

The Days Grow Shorter; Nights Longer.

This Betokeneth the Coming of Wintry Winds, Corn Pickin', Pumpkin Pies, Mush and Milk and the Halcyon Days of the Coal Dealers.

Ernest Thompson, of Arnold, busied himself in Broken Bow the first of the week.

Walter Kellenbarger, of Merna, was in the city Tuesday as a witness in a land contest.

F. M. Sharpe, of Dunning, was a business visitor in the metropolis of Custer county Tuesday.

Grant Turnbull, of Dunning, was in the city Monday and Tuesday, transacting business at the land office.

E. C. House left Tuesday for Omaha on a business proposition. His son, Nate, accompanied him and they will visit the state fair before returning home.

Mesdames A. M. Snyder and J. M. Kimberling left for Kansas City last Saturday night where they will visit for a couple of weeks. Mr. Kimberling accompanied them, but returned home yesterday morning.

If you intend to go some where this month or expect any friends or relatives to visit you from anywhere, better consult the Burlington Bulletin for September—on the first page—for low rates. The Burlington goes everywhere.

Carpenter Stevens, who has been engaged in the country all summer buildin' houses and barns for the thrifty farmers, has returned to the city and finds enough work on his register to keep him busy till snow flies.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Watts, of Dawson, Nebr., parents of H. A. Watts of this city, arrived here last Sunday and may remain here for six months, having leased their hotel at Dawson for that length of time in order to secure a vacation.

Will Davis, who formerly conducted the Merchants cafe, and last spring went to Merna where he engaged in the mercantile business, sold out there, returned to Broken Bow and is searching for a business opening that will suit him.

On this page, under the head of "Business Pointers" will be found a great many business propositions, many of them being bigger bargains than a catalogue house ever dreamed of. If you want to buy or sell—almost anything—read "Business Pointers."

Rev. W. D. Hall, of Sargent, has purchased the residence property of E. D. Glaze in the block west of the court house, consideration $1,500, possession to be given November 1st. Mr. Glaze is undecided as to whether they will remain here or go to California to reside.

C. F. McGrew, vice president of the Omaha National bank, accompanied by Mrs. McGrew arrived in the city and spent a few hours yesterday, driving to Callaway in the afternoon. They came to hunt chickens and will spend a week or ten days in the county.

Last Monday was Labor Day and as such was observed generally throughout the United States. Not by what the name implies, but by a holiday with parades and a general hurrah in the large cities. In Broken Bow it was observed by the closing of the banks, a parade by a theatre band and a game of baseball and everybody labored, as usual.

W. C. Tye has sold his residence property, across the street north of J. C. Bowen's store, on the north side, to the Christian church association for $1400, cash. It is the intention of the association to build a new church on the lots. He will leave the first of next week, accompanied by the family, for British Columbia, where he may decide to locate, but the chances are he will return to Broken Bow as he has purchased a block of lots northwest of and adjoining the North side park.

It is near time for the schools throughout the state to open. It may be a great convenience in many cases to keep the children out of school for a month or so, but if you can possibly get along without doing so—don't do it. The time will never come again when they can take advantage of the educational opportunities which are now theirs. As you value their future usefulness, keep them in school now every moment possible. Parents make no mistake in giving their children an education as one basis with which to start out in life.

Dr. Bartholomew was called to Mullin Monday on professional business.

Mrs. G. F. Bray and the children expect to leave about Nov. 1st to visit at the old home, Salem, Mass.

Mrs. E. M. Bean announces the opening of Fall millinery on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, September 13, 14 and 15.

Judge Reese returned from Lincoln Tuesday morning where he attended the State fair Monday. He reports the finest exhibit he has seen at the state fair for years.

H. D. Crumly, of Portland, Oregon, a brother of Mrs. Bartholomew and Miss Flora Crumly, was in the city over Sunday and occupied the Presbyterian church pulpit that night.

Miss Frances Koontz, of St. Louis, an expert in trimming ladies hats, arrived last Saturday and will have charge of the trimming department at Mrs. E. M. Bean's millinery store, south side of the square.

The band concert in the park last Friday night was one of the best given this summer. Several new selections were rendered in a highly creditable manner and greatly appreciated. The concert tomorrow (Friday) night should be heard by all lovers of good music.

Prof. J. G. W. Lewis and family left yesterday morning for Grand Island where they will reside, the professor having been engaged as an instructor in the Grand Island College. Their many friends in this city regret their departure, but hope that good health and success may attend them in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scott left Monday morning for Omaha where he will purchase goods. They will then return to Lincoln and spend the remainder of the week at the state fair when he will return home and Mrs. Scott go to Humbolt and visit for a couple of weeks.

The game of ball Monday afternoon between the 2nd nine and "Hasbeens" did not draw a very large crowd, but those present "whooped" just as though they enjoyed it, a la Comm-nche Indian. The result was 12 to 8 in favor of the "Hasbeens" and a busted finger for Manager Bray.

