

The Finest Kind of Fair Weather

Jupiter Pluvius Did What Was Necessary in the Bad Weather Line Last Week and Put on the Other Extreme This Week.

Did your Mary go round? Miss Brooks, of Dunning, is visiting in the city this week.

Tom Noble, of Burwell, is visiting in the city this week with his parents.

W. H. Andrews, of Somerford, was a friendly caller at this office Tuesday evening.

Tom Wright, editor of the Chronicle-Citizen, is in the city attending the county fair.

D. W. Thompson, of Ansley, was a friendly caller at the REPUBLICAN office Tuesday evening. He came up to attend the county fair.

Sidney R. Dennis, of Anselmo, was in the city Monday making proof on his homestead. B. C. Empfield and T. B. Russel were his witnesses.

Everybody in Broken Bow is having a huge time these days—and nights. They will remember, so long as life lasts, the Custer county fair of 1906.

Jas., Leslie and Frank McWilliams came down from Deadwood a few days ago for a couple of weeks visit. They are part of the B. & M. bridge gang.

H. F. Higginbotham, of Foristel, Mo., in writing us, states that they are having very dry weather there and that corn is only about half crop and that oats are very light.

The weather for the fair this week is all that could be asked and the people are generally taking advantage of the opportunity to see the sights.

Clarence Toleston and sister, Lizzie, of Kearney, are here this week visiting with the families of W. A. George and Jos. Pigman. Also attending the county fair.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Coolidge, of Central City, Nebraska, arrived in the city last Saturday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Lee Pickett, and will remain till Saturday of this week.

Wm. Longmore, of Callaway, was a city visitor Monday. He was an old time friend of the senior editor of the REPUBLICAN back in the Hawkeye state thirty-five years ago.

Blaine Lanterman filed homestead papers on a fine section of land in the south part of Cherry county, the first of the week, near the Reeder boys. Several more from this vicinity expect to locate near them soon.

C. W. Bowman and family, accompanied by his sister, Eliza B. Philips, left Tuesday for Hot Springs, Arkansas, where they will remain for a month or six weeks. They spent several weeks there last winter and enjoyed the stay so thoroughly they decided to repeat the dose.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carlos are here visiting relatives during the fair. Mr. Carlos was manager of the Central and Ravenna Telephone Co., until the 1st of last January when he moved to Hastings to accept the position of manager of a telephone line. Their many friends will be glad to know the new location just fits him and that he is happy and enjoying life.

For some unknown reason the ostrich, of Jacksonville, Florida, that was to have been at the county fair failed to appear. The fair management telegraphed the owner at a number of points on his circuit but were unable to hear anything from him.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Edwards returned a few days ago from a trip to Hot Springs, S. D., where they went to see the sights and enjoy a recreation. They returned by the way of Kimball where they have a section of land. While there they visited with the family of Thos. Wilkinson, former residents of Broken Bow and pioneer settlers of the county, having homesteaded the site on which Ansley is located. They report that Mr. Wilkinson is well situated and that he is engaged extensively in stock raising and wool growing. He numbers his sheep by the thousands, cattle by the hundreds. He has three stock ranches. Mr. Edwards said he traveled sixteen miles over one of his ranches that comes up to within a half mile of Kimball.

Mr. Cudabec, of Mullen, was in the city Monday as a witness in a final proof case.

W. B. Moody, of Crawford, Nebraska, is in the city attending the county fair.

Mrs. Henry Honts, of Brownlee, is here this week, visiting relatives and attending the county fair.

A committee of the board of supervisors has been engaged in checking up the office of the county treasurer the past few days.

The up-town merry-go-whizz started last Saturday night and was more than liberally patronized. It was a free ride for everybody.

J. B. Tierney, of Ansley, has a herd of very fine shorthorn cattle on exhibition at the county fair. Mr. Tierney is one of the progressive stockmen of Custer county.

A basket ball court has been established on the vacant lot north of the Custer National bank and spectators are numerous when a game is on.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Runyan and son, Glen, were in the city Monday night. They were on their way to Callaway to attend the wedding of a nephew, Alva Longmore.

The squirrels in the park—born this last spring—wonder what's the reason for all this noise and confusion both day and night and they don't venture on the ground very often.

Reese & Moorehouse's herd of Duroc Jersey hogs at the county fair would be a credit at the state fair. Parties that favor that breed of hogs need go no farther to find the best individuals the state affords.

The school rooms in Broken Bow are pretty much deserted this week and it's "playing hookey" in most instances. The county fair is more of an attraction than studying and reciting lessons.

Mrs. E. Webb and S. K. Redman former Custer county citizens, who are located at Paonia, Colorado, have some fine specimens of pears, peaches, apples and grapes on exhibition at the county fair in charge of Mrs. Gibbs.

J. F. O. Stewart, of the Stewart-Leavenworth Co., Omaha, real estate dealers, was in the city last Thursday having piloted a bunch of prospective land buyers to this section of the state. They are large holders of land hereabouts and have quite a number of farms listed with them for sale.

These are the days of big ears of corn. Up to date the largest one brought to this office was raised on the farm of A. T. Sims, five miles south of town, by his son, E. W. Sims. All the specimens brought in were fine, but one is a whopper. It is estimated the yield will be about sixty bushels per acre.

John Collier, from near Arcadia, was in the city last-week and feeling pretty good over the prospects of a bountiful harvest. For sometime he has been suffering with a lame back, but had to come to the county seat on business then, so would, have to forego the pleasure of attending the big fair, although he disliked to do so.

Rev. Levack, who has been pastor of the Baptist church the past two years, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday. He has accepted a call of a church at Nora Springs, Iowa, for which place he will leave next Tuesday. Mr. Levack is a fine Christian gentleman, an able preacher and we predict for him a successful pastorate in his new field. He has had forty-two accessions to the church here in the past year.

Rev. John D. Brady, of Syracuse, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church. He arrived this evening with his family, to assume charge. He comes highly recommended. He is a native of Nebraska, received his education at the State University. He was a member of the First Nebraska regiment in the Philippines and after he completed his studies at the University spent eight months in the Holy land.

To-day is the largest attendance ever seen at the county fair in Custer county.

H. W. George has returned from a six weeks' visit in Minneapolis, Minn., and vicinity.

J. D. Troyer, of Callaway, has some fine Duroc Jersey hogs on exhibition at the county fair.

Rev. J. R. Woods, of Mason, was in the city Monday on his way from Bethel Union church, where he held services Sunday.

J. G. Brenizer has the finest exhibit of short horn cattle ever seen at the county fair. He has as fine a herd as the state affords.

The fruit display at the fair is exceptionally fine. Custer county is destined to be one of the best fruit counties in the state in no distant day.

J. E. Sargent, of Ansley, has a fine lot of Poland China hogs on exhibition at the county fair. They are the best lot of Poland China hogs ever exhibited by any one in the county.

The Fair association sold 700 more single tickets Thursday than were ever sold before in one day. The gross receipts for the four days was, in round numbers, $3,600, which beats all former records.

Miss Effie Dodds, clerk in the U. S. land office of this place has been granted a leave of absence of 30 days, commencing with the 29th of this month. She leaves Saturday for Cheyenne and Denver to visit relatives.

Rev. J. E. Ingham, who was one of the early pastors of the Baptist church of this place was the guests of the senior editor of the REPUBLICAN last Friday night. He was on his way to Merna to visit his brother and other relatives in that vicinity.

Clem Deaver, superintendent of the B. & M. railroad land and transportation agency, was in the city Saturday looking up government land for his October excursion. Mr. Deaver is doing a splendid work for the home-seeker who wants land in the Kinkaid district.
