On Monday, June 4th, 1906, when the summer breezes were wafting the perfume of flowers hither and yon and all nature was gay and the spirits of youth were buoyant, Mr. Albert V. Giddings and Miss Ester J. Turner, of Merna, came to Broken Bow and, as their "two hearts beat as one," and their thoughts in the same channel run, they hied them henceforth to the court house and there within the sacred precincts of Judge Humphrey's office were united in marriage, the judge pronouncing the magic words.

Frank G. Jones arrived last Friday with a car load of both driving and work horses, all broke, which he has stabled at the Grand Central barn and selling at a reasonable figure. It is an all-around good bunch.

Yesterday was one of the real windy days and the dust was rampant—up the street, around the corner and into the business houses by the handful. And no street sprinkler which would have allayed the distress—some. Today is pleasant and the streets almost muddy from the effects of the sprinkler.

At the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. J. H. Swope, in Broken Bow, on Tuesday, June 5th, at 5 o'clock p. m., Mr. B. L. Swope and Miss Margeurite M. Woods, recently of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were united in marriage, Rev. J. R. Teagarden officiating. This happy event will certainly inspire Mr. Swope to pitch balls in today's game that will paralyze the Callaway bunch.

We are in receipt of a communication from Nye & Buchanan, live stock commission merchants at South Omaha, who say: "We understand you will have stock to ship this season," etc. Well, Messrs. Nye & Buchanan, early this spring we did have visions of waxing wealthy from the sale of stock, but that was when we put nice, fresh eggs in the incubator, which was not, however, enjoying good health—or something—and only thirty birds materialized when there should have been over four hundred chirpers, hence it will not be convenient for us to consign several car loads to the South Omaha firm, a fact which we very much regret.

A serious smash-up by a runaway horse was narrowly averted last Saturday by the coolness of Miss Faith Gutterson, a graduate of the Broken Bow High school this year. She, in company with Will Martin, was out riding and while coming down a hill on the north side the hold-back straps gave away and the buggy crowded against the horse which at once started to run. Fortunately Miss G., held the lines as Mr. Martin was thrown from the vehicle, and she guided the animal in the middle of the road although running at it best. It finally reduced speed and was driven into a vacant lot and stopped. Both tugs had become unhooked and during the run Miss Gutterson had pulled the buggy by the lines. Mr. Martin was not injured by the fall and the lady's miraculous escape was due to her bravery and self-possession.

L. E. Cole, the undertaker, was called to Gates Sunday to prepare the bodies of Miss Swick and Howard Athey for burial.

J. A. O. Thomas, the laundryman, bought the laundry property last week, consideration $1000. Mr. Thomas contemplates raising the building above high water mark soon and enlarging it to make more room for his increasing business.

There was a change in the time of arrival and departure of passenger train No. 44, last Sunday. Its time to leave Broken Bow is now 11:55 p. m., which is one hour and nineteen minutes later than formerly. Freight train No. 48 also changed from 1:25 p. m. to 2:55 p. m.

Mrs. W. W. Andress has taken charge of the Reneau building, on the North side, which will be fitted up for roomers and boarders, with lunch room attached. This will be done with a view to make it first-class and one which will readily find favor with all who prefer to patronize a clean and up-to-date place.

George Bray, manager of the Broken Bow baseball team was able to attend to business again Monday after a sickness of five days. He accompanied his worthies to Callaway last week and the rough roads and soaking by rain was several scores too many for his constitution and he was fanned out by a curve of inflammation of the bowels.

Tomorrow night Lincoln McConnell will deliver a lecture at the Opera house entitled: "Sampson's Riddle or the Lion Killers." Rev. McConnell, as an orator and entertainer, needs no introduction to a Broken Bow audience as his ability in that line is well-known here. Of the lecture the newspapers, where it has been delivered, speak in the very highest terms of it and advise all—if opportunity presents itself—to hear it and enjoy a lecture that pleases.

Obituary.

Elijah Howard Athey was born in Indiana and died at Gates, Nebraska, Sunday morning, June 3rd, 1906, after an illness of three days, aged 26 years, 4 months and 18 days.

He was brought by his parents to this state and county when about 3 years old. Howard has always been an obedient, loving son and it is hard for his parents, sister and brothers to give him up but they have this great consolation that if they are faithful until the end of this life that they will meet him "where there will be no more parting from those that we love." DEATH REMOVES TWO.

Two Young People Pass Away Within Two Hours of Each Other.

ATHEY—SWICK—Sunday morning, June 3, 1906, Elijah Howard Athey, and Alta Swick died at Gates, twenty-miles north of Broken Bow. Miss Swick who was 14 years old was taken sick last Wednesday noon and Howard Athey was taken sick on the following Friday noon.

The morning following the day of taking sick each became unconscious and remained so until their death.

They both had the same symptoms, severe vomiting and remained in great agony until death relieved them.

When taken sick both were at the home of Stillman Gates, but Miss Swick was taken home.

Howard Athey was farming the Gates place and Miss Swick, who lived close by went over to help with the house work as her grandmother was sick.

That they ate something that poisoned them is generally conceded. They eat of canned corn and pickles either of which may have contained the poison. Three doctors were called, Wamsley, of West Union, Fence-maker, of Sargent, and Pennington, of Broken Bow. The two former pronounced it poison, but neither were able to relieve the patients. Dr. Pennington held that it was spinal trouble, cerebro-spinal meningitis.

The pickles of which they had been eating were preserved in vinegar made of acid.

The theory of the poison from eating the pickles is more generally believed as both vomited pickles, but when Dr. Pennington saw them they were not vomiting but were in great agony.

Miss Swick was taken sick two days before Athey and died about two hours before he died, at 7:40 a. m. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Athey of this city and had grown to manhood in the county. He with his parents had been residents of the county 24 years. He was highly respected by all who knew him. His remains were brought to the city Monday and the funeral held Tuesday at 2:30 in the M. E. church. Rev. Chamberlain preached the sermon. His remains were laid to rest in the Broken Bow cemetery. He leaves parents, five brothers and one sister to mourn his death.

Miss Swick was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Swick of Gates, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. She was buried in the Gates cemetery Monday. Rev. Mitchell, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city preached the funeral.
