TASK OF GOVERNMENT

RIGHTS OF PEOPLE MUST COME THROUGH CONGRESS.

PRESIDENT TELLS OF WORK

Efforts to Restrain Corporate of Individual Greed Must Be Approached in Spirit of Fairness and Justice to All.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—President Roosevelt delivered a remarkable Fourth of July address here Wednesday. It was an address against the demagogue, against hatred and rancor in public officials and in private citizens and a plea for charity in the administration of all duties.

The president spoke as follows: Gives Account of Stewardship. Mr. Chairman and you, my old friends and neighbors, you among whom I have lived for so many years, it is a real and great pleasure to have the chance of being with you to-day, to say a few words of greeting to you, and in a sense to give an account of my stewardship.

But there are two or three things about which I want to talk to you to-day, and if in the presence of dominions I may venture to speak from a text I shall take as my text the words of Abraham Lincoln, which he spoke in a remarkable little address delivered to a band of people who were serenading him at the White House just after his reelection to the presidency. He said:

"In any great national trial hereafter, the men of that day as compared with those of this will be as weak and as strong, as silly and as wise, as bad and as good. Let us therefore study the incidents of this, as philosophy from which to learn wisdom, and not as wrongs to be avenged."

Says Iniquity Exists. We have heard a great deal during the past year or two of the frightful iniquities in our politics and our business, and the frightful wrongdoing in our social life. Now there is plenty of iniquity in business, in politics, in our social life. There is every warrant for our acknowledging these great evils. But there is no warrant for growing hysterical about them.

This year in congress our chief task has been to carry the government forward along the course which I think it must follow consistently for a number of years to come—that is in the direction of seeking on behalf of the people as a whole, through the national government which represents the people as a whole, to exercise a measure of supervision, control and restraint over the corporations, of great wealth, in so far as the business use of that wealth brings it within the reach of the federal government.

We have accomplished a fair amount and the reason that we have done so has been in the first place because we have not tried to do too much, and in the next place because we have approached the task absolutely free from any spirit of rancor or hatred.

In any such movement a man will find that he has allies whom he does not like. You cannot protect property without finding that there are some people warring beside you whose motives you would frankly repudiate. But in each case be sure that you keep your own motives and your own conduct straight.

Will Defend the Oppressed. When it becomes necessary to curb a great corporation, curb it. I will do my best to help you to do it. But I will do it in no spirit of anger or hatred to the men who own or control that corporation; and if any seek in their turn to do wrong to the men of means, to do wrong to the men who own those corporations, I will turn around and fight for them in defense of their rights just as hard as I fight against them when I think they are doing wrong.

Distrust as a demagogue the man who talks only of the wrong done by the mean of wealth. Distrust as a demagogue the man who measures iniquity by the purse. Measure iniquity by the heart, whether a man's purse be full or empty, partly full or partly empty. If the man is a decent man, whether well off or not well off, stand by him; if he is not a decent man stand against him, whether he be rich or poor. Stand against him in no spirit of vengeance, but only with the resolute purpose to make him act as decent citizens must act if this Republic is to be.

MISSION OF NATIONS

BRYAN POINTS OUT DUTY IN SPEECH AT LONDON.

POEM OF KIPLING AS TEXT

Says United States and Britain Should Join Hands in Spreading Education Among Weaker Brethren.

London.—William Jennings Bryan, fresh from his tour of the orient, was the orator at the Independence day dinner of the American society Wednesday night, and expressed his conviction that on the United States and England devolves the mission of diffusing education and political freedom throughout the benighted lands. He took Kipling's poem, "The White Man's Burden," as his text, and declared that now, as never before, the Christian nations are working to spread civilization and uplift others, rather than to exploit their weaker brethren.

Nearly 500 members and guests surrounded the society's board and cheered patriotic sentiments with the peculiar zeal born of exile.

Ambassador Whitehall Reid and Mr. Bryan engaged in some sharp but good-humored raillery and banter over political differences, the crowd evincing its enjoyment of the sport with cheers and shouts of laughter.

Both Love America. Mr. Reid, in responding to Sir W. B. Richmond's graceful proposal of his health, said with reference to Mr. Bryan: "At home as a citizen, I have openly and squarely opposed him at every stage of his conspicuous career. I am reasonably sure that when I return home I shall continue to do the same. I believe he to-night is as well satisfied as I am, though by different reasoning, that the country we both love and try to serve has not been ruined by its gold. Abroad, as the official representative of the American people, without distinction as to party, I am glad to welcome him here as a typical American whose whole life has been lived in the daylight and one whom such a great host of my countrymen have long trusted and honored."

Admits Reid Fights Well. Mr. Bryan, rising amid laughter and cheers, said: "The temptation to make a political speech is strong within me. I have not had a chance to do so for ten months. However, I will restrain myself. With reference to the ambassador's remarks on gold, I wish to say that when I see the progress my country has made walking on one leg I wonder what it would have done walking on two legs. It is pleasing to testify that the ambassador not only has fought me but that he has done it well. No American rejoices more than I that he is 3,000 miles from his base. While abroad I have met many good Republicans—holding office—and I only wish that there were enough offices abroad to take all the Republicans out of the country."

