Paint "Mixed on the Premises"

The best architects always specify: "Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil in original packages, to be mixed on the premises." There are two reasons for this: first, to make sure no one used in the White Lead; and second, that the paint shall be mixed to suit the particular wood and the climatic conditions of the locality.

If architects with scientific knowledge and professional reputation are so careful to make sure that only the best materials shall be used, is it not quite as incumbent on the house owner to do as much for himself, when not employing professional aid?

Painters of reputation never quarrel with these specifications, because they realize the materials called for are necessary to a satisfactory job. If a painter is conscientious, he will of his own accord use nothing but White Lead which is known to be pure. The standard brands of Pure White Lead are:

RED SEAL AND SOUTHERN
(Made by the Old Dutch Process)

Send for a booklet containing several handsome reproductions of actual houses, offering valuable information for a color scheme in painting your home. A test for paint purity is also given.

Senator Millard's Good Work.

Washington, June 25th. The vote in the Senate on the subject of type of Panama canal proved to be a very great surprise in both branches of Congress. Ten days ago the majority for the sea-level type of canal in the Senate was pronounced. The action of the House about that time in restricting the use of money appropriated for the canal to measures looking to the construction of the lock-level type of canal, had its influence upon the minds of some of the Senators.

It was thought that the people of the country would not sanction much more delay in reference to the work on the canal and would blame the Senate for permitting the great question to go over until the next session of Congress. Since that time there has been constant change in the sentiment on the subject in the Senate. During that time all the speeches in favor of a lock-level canal were delivered.

It will be remembered that Senator Millard, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals, has all along been steadfastly supporting the administration in its contention for a high level canal. His report of the views of the minority of his committee to the Senate was regarded as the strongest document issued in support of that contention. Not only Senator Millard, but Senator Dryden of New Jersey and Senators Hopkins and Cullom of Illinois as well as Senator Knox of Pennsylvania and Senator Perkins of California, dealt sledge hammer blows in opposition to the sea-level type, in their able speeches in the Senate.

Meantime Chairman Millard worked incessantly with senators who had not given the subject careful attention, pointing out to them the salient reasons why a lock canal would best serve the interests of the country, and his efforts were crowned with success when the vote was taken on Thursday afternoon. Senators on the floor, members of the Isthmian Canal Commission, and many friends lost no time in congratulating Senator Millard upon his success in conducting the fight for a lock-level canal and in opposition to the sea-level project. The Senator also received many congratulations from constituents who have watched his course in respect to this legislation and who expressed gratification at his effective work on the floor and in committee in behalf of a measure whose strongest supporters in the Senate only a few days ago regarded as hopelessly lost. —B.

The Backbone of a Mighty Nation

is good food—food for brain, food for brawn, food that is strengthening, that gives energy and courage. Without a proper appreciation of this great fundamental truth no nation can rise to greatness.

As an article of food, soda crackers are being used more and more every day, as is attested by the sale of nearly 400,000,000 packages of Uneeda Biscuit, which have come to be recognized as the most perfect soda cracker the world has ever known.

And so Uneeda Biscuit will soon be on every table at every meal, giving life, health and strength to the American people, thus in very truth becoming the backbone of the nation.
