Have your cake, muffins, and tea biscuit home-made. They will be fresher, cleaner, more tasty and wholesome.

Royal Baking Powder helps the housewife to produce at home, quickly and economically, fine and tasty cake, the raised hot-biscuit, puddings, the frosted layer-cake, crisp cookies, crullers, crusts and muffins, with which the ready-made food found at the bake-shop or grocery does not compare.

Pure Scotch and Scotch Topped Short Horn Cattle. My herd numbers show. Will come here in breeding and quality with any west of Chicago. The entertainment which was given at the King school house was a success financially as well as socially. The program was greatly enjoyed by all, many pronouncing it the best they had the opportunity of hearing. Miss Maud Sims got the most votes for being the best looking lady, and Mr. Tullie and C. T. Wright got the most for being the best looking men present.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

J. S. Smith of Callaway, who was a delegate from his home lodge to the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the A. O. U. W. now in session at South Omaha, arrived in this city this morning from Omaha to appear as a witness in the Morgan and Haycock damage case. He reports the lodge still in session. The prospects were that an agreement between the Supreme Lodge representatives and the Grand Lodge delegates would be reached. The speakers from both sides were many and spirited.

Messrs. Reichen and Leonard have recently made quite an improvement in the interior of their office. They have put in a hall the full length of the building north and south, from which each of the several departments may be entered without going through either of the other offices. A very fine and substantial vault in the center of the building convenient to the several departments has been put in for the safe keeping of the abstract books, deeds and other valuable papers. To this is added an individual safety depository for the use of private parties who have no safe deposit for their valuables. The entire arrangement of the office is very convenient.

One year ago the students of Broken Bow High School organized a County Literary Association to hold one meeting each year in Broken Bow. Last year the contest was held in the court house and the large crowd that attended necessitated the securing of the opera house for this year. Contestants will be present from all the high schools in the county, including Callaway, Meria, Sargent, Ansley, Broken Bow and probably Mason City. Several weeks have been consumed by the contestants in preparing for this declamatory contest and without doubt the best oratory in the county schools will be present. The management has placed the price of admission at 25 cents and 15 cents for general admission. This is a small charge for as fine an entertainment as this one promises to be and is made only for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the contestants. The citizens of Broken Bow and all other people that are in town are urged to be present and listen to the orations. Besides the orations and declamations of the contestants, a fine musical program has been arranged, consisting of solos, quartets and choruses. Everyone come! Seats on sale at Halberles and the Post Office store.

Hail, Rain and Snow.

This locality has been visited with rain hail and snow in the past twenty-four hours, and the conditions are anything but pleasant. The hail was light and did no damage, while at times yesterday evening and this morning the rain was quite heavy. For nearly an hour this morning the rain turned to snow, falling in great flakes and about as thick as they could descend. But as the atmosphere was warm it melted about as fast as it fell and added to the slush and mud which has been a common characteristic for the past month.

Big Farmer Picnic.

The farmers of Miller, Nebraska will hold a big picnic on Wednesday May 24th to celebrate the success of their Farmer's Grain Company, organized last fall. Good music and good speakers will be present, while Buffalo County farmers' wives will feed the hungry as only western women can.

Another Preliminary for Haddix

The trial of W. S. Haddix for the killing of Butler has not yet been called up in district court and from present indications will not be this week, if it is at all this term. The report is that the information filed against Haddix is defective and the state cannot safely proceed to trial until he has been given another preliminary trial, which will probably be Saturday before Judge Armour.

Fred Hine Speechless

A letter received by Mrs. Gillings from his daughter, Mrs. Flossie Martin of England, dated April 4, 1905, states that her father is very ill and has been in bed two weeks, and that he has lost his speech and is quite helpless. She expresses a wish that some of his old friends in Broken Bow would write him as it would cheer him. He thinks "there are no people in the world like his dear old friends in Broken Bow."

THE CATTLE STEALING CASES.

Fox Testifies Against His Partners—Rhodes Pleads Guilty.

The noted cattle cases against Fox, Chandler and Rhodes were the attractions that drew the crowds to the court room from Monday morning until yesterday morning.

The first case on trial was that of the state against John Chandler of Ansley, who was charged with stealing 18 head of cattle from Chris Jensen, near Westerville on the 10th of last November. Earnest Huffman and Robt. Fox were charged with the same offense, all of whom were released on giving the required bond for their appearance at this term of district court.

Huffman having departed for parts unknown, Chandler was the first of the trio to be tried.

At the preliminary the evidence did not directly connect Chandler with the theft as only Huffman and Fox were seen with the stolen cattle.

A state trial, which concluded yesterday, in which Fox was made a witness for the state and not only acknowledged his own guilt but implicated both Chandler and Huffman. He testified that Chandler helped drive the cattle out of the pasture while he and Huffman drove them to Arcadia from which place Huffman shipped them to the Omaha market.

Chandler went on the stand in his own behalf and acknowledged to going as far as the pasture gate but declining to go further and went back home. He testified that Huffman was also present at the time the cattle were taken from the pasture. But the evidence of the state was sufficient to convince the jury that Chandler was a party to the stealing. The case was given to the jury about 9 o'clock Tuesday night and they agreed upon a verdict of guilt about midnight. For the part that Fox played it is generally believed that the charge against him will be dismissed.

RHODES PLEADS GUILTY.

Yesterday morning Rhode's case was called up and he came into court and plead guilty. He was charged with stealing 20 head of cattle from George Porter who lives at Ansley. His cattle were taken from a pasture near Litchfield and were shipped to Omaha and sold. At the preliminary Rhode was identified by the Omaha dealers as the man from whom they had bought the Porter cattle.

At this writing the judge had not yet sentenced either Chandler or Rhodes and the length of term they will be required to serve could only be a matter of conjecture.

It was found, however, that Mrs. Clark of Eureka, was returning from New Helena, when the team became frightened, upset the buggy and ran away.
