The young man should start life right. It is important to him that his first vote shall be right. He should be for something—not simply against something like a "knocker," which is the true name of a fusionist, and fusionist is a democrat and any old thing. The republicans have secured a reputation for doing something that have given the state a good administration, making its name one that all can be proud to say that they are from its fertile acres, and enterprising cities, in spite of the slurs and attempts to tear down by the democrats and populists. The young voter who follows in their lead will be making his record on the sands of time, and the only consolation he will have in the future will be that it can easily be rubbed out, but he will have to start all over again. Start right, and build up for the future of yourself and your state by following the lead of the republicans.

Edison declares that he has made a discovery which will bring automobiles within the reach of everybody. He has made many discoveries which promised to do much for humanity—without great cost—but some way the patents and ways to make the improvements have gotten into the hands of great corporations who preferred to sell fewer and thus make more money than to put out to the multitude at a fair profit above the actual cost.

That county in Nebraska which hasn't "a favorite son" as a candidate for either United States Senator or governor don't amount to much. But then there's only three or four counties in the state entitled to such a classification. Custer county is honored with the opportunity of presenting a candidate for senator whose reputation is state wide and who is especially qualified to fill the high position.

Norris Brown's candidacy for the United States senate is being well handled by his home committee and let the winning candidate before the state convention, be who he may, will know that Brown was in the race.

It begins to look as if the democrats would have to nominate Bryan in order to get rid of Hearst. This may not be flattering the latter, but it shows his power in the land, and how even his own party fears it.

Editor Rosewater was given a reception on his arrival home from Rome Tuesday by the employees on the Bee and the Bee building, in which they expressed their loyalty to his candidacy for U. S. Senator.

The graduating exercises have been concluded in most of the cities in this country and the recipients of diplomas have gone forth to get the living which the world owes 'em.

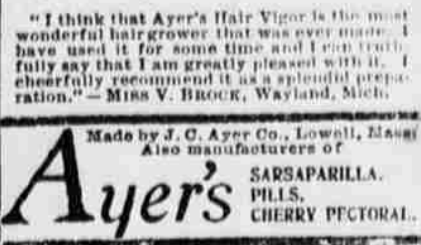

Chas. S. Weston former state auditor of the state is added to the list of candidates for governor before the Republican State conventions.

Ladies Exchange.

The ladies exchange of the Baptist church will hold a pie and cake sale at Sheppard & Burk's store, Saturday July 7.

Is It Your Own Hair?

Do you pin your hat to your own hair? Can't do it? Haven't enough hair? It must be you do not know Ayer's Hair Vigor! Here's an introduction! May the acquaintance result in a heavy growth of rich, thick, glossy hair! And we know you'll never be gray.

A Substantial Improvement. The property owners on south side of main street are having a cement walk put down. The new walk includes the property Konkel & Mullins the Myers and Glenn block, C. H. Holcomb. A brick crossing will be put in to connect with the court house block.

More New Furniture. S. P. Groat & Co., have received another car load of fine furniture to add to their already large stock. S. P. Groat & Co., now have the largest stock and best assortment of furniture ever brought to Broken Bow. This firm proposes to keep their stock up to the high standard now attained in order to meet the demands of the public, if they have to ship in goods by the train load. They bought stock at the manufacturer's wholesale prices and are prepared to compete with Omaha and Lincoln prices.

Died. Robert Cooper, from the east part of the county, who has been stopping with his brother, Scott of this city, died Monday with consumption. Senator Currie took him out to Colorado last summer with hopes of improving his health but the trip did not prove of lasting benefit. His remains were laid to rest in the Broken Bow cemetery yesterday.

A Picnic Party. A party of twenty, members of the Baptist Sunday school, left yesterday morning with three teams, provisions and camping outfit for a week's outing on the Middle Loup. The young people are in charge of Mesdames Cadwell, Smith and Amberry. The other members of the party are Misses Eva Cadwell, Dora King, Florence Kimberling Mildred Hall, Grace Cole, Laura Renstahl, Lillie Amberry and Masters Ross Armour, Lawrence Hollandsworth, Ed. Scott, John White, Fred Purcell, Roy Leonard, Earl John, Ray and Gaius Cadwell. They will remain over the 4th of July. Others are expected to join them next week.

Lee Park Locals. The dry weather continues in this section and the prevailing talk is will we have a drouth or a crop. Corn is looking remarkably well considering the dry weather as we have had but one rain since the corn was planted except a few light mists.

Fall wheat and oats have been hurt some on account of the dry weather. Misses Hattie Michols and Zella Eastman are attending the summer school at Broken Bow.

