

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-
IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; this has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

An Excellent Motto.
A young man asks for a motto to live up to. All right, I'll give him the best he ever had or heard of—namely: Finish What You Have on Hand.—New York Press.

To Launder White Silk Handkerchiefs. Do not put white silk handkerchiefs in the ordinary wash as they are easily laundered at home. Make a strong lather of Ivory Soap and water, but do not rub the soap on the handkerchief or use soda. Rinse and iron while damp with a moderately hot iron.

Blessings Must Be Worked For. You can't get blessings without working for them. God hid the gold in the earth. He did not scatter it in the roadways.—Exchange.

Chicago, Ill.—The Passenger Department of the Chicago & North Western Railway announces that the opening of the Wind River or Shoshone Reservation public lands in Wyoming has been postponed until August 15, 1906, by joint resolution of congress.

Railroad construction to the Reservation border is being pushed rapidly, and will probably be completed within a few weeks.

Weight of Engines. The average weight of a stationary gas engine, in proportion to its horsepower, is only about one-fourth as great as that of a steam engine.

They Stand Alone. Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections, whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guarantee of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent or secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted freely, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Remedy for Sleeplessness. There are few remedies for sleeplessness like a warm bath taken at bedtime and a glass of hot milk slowly sipped before lying down. If these fail there is serious trouble, which the family doctor ought to care for.

The Happiest Time is Now

By SAMUEL LÖVER

ALK not to me of future bliss!
Talk not to me of joys gone by!
For us, the happiest hour is this,
When love bids time to fly:
The future—doubt may overcast,
To shadow Hope's young brow;
Oblivion's veil may shroud the past—
The happiest time is now!

The flowers in spicy vases thrown,
Some odor yet exhale,
Their fragrance, e'er the bloom was flown,
Breathed sweeter on the gale:
Like faded flowers, each parted bliss
Let memory keep—but how
Can joy that's past be like to this?
The happiest time is now.

Unmarked our course before us lies
O'er time's eternal tide;
And soon the sparkling ripple dies
We raise, as on we glide.
Our bark the brightest bubbles fling
For ever from the prow;—
Then let us gayly sail and sing
"The happiest time is now!"

THE HUMBLE CLOCK. IN THE HOLY LAND

WHY IN SOME WAYS TIMEPIECE IS REMARKABLE.

Some Few Facts, Not to Be Denied, That Come Within the Scope of a Dignified Article—Is Noticeably Sensitive.

Did you ever take time to consider the clock? You should have done so, if you have not, seeing the clock gives you the time whenever you ask it.

(No, this is no joke. It is a plain statement of fact.)

The clock is so sensitive that it constantly keeps its hands before its face. This is due to the fact that through no fault of its own it has been doing time for many years in the most public manner. It may be that as the face of the clock has no eyes, nor mouth, nor nose, nor chin, nor cheeks, nor any of the usual facial appurtenances, it keeps its hands over it to hide these defects. But this can scarcely be, we fancy, because its hands have no fingers nor thumbs, nor has it any arms, and any attempt to conceal one defect would only expose another.

Most clocks have only two hands, but many have three, and it is somewhat remarkable, anatomically as well as numerically, that the third hand is the second hand. It may also be remarked that the minute hand is not the minute hand for it is longer than the hour hand.

The clock has neither feet nor legs, but it runs just the same. It may be fast or slow, but it does not walk. It always runs, and it never runs up. It runs down unless it is kept running round. Providence wisely did not give feet to the clock.

The clock has a key, but no lock, and for that reason even the most ignorant person never tries to open a clock with the key.

Some clocks strike and some do not, but no clock ever strikes with its hands. Just why a clock should be so peculiar is no affair of ours.

(Of course this is no joke. The striking of a clock may be an affair of hours, but it is not spelled the same way. We are not trying to be funny. This is a dignified article. Please do not interrupt us again.)