The new depot restaurant, the "Never Close," was opened by Messrs. Sloggett & Smith last week and they report a very liberal patronage. It is a neat and thoroughly up-to-date place where palatable short order meals and lunches are served and will fill a long felt and greatly needed want in this city.

C. W. Ball, a progressive agriculturalist near Berwyn, was in the city on business last Saturday and to the REPUBLICAN expressed himself as well pleased with the crop of 1906. Where threshing has been done in his vicinity wheat has been averaging about 30 bushels to the acre and corn looks, as it stands, better than for several years past.

A. C. White, one of the substantial Custer county farmers, 12 miles southwest, came in last Saturday with a wagon load of large, plump, delicious, ripe water melons and all were soon disposed of to individual purchasers. He informed the REPUBLICAN that he would repeat the performance Saturday afternoon this week.

The church pews in Broken Bow were not as well filled last Sunday as usual and many wondered on account thereof. But those who wondered did not search deep enough to satisfactorily satisfy themselves of the real cause. They did not consider the fact that prairie chickens were ripe and that the law protecting them was so constructed as to permit of their being picked on and after September 1st. The streets of the city were also minus of many familiar forms and faces on Sunday afternoon and the six lively stables had the appearance of having gone out of business, all the horses and buggies being in the country. An unusually large number of townspeople visited their country cousins last Sabbath.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hunter are enjoying a visit for a few days from Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Myers, of Lincoln.

Miss Edith Stevens, who has occupied the position of book keeper with the Dierks Lumber and Coal Co., in this city, the past two years, expects to leave for Colorado in about two weeks, and there reside.

Attorney Cameron came in yesterday from a visit of a week with his brother on the farm, and he carries two handfulls of callouses and blisters, acquired in the hay field where, he declares by the great horn spoon, he made at least a hand and a 'alf.

President Cornett is greatly pleased with the prospects for the opening of Custer College next Monday. He is assured of about forty pupils for the fall term and double that number for the winter term. Considering the fact that this is a new educational institution, President Cornett and Broken Bow may well feel proud of the prospects for building up a valuable institution in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. VanCott, who were with the hunting party at Dr. Talbot's ranch, five miles from Halsey, returned home last night. Dr. Talbot also came home, being called professionally, but will return to the hunting grounds tonight. They say chickens are not as plentiful as they had been led to believe, still they secured enough to satisfy their hunger.

H. B. Drake reached home last Saturday from Chicago where he purchased more largely than ever before of fall and winter goods. He found the choicest fabrics at a much less price than formerly and knowing the temper of Custer county purchasers selected in accordance therewith both in quality and quantity and is now prepared to hand them a bunch of bargains that will surpass anything they have ever encountered.

J. H. Sloggett has sold the Globe hotel in this city to George A. Firth, of West Union, who has taken possession and after next Monday will give it his undivided personal attention and, having had considerable experience in providing choice viands and bivalves, will conduct it in such a manner as to attract patrons and increase the popularity of the house. J. H. Black, who has been connected with the hotel for sometime past, will remain with the new management and with his unaffected, affable and courteous manner and cause guests to feel at home enjoy life.

James Ledwich reached home last Friday after more of a trip than he anticipated when he left here August 11th for Minneapolis to attend the National G. A. R. He has a brother residing at North Yakima, Wash., and upon inquiring as to railroad rates he found he could visit Seattle, and Portland at a few cents advance over the rate to North Yakima, and unloosened the few cents and was fully paid for so doing by simply seeing Seattle, which he, as well as all others who have ever been there, pronounce one of the most wonderful of all United States cities—one in which business is conducted all night long, with a hurry, hustle and bustle, the same as during the day. He spent two days with his brother at North Yakima, which also impressed him as one of the coming great towns in Washington, and returned feeling that the trip was not only pleasant and enjoyable, but profitable as well.

The city is putting down eighteen new brick crossings in various parts of the city for which there is funds on hand to pay. Citizens who confine themselves to one part of the town and are not cognizant of what is being done in the way of improvements in other parts of the city should not be too hasty to censure the city officials. Eighteen new brick cross-walks, besides the other various improvements, is not so bad for one summer. One thing the city government could do, however, and by so doing be called blessed by the people, and that is to complete a job of ditching before commencing another one. In various parts of town trenches have been plowed for ditches and then left in that condition without putting in tiling at the street crossings, so that a man hardly dare go driving until he is sure he can secure a new buggy spring without sending to the factory for it. It is to be hoped tiling will be put in at the street crossings where trenches have been plowed—before fair week.

The REPUBLICAN office now has a full and complete line of old newspapers and requests the public to call early and examine before the assortment is broken. Only 20 cents per 100 put up in neat bunches to suit the purchaser.

To enumerate by name all the citizens of Broken Bow who have gone to Lincoln to attend the state fair this week would consume more space than a delinquent tax list. The court house gang and Landlord Kennedy of the Burlington are about the only live people in town and the have not had courage enough to attempt to get up a dog fight.
