trucks are turned back to normal position, so that on descent of the elevator they will rest on the cables supporting the car. The car thereupon descends by gravity to the opposite tower. The cars are entirely independent of each other and the speed of the descending car can be regulated at will, thus affording a saving of time over such systems as employ two counter-balancing cars.

DUCK CARRIED CAR FARE.

But Mr. Kicker Cried Aloud for a Gold Piece.

Kicker was reading his newspapers when he was summoned to the kitchen by his wife, who was preparing a duck for dinner. In one hand she held the gizzard of the bird and in the other a steel knife.

"I thought you might not believe me if I told you," said Mrs. Kicker, "but look in that gizzard."

Kicker looked and saw something shiny. He pulled it out. It was a dime of Uncle Sam's currency, worn almost smooth on one side and perforated as no milling machine made by human hands could perforate it on the other side. Through a magnifying glass Kicker made out the date on this coin as 1903. Since it got hold of the dime the duck's gizzard had not been loafing. When the duck was served Kicker was thoughtful, even morose.

"Dimes discovered in ducks seem to indicate tenderness," remarked Mrs. Kicker, pleasantly. "This one is delicious."

"Next time," grunted Kicker, "I wish you would select a duck with more expensive tastes. I should like one with an appetite for five-dollar gold pieces."

Rank Stupidity.

"Miss Anteck told me her great-grandfather served during the Mexican war.

"She's my enemy for life. I stupidly said that I supposed she must have given up a great deal of her time to reading the war bulletins and the lists of killed and wounded. When I saw the expression of her face I hastily asked her if she didn't allude to the Spanish-American war. She coldly replied that her great-grandfather fell at the storming of Chapultepec, more than a half-century ago.

"I stammered that I was awfully sorry to hear it, and that it seemed shockingly sudden, that I supposed it must be a particularly painful loss to her, because, no doubt, she was his favorite granddaughter, and—and then I grabbed my hat and came away."—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

Justice Abused.

An extraordinary case of prison maladministration, perhaps unique in its way, has just been brought to light at Cartagena, where an old prisoner named Moreno, condemned in 1867 to twenty-seven years' penal servitude for military desertion and brigandage, has been kept in jail eleven years after the expiry of his sentence in 1894, simply because the original record of the sentence had been lost. Moreno would certainly have died in illegal imprisonment, but the editor of a powerful Madrid newspaper, happening to visit the prison a short time ago, heard from his own lips the story, and its publication caused a popular outcry, which has secured his release.

Faint Heart.

I wonder if she knows how much My heart cries out for her dear heart. I wonder if she's felt the touch. The joyous thrill, the bitter smart Of Cupid's dart.

I wonder when she'll say to me When I have told my tale to-night, O will it be my fate to be Transported to the sun-kissed height Of sheer delight?

I wonder if I'll tell my tale At all? I've often tried before. By Jove! I feel my course fall. And here, a timid course once more, On past her door.

—T. A. Daly, in Catholic Standard and Times.

In After Years.

"Women are certainly changeable creatures," said the weary-looking man.

"What's the explanation?" asked the friend of the family.

"During our honeymoon," answered the weary party, "my wife declared she could not live a day without me."

"Well?" queried the family friend.

"Only last week," continued the other, "she tried to get me to insure my life for $10,000 in her favor."

Female Weakness Is Usually Pelvic Catarrh. Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

MRS. MABLE BRADFORD

Mrs. Mable Bradford, 13 Church street, Burlington, Vt., Secretary Whittier Oratorio Society, writes:

"Pe-ru-na is certainly a wonderful medicine for the ills of women. I have heard it spoken of in the highest praise by many, and certainly my experience is well worthy of a good word.

"I began to have severe pains across my back about a year ago, brought on by a cold, and each subsequent month brought me pain and distress.

"Your remedy was prescribed, and the way it acted upon my system was almost too good to be true. I certainly have regained my health and strength, and I no longer suffer periodical pains and extreme lassitude."—Mable Bradford.
