IF YOU ARE A WOMAN

What Mrs. Ford Says Concerning Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will Surely Interest You.

"I wish I could help other women get rid of certain physical troubles as completely as I have succeeded in getting rid of mine," said Mrs. B. B. Ford, of Pashmataha, Miss., recently. "You know," she continued, "that a woman's health depends chiefly on the regularity of just one function. If she fails to keep that properly regulated she has no end of physical misery. I suffered from that one cause for two wretched years, during one of which I was kept in bed all the time. I tried medicines enough to cure any illness, but nothing gave me the slightest benefit until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They cured me. Why, I was suffering all the time practically from sickness of the stomach, dizziness or swimming in my head and pain in my back. Now I am entirely free from discomfort of that sort. I am not only able to keep on my feet, but to do my work as a teacher, and to enjoy the pleasures that come through the possession of sound health.

"Within three weeks after beginning the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I experienced such relief that I knew they must be adapted to the needs of my case. After using them for a short while longer I became and have since remained a well woman, and the reason why is simply that I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make uterine action regular and painless, banish headaches, languor, nervousness, create appetite, promote digestion, put color in the complexion, build up strength and health.

Every woman should send to the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., for a valuable booklet, entitled "Plain Talks to Women." It will be mailed free in sealed envelope to the address of any applicant. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists.

In Use For Over 30 Years. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

A Big Claim. I have all my life been made aware when death has seized or danger threatened those I love. Thus no fear of evil things ever disturbs me, so certain am I that if the worst of all calamities befel, I should know it on the instant of its happening, without the need of any human agency.—Helen Mathers in the Daily Graphic.

Starting Method of Protection. Dr. Barnardo, the London philanthropist, had a startling way of protecting the papers upon his desk from the devastatingly tidy housemaid. Brides Remain Hidden. At a Yezedee marriage the bride is covered from head to foot, and when she reaches her new home she hides behind a curtain, where she stays for eight days, and no one can see her. At Druse the bride is hidden with a red veil, which is first removed in the bridal chamber.

"Ah, There's the Rub!" If the victim of unrequited love can only manage to hold out until the girl has been married nine or ten years and is trying to raise a family and do her own housework, he is almost sure to be able to get over it.—Chicago Record-Herald.

OLD FASHIONED FARE Hot Biscuits, Griddle-Cakes, Pies and Puddings. The food that made the fathers strong is sometimes unfit for the children under the new conditions that our changing civilization is constantly bringing in. One of Mr. Bryan's neighbors in the great state of Nebraska writes:

"I was raised in the South, where hot biscuits, griddle-cakes, pies and puddings are eaten at almost every meal, and by the time I located in Nebraska I found myself a sufferer from indigestion and its attendant ills—distress and pains after meals, an almost constant headache, dull, heavy sleepiness by day and sleeplessness at night, loss of flesh, impaired memory, etc., etc.

"I was rapidly becoming incapacitated for business, when a valued friend suggested a change in my diet, the abandonment of heavy, rich stuff and the use of Grape-Nuts food. I followed the good advice and shall always be thankful that I did so.

"Whatever may be the experience of others, the beneficial effects of the change were apparent in my case almost immediately. My stomach, which had rejected other food for so long, took to Grape-Nuts most kindly; in a day or two my headache was gone, I began to sleep healthfully and before a week was out the scales showed that my lost weight was coming back. My memory was restored with the renewed vigor that I felt in body and mind. For three years now Grape-Nuts food has kept me in prime condition, and I propose it shall for the rest of my days.

"And by the way, my 2 1/2 year old baby is as fond of Grape-Nuts as I am, always insists on having it. It keeps her as healthy and hearty as they make them." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.

NEBRASKA STATE NEWS

THEIR CHILDREN'S SCHOOLING MUST BE PAID FOR

LINCOLN—It is up to the state officers, who though residing in Lincoln retain their citizenship in the counties from which they were elected, and who have children in the public schools here, to pay the tuition of such children at the same rate as charged non-resident pupils, or to furnish the school board with a satisfactory reason for not doing so.

