Norris Brown's Candidacy for United States Senate.

Attorney General Brown's candidacy for United States Senator seems to have struck a popular chord, especially with the country newspapers. More than sixty newspapers of the state commented favorably upon his candidacy last week. Another favorable indication that crops out in connection with the discussion of Mr. Brown's candidacy is the association with his name for Senator the name of Peter Mortensen for Governor. With such men as standard bearers on the republican ticket the opposition would be without issue.

The Farmers' Institute for the winter will be held at Broken Bow, Wed.-Thurs., Feb. 14-15. It is time that the people began preparation for making this meeting a great success. Interest and attendance will be amply repaid by the value to be gained. The people should make of the Institute a large social gathering of agricultural people for the discussion of subjects that are of value to them, and for the promotion of all their interests. It should become a permanent feature of the educational side of the community. The value of the meetings will depend on the interest of the people of this community. They can make of it what they will, a success or a failure. The state management may perform its part well, and the speakers may give valuable addresses, but unless the people attend the meetings all the work will have been done in vain. You are paying taxes to support this work. You should come to the meetings and get the value of your money back. The time of such men as come here to address the people is valuable. There must be a full house at every meeting if the community is to receive the value it should from the meetings. The progressive farmers will attend the Institute. No time need be spent in telling them to come out. But the farmers who do not usually leave the farm should be stirred up. The women and young people should be brought out. Every Institute has something of value for them, as well as for the experienced farmer. The subjects that will be discussed are of practical interest to every farmer. The men who will speak are practical and successful farmers who are recognized as leaders in their lines of work. Everybody should make plans for attending every session of the Institute.

The monthly report of state treasurer Mortensen shows that he has cancelled warrants to the amount of $501,536 for the month of January and that warrants amounting to $260,000 were bought. The receipts for the month were $850,446.

Fredrick the eighth is the title assumed by the new king of Denmark, who succeeded to his father's throne on the 30th. The late King Christian was in his 88th year and was closely related to most of the monarchs of Europe.

"The Treason of the Senate" will be set forth in the future numbers of the Cosmopolitan Magazine, beginning with the case of Depew in the March number by David Graham Phillips.

District Court Notes.

The case of the Maer Mfg. Co. vs. Dan Keelin. Trial had, verdict for plaintiff for $15.

The case of Bradley Co. vs. Martha Powers for the possession of a horse. Trial had, verdict for plaintiff and damages assessed against defendant for detention of the horse.

Guardian of Myrtle Gates. Deed ordered. Matter of investment of funds taken under advisement.

Andrews vs. Barney Kolbo et al. Default of defendants except William and Ethleen Shannon. Decree granted.

Saraka A. Bryant vs. C. T. Orr. By agreement J. F. Hutchinson's name was substituted for Orr and the judgement cost which now appears as to Orr and made to appear against Hutchinson.

Jens Mortesen vs. N. C. Tarrington et al. This case was one for which the plaintiff sued a number of his neighbors, including his son-in-law for $10,000 damages. The trouble grew out of a lynching case. It appears that last summer the neighbors decided that Mortesen should be chastised for mistreatment of his wife. One night a number gathered at his place of residence equipped with a rope and horse whips and administered to him a punishment such as they deemed he deserved. The men were arrested at the time and fined for the fracture of the law. Not feeling sufficiently avenged Mr. Mortesen brought suit against them for damages. The case was tried by jury. Attorneys Sullivan and Johnson appeared for the plaintiff and Judge Wall and J. R. Dean for the defendants. The jury, after being out forty eight hours failed to reach a verdict and was discharged. We understand that eleven of the twelve were in favor of allowing damages ranging from $500 to $800. But one was evidently of the opinion that a husband who mistreats his wife as was alleged in this case was not entitled to any damages, although that was not allowed as evidence in the case.

The case of R. A. Holeman vs. Wm. Hickenbottom was a case in which the plaintiff sued for the value of a colt that died from being cut in a wire fence, alleging that Hickenbottom's mules had caused. Verdict for plaintiff for $24.11 and costs.

The case of R. E. Brega vs. Benson & Myers was decided in favor of plaintiff for $37.50.

Fredrick Bently vs. Geo. Kaelin et al, compromised by Kaelin paying $62.50.

The case of Woods vs. Talbot was dismissed on compromise at cost of plaintiff.