Corn is being laid by and the later pieces gone over the first and second times. Pastures are beginning to show the effects of the dry weather.

Mrs. Johnson is much improved in health since her return from St. Paul, where she went for treatment. A quiet surprise party was had at Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson's the 16th inst., it being Mr. F.'s birthday.

The Johnson boys are home on a visit from their western lands in Rock county this state. Mrs. Freeman is now able to be around after an illness of several months.

Three Burglars in Jail. Thos. Wade, Jack Bryan and Thomas Martin are guests of Sheriff Richardson. He brought them from Kearney Sunday morning. They were turned over to him by the chief of police at Kearney who had arrested them as suspicious characters.

They were engaged in selling clothing at auction on the streets. As some of the clothing in their possession bore the brand of John Moran at Callaway he was notified. On reaching Kearney he identified the clothing in their possession and telephoned for Sheriff Richardson, who chanced to be in the southwest part of the county, who went and brought them to Broken Bow. Mr. Moran does not know when the goods were taken but thinks it was about June 14. It is thought the burglars must have entered the store by means of a skeleton key. They will have their preliminary Saturday before Judge Humphrey.

U. B. Church. Next Saturday and Thursday will occur the last Quarterly meeting for this conference year. Quarterly conference Saturday, at 3 p. m. Preaching by the Presiding Elder, Sunday morning. Preaching by the pastor in the evening. L. L. EPLEY, Pastor.

Notice to the Public. Geo. Wiltmouth requests us to warn all parties against breaking into his house in his absence, in which is included his wife, Alice Wiltmouth who left his bed and board Monday for parts unknown to him.

Buggies.

Talk about buggies—we've been to the factories in more states than one where they make buggies, and we know what it costs to make a buggy. A cheap buggy can be made and sold at retail for $35. It is JUST AS GOOD FOR THE MONEY as you can buy, but it is not the buggy a sensible person would buy.

2nd. The agreement by a dealer to replace a defective part, or repaint, amounts to nothing. It is only a cheap way of taking you unawares. For example—a party in Iowa recently bought a buggy, the dealer agreeing to replace any defective part. Having a new buggy the husband desired to please his wife and they took a drive in the new buggy. Going down hill the pole broke. The buggy, of course, run onto the team which ran away. The wife was thrown from the buggy, seriously hurt, never regained consciousness and died in a few days. The dealer of course said he was sorry and if the husband would come over to his buggy emporium he could have a new pole, and it wouldn't cost him a cent. He always made his word good.

I bought a buggy tongue once in Broken Bow, had a team of wild horses hitched to it, a little strain on that tongue in front of a business house in Broken Bow, snapped the tongue in the middle. The team became frightened and only by luck was a runaway prevented, yet that buggy tongue was replaced by the dealer, free.

No, sir, don't let a dealer talk to you about a cheap buggy, or the best buggy for the money. There is only one kind of buggy to buy and that is one that has absolutely good material throughout. The tongue must be the best grade hickory and stand the strain of two heavy men standing on the middle of it with the neck-yoke end raised at least one and one-half or two feet from the floor. Then the wheels, the box and every iron must be of first-class material. No cast iron or cheap malleable-wrought, but iron that will stand a heavy strain; that may bend under severe pressure, but that will not break.

Now, how can you know that you are getting a buggy of this nature only by reputation of the manufacturer? I visited buggy factories that have a reputation for making good buggies for the money, and I was advised by buggy dealers and manufacturers to put in all kinds of buggies, from cheap to high priced buggies. "No," I said, "I don't want a cheap buggy, I don't care how good it is for the money, because it will not give satisfaction and I do not propose to run a repair shop and paint shop to replace poor material just because there is money in it and people want cheap buggies." So I looked further and until I found a factory that had a reputation for putting out nothing but good buggies.

Other factories and dealers—whether they used or sold this factories buggies or not—everyone said they used only good buggies and that as soon as people really understood the quality of buggy this factory made, they bought this factories buggies. I also found that other factories could and did make as good a buggy in addition to their cheap work, as this factory, and when asked for their price they charged just as much for their really good buggy as the factory in question.

Hence, I bought a car load of buggies from the factory with the reputation for making good buggies, and it is only a question of time till the dealer who sells cheap buggies and agrees to replace defective parts will "hang his harp on a weeping willow tree," for MOON BROS. BUGGIES will be the style and WILLIS CADWELL'S the place to get 'em.

Come and see these buggies. We can show you the kind of material they are made of before painting and you will know just what you are buying.