Secretary Morris of the school board discussed the matter with Governor Mickey this afternoon and it is understood to be his intention to present bills to the state officers and their deputies and employes for the tuition of their children. Governor Mickey discussed the proposition with Attorney General Norris Brown, and will take no action about paying the bill until he has looked into it further. Should the school board have a right to make the collection, the governor will pay, but it is understood that the governor and the others who have been called upon seriously doubt the legality of the claim, while they have no doubt about the injustice of it.

M'BRIEN TALKS TO STUDENTS

Speaks Highly of Work of the New School.

KEARNEY—State Superintendent J. L. McBrien spent a day at the Normal school. He was most enthusiastically greeted at chapel and addressed the school, exhorting the students and faculty to remember and not despise the day of small things. He spoke highly of the work he observed in progress in the various classes and contrasted the ancient method of completing a school building and then watching, waiting and praying for students to enter, with the present approved plan of students appearing on the ground in time to study the architecture of the building during the process of construction. Mr. McBrien gave a lucid exposition of the new school law relative to the qualifications of teachers and county superintendents, and urged the proper preparation on the part of Normal students to meet the new requirements.

The total value of the wheat crop this year is $28,940,629.90 as compared with $26,415,455.47 in 1904.

Officers May Test School Law. As a result of the attempt on the part of the school board of Lincoln to compel state officers who vote in school districts other than this one, to pay tuition for their children who are attending the public schools of this city, a test may be made of the school law which requires non-resident pupils to pay tuition. A movement is on foot to have one of the state employes bring mandamus proceedings against the school board should it refuse admittance to those children whose parents refuse to pay tuition.

CHILDREN'S CORN SHOW IS ATTRACTING ATTENTION Deputy Superintendent Bishop's corn show, to be given in Lincoln at the state farm December 14 and 15, in which 500 school boys will compete for prizes for raising the best corn and as many girls as desire may compete for prizes for cooking, is attracting much attention not only in Nebraska, but in other states. The State Board of Agriculture has contributed $100 to the enterprise. It is the intention at this show to organize a state society of agriculture to be composed of school boys. Already county and district societies are being organized and others are to be organized during the month.

Troubles Seem Never to End. NORFOLK—Fate will not allow the life of Mrs. Herman Wippen, the young woman recently restored to her parents in Boyd county, after having been kidnapped eighteen years before, to continue long without its incident of mystery. At 10 a. m. Mrs. Wippen went downtown at Butte, to shop. She left her 1-year-old baby in its trundle bed at home, sound asleep and apparently in the best of health. When she returned a half hour later she found her baby unconscious and it was soon after dead.

SHREWD SCHEMES OF ANIMALS.

Devices Which Show They Come Pretty Close to Thinking.

They were talking about instinct in animals. "I saw an exhibition of greediness and cunning by a horse," said one of them. "There were two old dirt wagon horses that had stopped for the noon meal. The driver had emptied a portion of oats into a wheelbarrow set at the head of the two horses, who still remained in the traces. The horses were to eat out of the common mess.

"Old Mr. Bay Horse, who evidently was a veteran in the dirt wagon line and possessor of a good appetite, would grab a mouthful of oats and splutter them out on the ground on his side of the wheelbarrow. After he had collected quite a pile on the ground he commenced on the common stock, and when he and his companion had cleaned out the wheelbarrow old Mr. Bay Horse turned to his private store on the ground, while his companion, from the other side of the wagon pole, looked hungrily on, but could do nothing.

"I was traveling in the mosquito country last month," said the other, "and the mosquitoes were terrible. They attacked cattle and live stock and would drive them frantic. At one place a farmer was burning brush in the field, and I noticed a dozen cows and horses clustered in the lee of the smoke made by the burning brush. They would move around as the wind shifted, always keeping in the smoke drift, where, of course, no mosquito could live. And the animals stood with closed eyes, too."