Drink to Mrs. Longworth. Chairman F. W. Jones proposed the health of King Edward and Hayward Greenwood, president of the Canadian society and member of parliament for the city of York, proposed the health of President Roosevelt. When they arose to drink to the toasts the crowd discovered Mrs. Nicholas Longworth in the gallery and cheered and drank her health.

Following the passage between Ambassador Reid and Mr. Bryan the latter read his formal speech. The reading of the speech proved a disappointment to the crowd, which wanted oratory unhampered by manuscript.

John L. Griffiths, the American consul general at Liverpool, answered for the guests, and won rounds of applause when he compared the financial and meat packing scandals of the United States to spots on the sun and paid his respects to those persons who could see the spots but not the sun.

Some of Those Present. The guests included Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema, Sir Luke Fildes, W. W. Oulless, A. C. Gow, John MacWhirter, Ernest Crofts, G. J. Frampton, George Aitchison, Sir E. A. Waterlow, Sir W. B. Richmond, Sir Aston Webb, W. F. Yeamans, Marcus Stone, Herbert von Herkomer, Thomas Brock, J. W. Waterhouse, E. J. Gregory and G. F. Bodley, all members of the Royal Academy; Paul Morton, of New York; Franklin MacVeagh, of Chicago; Consul General Wynne, Isaac Seligman, of New York; Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Cincinnati; A. S. Ochs, of New York; Col. George Harvey, of New York; J. G. A. Leisnerman, American ambassador to Turkey; Sir H. S. Maxim and Admiral Sterling.

During the dinner Ambassador Reid read a letter from Queen Alexandra expressing the keenest sorrow over the Salisbury railway disaster, and tendering her heartfelt sympathy to all concerned, "especially the young bride so suddenly bereaved," meaning Mrs. Frederick H. Cossitt, of New York.

Neuralgia and Anæmia are Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For nearly a generation the people of this country have known Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, during which time proof of thousands of cures by this remedy has been published and confirmed and not one person has been harmed in the slightest degree by their use.

"For over a year," says Miss Charlotte Van Salisbury, of Castleton, N. Y., "I suffered from neuralgia and palpitation of the heart. My skin was pale and sallow and I was troubled with dizziness, fainting spells and fits of indigestion. I was very nervous and would start at the slightest sound. At times a great weakness would come over me and on one occasion my limbs gave way under me and I fell to the sidewalk."

"Of course I was treated by our local physicians and also consulted a noted doctor at Albany, but nothing they gave me seemed to benefit me. One day I read in a newspaper about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I immediately gave them a trial. I soon felt much better and my color had begun to return. I continued using the pills and by the time I had taken eight boxes I was entirely cured."

"My sister, Sarah Van Salisbury, suffered terribly from anæmia. She was pale and thin and we feared that she would become a victim of consumption. She tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and in a short time she began to gain in strength and weight. She is now strong and well and we both heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who are in ill health."

As Means of Bringing Sinners to Repentance, Minister Saw They Were What He Needed.

In a rural town in Michigan lived a family named Beaver, noted for their hardihood in all manner of naughtiness. They were the great torment of the minister's life. Finally, one of the boys was bit by a rattlesnake and sent for him. He found the lad greatly scared and very penitent. After some conversation, the reverend gentleman closed the interview by prayer.

"O, Lord," he began, "we thank thee for rattlesnakes. We thank thee that a rattlesnake has bit Jim. Send another, we pray thee, to bite Tom, and one to bite Joe. And, O Lord, send the biggest kind of a rattlesnake to bite the old man; for nothing less than rattlesnakes will bring this Beaver family to repentance."—Metaphysical Magazine.

Allen S. Olmsted Wins in Court—The Foot-Ease Trade-Mark Sustained.

Buffalo, N. Y.—The Supreme Court has granted a permanent injunction with costs against Paul B. Hudson and others of New York City, restraining them from making or selling a foot powder which the court declares is an imitation and infringement on "Foot-Ease" now so largely advertised and sold over the country; The owner of the trade-mark "Foot-Ease," is Allen S. Olmsted, of Le Roy, N. Y., and the decision of this suit upholds his trade-mark and renders all parties liable who fraudulently attempt to profit by the extensive "Foot-Ease" advertising, in placing on the market the spurious and similar appearing preparation involved in the case.

Twice Told Tales. In an English court, recently, a man was fined £2 for contempt of court. He offered a £ note in payment, but was told by the clerk that he had no change. "Oh, keep the change," was the reply; "I'll take it out in contempt."

A Frenchwoman was complaining to her husband that he was too much of a bookworm, that he retired too often to his study, leaving her to spend many evenings alone. "I wish," she ended, plaintively, "that I were a book. Then I might always have your company." "In that case, my dear," the Frenchman answered, "I'd wish you were an almanac. Then I could change you once a year."

An Unfinished Course. "Does your son graduate this month?" "Oh, no. He has another year on the track team."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