That passage in Scripture which says, "By their works shall ye know them" does not refer to clocks, but it might well have done so, because that is the way a good clock is known.

The clock speaks a universal language, and no matter whether it is a German clock, or French, or Spanish, or Italian, it can tell you the time just as distinctly as if it were plain Yankee.

The clock differs from all other human affairs in that while their operations end when they are wound up, the clock's do not begin until they are wound up.

There are no clocks in heaven, because there is no time there. Neither is there any night, and an eight day clock wouldn't know when to stop.—New York Herald.

Relic of "Private Coinage."
Mrs. Fred Watson of Manchester, N. H., is the owner of a small octagonal 25-cent piece, which is dated 1870. This piece was made and presented to Mrs. Watson by Charles Holbrook, a New Hampshire man, who went into mining in California many years since. Considerable of this "private coinage" was distributed among Mr. Holbrook's friends.

Aged Woman's Wonderful Escape.
Few people of 87 years escape from an accident as easily as did Mrs. Lucinda Howe of Brattleboro, Vt. While throwing a broken dish down a 60-foot embankment, she slipped and fell the whose distance to the bottom of the bluff, yet she escaped with scarcely a scratch.

RESEARCHES OF INTENSE INTEREST IN PALESTINE.

Palace Believed to Have Been Built by Simon the Maccabee, One of the Latest Discoveries—Plea for Funds to Carry on Work.

"Still another interesting and late discovery is what is regarded by the excavator as a palace built by Simon the Maccabee. An account of the siege and conquest of the city by this man is graphically given in I. Macc. 13. For many reasons, one of which is the finding of an imprecatory inscription calling down destruction upon Simon himself, this is thought to be the very place occupied by this intrepid Maccabean leader. The castle is a mammoth affair and there is a large courtyard just inside the gateway. There are numbers of chambers, the use of which is only a conjecture at present, as some of them have no openings, and as nothing has been found within them to point to their purpose. The most interesting part of this palace is a large pillared hall, which, Mr. Macalister thinks, shows how Samson destroyed the Philistines in the Temple of Dagon. The stone pillar bases, some of which were found, were the supports, he believes, of wooden posts which, in turn, bore up the beams of the roof. By pushing these posts from stones on which they rested, the ruin of the temple would be easily accomplished.

"Let us hope that men of means may see to it that funds are furnished for the further prosecution of this work, and that at the earliest possible moment the splendid work now being done by the University of Chicago in the Holy Land itself. The Palestine Exploration Fund and other societies are worthy of all honor for what they have done and are doing to-day, but America ought not to be content to allow all the labor and all the honor to be accredited to other nations. Let America be aroused and do her part in this worthy and most wonderful work."—Rev. Llewellyn L. Henson, D. D., in "Records of the Past."

Limit of Steadiness.
Charles G. Gates, lurching at the New York Athletic club, said of success:

"I think that in analyses of success too much credit is given to plodding, to regularity, to steadiness. While the regular, steady plodder is never idle, it is also true of him that he is seldom on fire with energy and zeal. "Plodding is very well when spurts of fiery zeal diversify it. Otherwise it is not apt to land a man among the millionaires.

"I remember when I lived in St. Louis getting a job for one of these steady, plodding chaps.

"A month or so afterward, meeting the man for whom the plodder worked, I said:

"Well, how is Harry doing?"
"Oh, all right, I guess," the man answered.

"There was no enthusiasm in his voice and so, to kindly him up, I said: "Isn't he sober? Isn't he steady?"

"Steady?" said the man. "Indeed, he is steady. He's mighty steady. In fact, if he was much steadier he wouldn't move at all."

Evigues Canada.
There is a great deal of gush about the charming and all-conquering American girl. What is the truth about this much-lauded damsel? The most attractive American is she who is educated abroad, who imitates the voice of the English woman and the dress of the French woman, and who uses the money accruing from Chicago pork or New York stocks to buy, so far as such things may be bought, the Old World graces of speech and attire.—Canadian Magazine.