State vs. J. G. Mote, dismissed.

J. C. Francis & Gwinn vs. Claud E. Bates, continued by agreement.

Clara Groff vs. Henry Groff, decree as prayed.

Henry Ward Moore vs. William H. Moore, partition of premises granted.

State vs. Sanderson. Trial by jury. Verdict, not guilty.

Case of Amsberry vs. Broken Bow Business College, receiver given order to dispose or lease property.

Road case of Overseer vs. Pat Riley. Jury waived. Trial had. Matter taken under advisement by court.

A Good Showing.

The latest figures compiled by the State Bureau of Statistics show the total combined products of farm and factory in Nebraska during 1905 to have been worth $511,431,476.42 as compared with $501,582,190.63 for 1904, which indicates a ten million dollar increase each year. The largest individual item in this compilation is manufactured products at $177,155,953. Live stock is valued at $122,112,084; corn, $87,485,297; winter wheat, $25,641,223; spring wheat, $3,299,406; oats, $19,638,219; barley, $2,192,742; rye, $1,484,707. The dairy products totaled in value $11,259,984 and poultry products $10,215,512. The poultry figures are flattering to those engaged in that industry. They do not, of course, include values of blooded and fancy poultry. Other items making up the tabulation are alfalfa, sugar beets, hay, potatoes and "other soil crops."

These interesting facts are to be found in quarterly bulletin No. 7, issued by the Bureau.

Ahead the Farmers' Institute.

The business men of Broken Bow got together Monday evening at the Court house with G. W. Apple as Chairman and appointed a committee composed of L. H. Jewett, Emerson Purcell and A. H. Vanlandingham to solicit funds for the expense of the Farmers' Institute to be held in

For Lung Troubles

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral certainly cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption. And it certainly strengthens weak throats and weak lungs. There can be no mistake about this. You know it is true. And your own doctor will say so.

"My little boy had a terrible cough. I tried everything I could hear of but in vain until I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first night he was better, and he steadily improved until he was perfectly well."—Mrs. S. J. BRYANT, ALTON, Ill.

Keep the bowels regular with Ayer's Pills and thus hasten recovery.

Broken Bow, Wednesday and Thursday, February 14th and 15th. They also instructed the committee to request the business men of Broken Bow to close their places of business between the hours of 1:30 and 4:00 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and attend the Institute and we have no doubt but what the business men will do this.

The committee were also instructed to arrange for a basket dinner on Thursday to which the farmers and their wives, together with the business men and their wives, will be invited to bring well filled baskets for a general dinner, the business men to furnish coffee with trimmings. It is expected that this will be a general good time.

We are also pleased to announce that F. W. Hayes of this city will give to the boy under 16 years of age writing the best essay on "Why a boy should remain on the farm" his pick of any pair of shoes in his store. Also the same premium to the girl under 16 years of age for best essay on same subject.

The Institute management will supplement this last affair by Mr. Hayes by giving $2.00 each for 2nd best essay as above. Essays to be written by boys and girls now resident on the farm and ranch. If away from home attending school does not bar them from competition.

We also desire to give the boys and girls in town a chance to stand up for the town and city. The same prizes will be offered as for above essays on the subject: "Why a boy should go to the town and city," and "Why a girl should go to the town and city." In this instance the Institute will pay for the shoes selected of Mr. Hayes.

J. D. REAM, President. WILLIS CADWELL, Secretary.

The Central Telephone Company. The Central Telephone Co., has paid out for construction, repairs and office labor since last May to January 1, in round numbers, $21,000. Of this amount $14,000 has been used in constructing new lines, $3,000 for repairs and $4,000 for office help. Mr. Currie thought, ten days ago, that the work of extension was about complete, and in order to curtail expenses discharged all of the help used in construction, except those actually necessary to keep the lines in repair. But in that he was mistaken. Demands for several new lines in various parts made it necessary to put on a full force of men again this week, furnishing employment for all his former men and a number more. The new lines the company have put in are all of a permanent nature and will last for years. Mr Currie is making a specialty of furnishing the best possible service and in several instances has found it necessary to construct separate lines to localities in order to give satisfactory service to Broken Bow, where the local lines are insufficient. Mr. Currie has now arranged with all the mutual lines of the county with one exception for switch board connections with Broken Bow, and he is in every way encouraging communities in the county to construct their own lines. Where the location will admit of it he is leasing the use of his poles to localities for local lines and charging less rental than it would cost them to put in their own poles without taking into consideration the cost of maintaining them.

