Why Adulterated Paint is Dear

A maker of adulterated white lead sneered "Why should paint be pure? No one eats it."

True, but when white lead is adulterated with barytes, sublimed lead, gypsum, whiting, etc., it loses the qualities which make pure white lead the best paint pigment.

And when these imitations are sold as white lead, the consumer is deceived into paying white lead prices for worthless substitutes.

Red Seal or Southern Pure White Lead

(Made by the Old Dutch Process)

contains no adulteration whatever, and when mixed with Pure Linseed Oil lasts as no paint made of cheap imitations can.

Getting Better Salaries.

Competition in bidding for mail contracts, particularly in rural districts, is fast becoming a matter of history, according to postoffice officials. Formerly Uncle Sam found carriers for many of the smaller routes for practically nothing, but in nearly every such case the man who holds the job nowadays receives a more or less adequate compensation. Under the old regime, the most extraordinary condition of affairs often existed. For instance, the mail carrier at Lake Charles, Ia., was under contract for four years to pay to the government the sum of $50 a year for carrying the mails by steamer a distance of fifty-five miles three times each week, the value to the carrier being found, of course, in the business standing which he derived from the service. This contract has just ended and the new incumbent is to receive a salary of $2000 a year for doing just the same work that cost his predecessor $50 annually. A still more curious instance of the old order is found in the case of West Bridgeton, Vt., where the carrier, for going twelve times a week to Woodstock, six miles away, received the princely remuneration of one cent each year for his services. His successor now receives $100. A former carrier of Freedom, N. H., also distinguished himself by carrying the mails several miles daily for two and a half mills a year. The job now pays $150. Altogether, Uncle Sam's letter carriers are coming into newer and better conditions to which the automobile as a future means of distribution forms a very attractive if not yet actually existing addition.

South Omaha Stock Market.

There has been a good healthy tone to the cattle trade the past week, and for the most part all kinds of killing steers have shown but little change one way or the other. Prices now are but little different than at the high time a couple of weeks ago. Good dry lot steers are scarce and selling at $5.50 and $6.25; fair to good $5.00 and $5.50; good range beefs $4.50 and $5.25; fair to good $4.00 and $4.50. Cows and heifers have shown the most improvement, and while the market closed up about a dime lower last Friday, values still are 40c higher than two weeks ago. Good to choice kinds are selling at $3.25 and $3.60; fair to good $2.65 to $3.15; canners and cutters $1.75 and $2.50. Stockers and feeders have changed but little. There has been good inquiry and good easy movement, more particularly on the light and medium weights which have been rather slow sale at times. Good to choice heavy feeding steers are selling at $4.25 and $4.50; fair to good $3.90 and $4.25; good to choice light and medium weights $3.85 and $4.15; fair to good $3.40 and $3.75.

The hog market today under moderate offerings; in fact light offerings at this point, is a dime higher. Heavies sold at $6.00 and $6.10; medium $6.10 and $6.20 and $6.35.
