Chris Dessen, of Milburn, was a city visitor Tuesday. He remembered the REPUBLICAN office with a business call.

A. J. Elliott, of the Grand Central, accompanied Frank Norton to Denver this morning, where the latter goes for treatment.

S. Baker and family, the Singer Sewing Machine agents, who have been living in the city for several months left Tuesday for Hastings.

J. G. VanCott has recently added the Warren shelving on one side of his hardware store which vey materially improves the appearance of the store.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Norcutt celebrated their silver wedding anniversary last Friday. Their children presented them with a set of silver knives and forks in honor of the occasion.

J. H. Kerr, of Ansley, was a city visitor Monday. He returned recently from a two weeks trip to Galveston, Texas for recreation and rest. He reports having enjoyed the trip very much.

The republican state central committee will meet at Lincoln April 5th to fix upon the date of the state convention and at the same time will consider the primary election question now being discussed.

E. W. Westervelt, better known as "Gene," publisher of the Scotts Bluff Republican made a business trip to Broken Bow Sunday, returning Monday night. The REPUBLICAN acknowledges a business call.

Geo. Houser, of Dunning, was a city visitor the first of the week. The REPUBLICAN acknowledges a friendly call. Mr. Houser in addition to holding his homestead is selling the Singer Sewing Machine.

L. W. Amsberry, the son of ye editor, who has been visiting at home for the past month left Monday night for Spokane, Washington where he has been assigned work on the O. R. & N. railroad on the engineer force commencing April 1st.

The presence of Mrs. McConnell and her son, Edward, at the tabernacle last night added interest to the occasion. The boy assisted in the music by playing the tenor and bass drums. Mrs. McConnell sang a duett with Mr. Jones. They arrived from the south yesterday.

Rev. W. T. Powers, of Weisert, who made this office a social call Tuesday, reports the death of the three months old child of Wm McCaslin's last week. He preached the funeral sermon last Friday at the residence. The remains were laid to rest in the Kopp Cemetery.

Evangelist McConnell made his first appeal for seekers to come forward Sunday night. There were about thirty who manifested a desire to change their way of living. The total number who have come forward this week is 103. There were 44 last night.

Peter Logue who moved to Basin, Wyoming the first of the year, writes that a cold wave accompanied by a snow storm visited that locality recently and that the thermometer registered as low as 42 degrees. He also reports that he has had work at the carpenter trade ever since he reached there at 50 cents an hour.

W. H. Dorris, of this city, received the sad intelligence of the death of his son, Jas. L. Dorris, at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who was killed on the 21st by a gas explosion. He was foreman of the electric light plant at Cedar Rapids and was 36 years old.

Attorney J. E. Wilson, who recently came here from Wahoo, has moved his family here. For the present they are located on the Squires farm a few miles east of town they bought a few weeks ago. He could not get a house in the city. His office is in the Myers & Gleim block.

The inclemency of the weather last week was a dampener on all kinds of traffic and trade, and the usually large Saturday visitors to Broken Bow were noticeably absent. Roads in the country have assumed their usual early-spring-like condition and the farmer man feels more inclined to pose by the fire-side than hob-nob with cronies on the streets of the county seat.

At the last session of the county board they discovered that a recent law does away with the special road commissioner to examine and report on road petitions and that instead a member of the board shall perform that duty. In compliance with that provision of the law the members of the board will act in the capacity of commissioner in their respective districts. For several years past R. W. Buckner has been acting as commissioner.

The revival meetings being conducted in the Tabernacle by Evangelist Lincoln McConnell and his musical director, Loren Jones, continues with unabated interest. Mr. McConnell has the happy faculty of presenting gospel truth in such a forcible yet interesting manner that the most indifferent are attracted to his meetings. Mr. McConnell is one of the closest reasoners and most practical preachers it has been our privilege to hear. His sermons are neither sensational nor sympathetic. His power is in his logical reasoning and direct appeals to the better judgement of men.

Jas. Coffman, of Gates, who went to West Virginia about six months ago with his family is back in Custer County looking for a farm to rent. He bought a forty acre farm in Virginia with a view of remaining there permanently, but his two older children, Amanda and Edgar were not long in concluding that Custer county was far better for them than their newly adopted home and they came back. Shortly afterwards Mr. Coffman had an opportunity to sell his farm for what it cost him and being happy over the chance he sold and counts himself fortunate to get back without being out any more than his car fare for himself and family.

Program and Basket Supper.
The Prairie Center school, six miles west of Broken Bow, will give a big program and basket supper at this school house on the last day of school, Thursday night, April 5th. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the suffering Japanese.

This is a laudable enterprise and every one who possibly can should patronize this enterprise. It has only been a few years since our people were on the charity of the public and we should be glad of the opportunity to help those in distress.

Teachers, read this.
Arrangements have been made to have the April examinations held at Sargent and Callaway as well as at Broken Bow. This is planned expressly to accommodate those teachers who can either reach Sargent or Callaway more easily than Broken Bow. The examination will be exactly the same, and will be conducted in the same manner. As all answer papers are sent to the state superintendent the gradings must be the same. Those of our teachers who notice this article may confer quite a favor on other teachers by calling their attention to it. It is not the purpose to have the succeeding examinations at these points, but only for the month of April. The state superintendent urges all who can to take the examinations early in the year, for at least two reasons: First, in order that any who fail on one or more of the "five essentials" may have time to make up their deficiency and be ready for the fall schools; and second, to relieve the State Examining Board of a part of the mass of work which will inevitably come upon them during the fall months. Let all who can, be on hand for the April examinations. The date will be April 20 and 21, the third Friday and Saturday in the month.
H. M. PINCKNEY, Co. Supt.

The Burlington Hotel Changes Hands.

C. H. Kennedy has purchased Dr. Bass' interests in the Burlington Hotel. The deal was closed yesterday and Mr. Kennedy took charge this morning. Mr. Kennedy is an experienced hotel man and knows how to cater to the public. His long connection with the Commercial of this city gives him an extensive as well as favorable acquaintance with the public and we predict his old customers will not be long in finding him at the Burlington. The REPUBLICAN predicts success for the new management.

A Fund for the Japs.

In order that the people of Broken Bow and vicinity may have an opportunity to contribute to this call for help the REPUBLICAN will receive such contributions that any may be disposed to make and forward the same to F. M. Sisson, Chaplain of the First Regiment, Nebraska National Guards, at South Omaha, who has been appointed to take charge of the Nebraska contributions.

From week to week we will publish the names and amounts contributed—if a sufficient response justifies it.