Surprise Party.

On last Saturday evening, January 26th, a pleasant surprise party was given at the home of Mr. W. W. Bishops five miles northeast of Broken Bow. Games were played and the best of music was furnished. At 11 o'clock a lunch was served. There were quite a number invited that were unable to be there on account of sickness. There were 34 present being enough to have a good time, all returning home soon after midnight. One who was there.

Married.

At the M. E. parsonage Saturday night, January 27, 1906, Mr. Harry Townley of Seneca, Nebr., and Miss Eva Townley Benjamin of Broken Bow, Rev. Allen Chamberlain officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. S. Benjamin. She has grown up in our midst. She is a lady of culture and refinement and enjoys the esteem of a large circle of friends. She is a professional nurse, having given much of her time for several years past to that profession. The groom has a cattle ranch in the vicinity of Seneca, where he enjoys the respect and confidence of his neighbors and business associates. The wedding was a quiet one and in fact a surprise on Judge Benjamin and wife as they were not apprised of the date until after the ceremony was performed, although they knew the wedding was pending. The contracting parties left on the midnight train Saturday night for Seneca where they will make their home.

We join with the many friends in extending congratulations.

Railroad Prospects

The people of the South Loup, in the vicinity of Georgetown and Callaway are making an effort to have the U. P. railroad extend from Pleasanton to Callaway.

A subscription is being taken in the form of a note payable in case the Callaway Northwestern Railroad company extends its lines from Pleasanton to Callaway by the Loup valley. The note is made payable to the new company. At a meeting held recently at Georgetown a number of subscriptions were taken. Meetings will be held at other points along the proposed route with the view of securing funds. P. F. Campbell, of Georgetown, is one of the promoters in his locality.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE PROGRAM.

Wednesday and Thursday, February 14th and 15th, 1906.

- WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON. 1:30—Economic Pork Production. Mr. O. Hull, Alma, Neb. Profitable Dairying. Ex-Gov. W. A. Poynter, Lincoln. WEDNESDAY EVENING. 7:30—Growing Alfalfa and Bromo Grass. Mr. Hull. Essentials of Successful Farming in Nebraska. Mr. Poynter. THURSDAY MORNING. 10:00—The Founder Type of Beef Steer. Mr. W. D. McKee, Lincoln. Trees that Grow in Western Nebraska. Mr. C. A. Scott, Halsey. THURSDAY AFTERNOON. 1:30—Raising Poultry. Mr. McKee. Windbreaks and Shelter Belts. Mr. Scott. WILLIS CALDWELL, Secretary.

Mr. O. Hull, of Alma, Neb., Nebraska Farmers' Institute Lecturer, was born in Pennsylvania and moved to Iowa with his parent at an early age. He was educated in the public schools of that state and later took a three years course in a Normal school. After finishing this course he taught school in his own state for seven years, and then resigned to take up the profession that had been persistently calling to him to enter its ranks. Mr. Hull became a farmer as well as a student and instructor.

In 1876 Mr. Hull settled in Lancaster county, Nebraska, where in 16 years he accumulated a farm of 240 acres. He later moved to Harlan county where he has a farm of nearly twice the size of the former one. Since moving to Western Nebraska Mr. Hull has made a special study of methods for conserving soil moisture and has come to have much faith in the possibilities of farming with profit during even the driest seasons in Western Nebraska.

Mr. Hull has been especially successful in three lines of farming: Hog raising, growing alfalfa and proper tillage of the soil. He was able to grow alfalfa successfully where others were not, because he understood the secrets of the soil and was able to till it as to secure the proper seed bed. His success in hog raising was largely the result of the pasture afforded by his alfalfa fields. It is because of his unusual success in these lines and his ability to tell others how he accomplished this work that he was invited to a place on the Farmer's Institute force. His ability was recognized in 1894 and 1896 when his neighbors sent him to represent them in the Nebraska Legislature. He has been on the Institute force three seasons and has given excellent satisfaction. Mr. Hull is one of the men who has done the things of which he speaks. His subjects are: Economic Pork Production. Alfalfa Culture. Soil Tillage.
