

Eminent Doctors Praise its Ingredients.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John F. Fyfe of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator... makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias we have a medicinal agent which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhoea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions... and general enfeeblement, it is useful." Prof. John M. Sander, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in torpid hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding), and convulsive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

PUT UP JOKE ON NATURALIST

Scotch Professor Has Much Fun With Learned Brother.

One of the professors at a great university in Scotland recently wrote to an eastern university to the following effect:

"Walking in the dusk through the grounds of the university the other evening, my attention was arrested by a low murmuring sound near me, which was neither a hiss nor a whistle. On looking I saw a creature lying on the ground, larger than a cricket. Two antenna-like protuberances projected above the eyes. It had no wings; and the covering of its body was variegated, though certainly not like down."

"Mindful of the danger to myself, I did not venture to turn it on its back, so as to count the legs. On the ground lay a small quantity of snow-white substance, which had evidently exuded from the body. Can any of your professors identify the creature from this imperfect description?"

The naturalist connected with the eastern university fell into the trap-baited, probably, especially for him. He wrote learnedly about various insects, and concluded that the one observed must be one of the two whose long Latin names he gave.

"The antenna-like protuberances are used for burrowing in the ground," he wrote, "and these insects secrete a fluid which they have the power of ejecting to protect themselves in case of attack."

The tutor wrote again to thank the naturalist for his information, and to say he need not trouble him further, as he had fortunately observed the creature again more closely under exactly similar circumstances, and was able now to identify it himself as the vacca vulgaris, or common cow.

SHE WHO HESITATES IS LOST.

Girl Who Wants Time to Consider Sometimes Loses.

There is a Philadelphia girl who has learned that so far as a proposal is concerned he or she who hesitates is lost. A very eligible and estimable young man had long been making it evident that his attentions to her were serious, and the other evening he made a formal declaration. She could not even put forward the orthodox ruse about the suddenness of the proposal.

Being of a rather vacillating turn of mind, she said she could not give him a decided answer. "I am not at all sure that I love you," the girl declared; "you must give me time to think about it." Considerably taken aback by what he considered her lack of decision of character the young man agreed to wait a week for her final decision.

So the wooed but not yet won maiden went to her bed that night pondering deeply. About 12 o'clock she was awakened to receive a telegram, which read: "You need not mind about deciding that matter until next week; I've found a girl who said 'yes' to-night."—Philadelphia Record.

Threat of the Grave Digger.

In Castine, Maine, there used to live a man named Ordway, who numbered among various employments that of grave digger in the village cemetery. He was very loud spoken and wonderfully profane.

On one occasion he finished the task of burying a woman pauper, who had been noted in life for her corpulence. Mr. Sargent, chairman of the selectmen, overlooked paying him, so Mr. Ordway appeared at Mr. Sargent's store a day or two afterward, and began demanding his pay in no uncertain terms, to the amazement of the summer visitors who filled the store at the time.

He ended his harrangue as follows: "Look a-here, Sargent, if I don't get my pay before to-morrow night, up she comes!"

The Way to Do It.

Exercise three times a day; Feed yourself on simple fare Mostly made of bran and hay; Revel in the open air; Never give way to your fears; Sleep just like a baby; Then you'll live a hundred years—Maybe.

Wear no wraps about your throat; Do not eat late lunches; Do not rock the boat; Shy away from punches; Do not drink too many beers; Let not debts distress; Then you'll live a hundred years, More or less.

Don't dispute with men who wear Larger fists than you; Do not give way to despair, Though the rent is due; Do not waste your strength in tears; As for trouble, scout it; Then you'll live a hundred years, Doubt it?

Do not umpire baseball games; Don't for office runs; Do not call a fellow names If he has a gun; Unto wisdom lend your ears; Shun the festive schooner; Then you'll live a hundred years If you don't die sooner.—Piqua (Ohio) Call.

Mixed Dates.

Four-year-old Sarah had two uncles (living out of town) who were about to be married.

"So you are going to your uncles' weddings, dear? And where will they be married?" asked an interested friend of the family.

"One is going to be married in Washington," answered the child, "and the other in January."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Usual Way.

"Ever notice it?" queried the man who always begins his questions at the other end.

"Did I ever notice what?" asked the party who had volunteered to assist with the dialogue.

"That when one of them literary chaps feels he has a message for the world he always wants to send it 'collect'?" continued the other.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY.

A Woman Who Has Suffered Tells How to Find Relief.

The thousands of women who suffer backache, languor, urinary disorders and other kidney ills, will find comfort in the words of Mrs. Jane Farrell of 606 Ocean avenue, Jersey City, N. J., who says: "I reiterate all I have said before in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had been having heavy backaches, and my general health was affected when I began using them. My feet were swollen, my eyes puffed, and dizzy spells were frequent. Kidney action was irregular and the secretions highly colored. Today, however, I am a well woman, and I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills have made me so, and are keeping me well."

Rainfall and Sheep Raising.

In parts of Australia where the average rainfall is not more than ten inches a square mile of land will support only eight or nine sheep. In Buenos Ayres, the same area, with twenty-four inches of rain, supports 2,500 sheep.

(From the Chicago Journal, Nov. 6, 1905.)

When Commissioner Garfield went to the Chicago packers and asked permission to inspect their books, the condition was made that no information he might obtain therefrom would be used in court proceedings against them.

Mr. Garfield gave this pledge, it is stated, and the packers allowed him to study their business in all its details from the inside.

Now, it is announced, the results of his study have been turned over to the government department of justice to be employed in legal prosecution of the packers.

Commissioner Garfield would not have ventured to give the pledge that was demanded by the packers without instructions from Washington. He pledged, not his own word, but the government's. It is not his good faith, but the government's, that is in question now.

The Journal has no concern for the packers, except as they are citizens of Chicago. If it can be proved that they are guilty of engaging in a conspiracy in restraint of trade, they ought to be punished.

But their guilt, if they are guilty, must be fairly proved. They must be given a square deal.

Since the government has elevated its vision to such a height as to overlook the nest of defiant criminal trusts in New Jersey, almost within the shadow of the capitol dome, in order to fasten itself a thousand miles away upon Chicago, the government and the President cannot be too careful to avoid suspicion that they are more anxious to prosecute western offenders than offenders in the east.

Some of the methods already employed in this case have not been particularly distinguished for decency. When the government breaks into a man's house and steals his private papers, when it drags the wives of packing-house employes into court and puts them under heavy bonds, it is hardly dignified, not to say honorable, nor even respectable.

Medicine Men Retain Secrets.

Bishop Hanlon, of Uganda, in describing some of his experience in central Africa, said recently that though many of the medicine men had been converted, they could not be induced to carry their confession so far as to divulge their undoubted valuable remedies for native diseases. Some of the converted medicine men were not so reticent, but their revelations were generally worthless.

Epitaph of Pugilist.

One of the bodies removed in cutting a road through a graveyard in Nottingham, England, recently, was that of Bendigo, the old-time pugilist. His monument was a granite lion, with the inscription: "In life he was bold, brave as a lion. In death like a lamb, tranquil in Zion."

If you don't get the biggest and best for your own fault, Defiance Starch is for sale everywhere and there is positively nothing to equal it in quality or quantity.

Peculiar Royal Gift.

It was an English monarch who presented the Empress Catherine of Russia with a six-legged calf, the body of which, preserved in spirits, is still to be seen in one of the Galleries of the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg.

Hundreds of dealers say the extra quantity and superior quality of Defiance Starch is fast taking place of all other brands. Others say they cannot sell any other starch.

First Cook Book.

The earliest known cook book was printed in Venice in 1475.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 1/2-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.