To Help Women from Cars. As the girl alighted from the trolley car she turned to her escort approvingly. "Do you know you are a man in a thousand?" she said.

"I'm delighted to hear it," he answered radantly.

"I mean about helping a girl off a car," she said hastily. "You are the first man, but one, who has helped me off the car properly for a year. Men generally grab a woman by the elbow and hoist her shoulder high in the air. That makes her look awkward and feel cross. Or else they take hold of her arm with such a grip that it hurts, rumples her sleeve and pushes it up from her wrist. Sometimes they grab her hand, and she has urgent need of both hands to hold on to her skirt and to the side of the car. Now, all she desires is that they gently but firmly slip one hand under her arm simply to steady her, help her to keep her balance, and that's all. And that's what you did."

"Well, who's the other man?" inquired her escort.

"Oh, that's Jack," she replied, blushing. "We're engaged."

Advance. "In the old days," observes the man with the dyed whiskers, "the physicians believed that blood letting was a sovereign remedy for whatever ailed a patient. They would bleed him for gunshot wounds or anything else."

"So I have read," comments the man with the hay fever.

"But, of course, as human knowledge broadened, the medical profession came to the knowledge that—"

"That if a man needed to be bled they didn't have to stick a scalpel into his arm," finished the man who had gone to fifteen specialists to be cured of rheumatism.

Had to Wake Up to Find Out. The following is told of an elderly gentleman, known as Uncle Zeke, on the West Side:

While stopping at a certain hotel in the northern part of the state he called at the office one morning, and the following conversation took place: "Landlord, the darn cats in this house made so much noise last night that I couldn't sleep a minute."

"The landlord laughingly replied: "Why didn't you get up and put them out, Zeke?"

"Well," said Uncle Zeke, "I didn't know they were there till morning."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Teetotaler. A woman who not long ago was introduced to the venerable Susan B. Anthony, asked Miss Anthony if she was not a believer in total abstinence.

"Well," said Miss Anthony, with a pleasant smile, "I am a worker for the cause of temperance; but I am no bigot. Your question reminds me of a story that I once heard about Robert Bonner the publisher.

"It appears that when some one asked him if he was a teetotaler, he replied: "I should not call myself one I had a glass of sherry when I came to New York in 1844."—The Sunday Magazine.

Elephant Struck by Train. Says the Shanghai Times: "Rangoon papers record the rare event of an elephant being run over by a train. It happened at the 106th mile on the Irrawaddy section of the railway. The elephant was straying on the line. The front portion of the engine was, of course, somewhat damaged, as is only to be expected, but nothing else occurred. There was no derailment of carriages."

Flays Free Use of Water. Dr. K. Beerwald of Berlin is opposed to the free drinking of water, so often advised. He says: "Excessive water drinking not only produces temporary disturbance, it also creates direct organic disorders; the heart and kidneys are particularly affected by the excess, and in these cases the vascular system is overcharged and the heart and kidneys overworked."

Suggestion to Motorists. It is suggested that English motorists might save trouble, time and expense by each carrying a supply of live chickens and geese on his car to replace, on the spot, those he kills.

Ask Your Neighbors. Gelatt, Pa., Nov. 6th (Special)—Mrs. H. W. Sterna, a well respected resident of Gelatt, tells in convincing words, what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for her. She says:

"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism, caused through my Kidneys being out of order. I was subject to it for years. It would take me without warning, and while the attack lasted I was so lame I could not get around. So I had to send for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took them for three days, but didn't feel much benefit, but on the fourth day I noticed a great change, the lameness in my back was gone, and the pains I used to suffer were less. I kept on with Dodd's Kidney Pills and now I am glad to say I have no lameness nor pain of any kind. I feel as if I didn't know what Rheumatism was. I shall never be without Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house, and I bless the day I first heard of them."
