Four inches of snow is reported at Carthage, N. Y., and fruit trees of all kinds broken down under the weight of the snow from Buffalo through to Albany, while here in Nebraska the citizens are enjoying balmy, sunshiny days and the best ozone which can be found upon this continent. It is strange that people will continue to reside in such an inclement region as the Empire state when they can enjoy the invigorating and agreeable climate of Nebraska where a home can be had for merely the asking and a small amount of work in improving it.

Sam Jones, the noted evangelist, died suddenly on a sleeping car last Sunday night while enroute from Oklahoma City to his home, Cartersville, Georgia, where he was to attend a family reunion on Tuesday, that day being the 59th anniversary of his birth. His sermons were unique and his manner of conducting meetings were of the wild west show order and while large numbers professed christianity in his meetings they were not the stick-to-it kind and it is doubtful if any good was really accomplished by his evangelistic work.

A vote for the legislative ticket is a vote for principle, rather than for the personal of men. A vote for the republican candidates is a vote for Norris Brown for the United States senate and for the endorsement of President Roosevelt's administration. A vote for either of the fusion legislative candidates is a vote for W. H. Thompson, the democratic candidate for the United States senate.

The opposition, of the railroad companies and grain elevators combined, to Norris Brown is no more than was expected after his successful fight in the state courts against them. If we mistake not the temper of the business and labor elements of Nebraska, the opposition of the corporations, will increase his majority with the people.

The veterinary surgeons of California have commenced a campaign against milkmen and milkers wearing beards, claiming that the hirsute adornments are dangerous "microbe parks." Legislation is to be asked requiring those who handle food products to dispense with all chin adornments. Verily, soon there will be no "personal liberty."

In the agitation of state politics the voters of Custer county should not forget the candidacy of C. L. Gutterson one of the county's most safe and able lawyers. A man of strict integrity and worthy of the unanimous support of the county.

Hon. Norris Brown's able and aggressive administration as attorney General has proven his ability to fill with honor and distinction the office of United States Senate.

Why Refer to Doctors

Because we make medicines for them. We give them the formula for Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and they prescribe it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption. They trust it. Then you can afford to trust it. Sold for over 60 years.

Ayer's Pills greatly aid the Cherry Pectoral in breaking up a cold. If there is any class of employes in any line in this country who deserve pensions it is the railway mail clerks. In consequence of the position of mail cars in all railroad trains, they are more liable to be injured than anyone else on the trains, and their work is long and hard, requiring the closest application. It is wonderful how few errors are made by them, considering the difficulties under which they labor.

Down in Louisiana one member hung a jury for sixty hours and secured a disagreement just because he believed the defendant was a cigarette fiend and therefore not responsible for his actions. This is the first encouragement the cigarette smoker has received in a long time.

A vote for a fusion candidate for the legislature would be a vote for a democrat candidate for the United States senate and a vote to oppose the Roosevelt administration. No republican can afford the cost.

The Legislative Ticket. Republicans should not fail to vote for the legislative ticket at the approaching election. Both the candidates for the house, as well as the candidate for the senate are pledged to the republican state platform which provides for reform legislation demanded by the public. Further than that they will support the administration of a republican governor, Sheldon, whose election is a foregone conclusion. Not only that, they will vote for the election of Norris Brown, republican United States Senator, who will support President Roosevelt's fearless administration.

Mr. Brown's Record is Clear. The fusion newspapers are endeavoring to make capital out of a suit against the State Journal company for damages in the sum of $84,500, wherein it is alleged the Journal sold supreme court reports to that amount, upon which the state owned the copyright. The fusion press is advertising this suit in an effort to show the Journal is supporting Brown, in the expectation that he would fail to prosecute vigorously the suit against the paper.

But as a matter of fact the record of Mr. Brown is clear on this suit, and inasmuch as his brief, on file in the supreme court, can be seen at any time, the fusionists can only get consolation out of the story by appealing to the people on the record of the Journal. The suit was first filed by Attorney General Prout. A hearing was had and the Journal company won. About the time Norris Brown was elected attorney general the decision was handed down. He at once filed a motion for a rehearing and it was granted. The case was again argued, and it is now in the hands of the supreme court, with the decision due at any time. Mr. Brown's argument is on file in the supreme court and has been for months and is public property.

The fusion press is very much "at home" Saturday afternoons and every day and night in the week when it comes to manufacturing, the chief output being mountains made from mole-hills.

First Husband—Then Lover.

The exquisite concert of the comedy in "The Marriage of Kitty" which is to be seen at the Opera house on Monday evening, Oct 22nd, under the management of Jules Murry, is one of the delights of the season. Miss Kitty Silverton comes to London to seek the advice of her Godfather in the matter of future employment and decides that marriage is the one and only desirable employment that she cares to consider. She has no one in view but will rely on the good taste of her guardian. Will he please pick her out a husband? Fate sends him an old friend, a Baronet, whose uncle left his will in such unambiguous phrase that should he marry the lady of his heart, a certain Peruvian widow, he will lose the entire fortune. The barrister calmly brings it about that the young lord marries Kitty "temporarily," thus avoiding complications with the will, and leaves it to be understood that he will obtain for them a divorce at the proper time and thus allow the infatuated lover to marry "in earnest" the true object of his affections. All goes well until chance throws the Baronet into the society of his "wife," whom he finds to be most fascinating. The Peruvian lady has proved to be a most jealous and unpleasant person for regular companionship, and in the charm of his own wife-of-an-hour the lover shifts his allegiance from the widow to the wife and runs away with his real sweetheart, Kitty.

She Diagnosed His Case.

A certain Broken Bow layman is telling a good joke on the minister of his church which is said to have actually occurred at the home of the layman a few evenings ago. Several days ago the 7-year old daughter of the layman complained to her mother that her stomach felt bad. "Perhaps it's because it is empty," said her mother. "It might feel better if you had something in it." The other night the minister called at the house and, in reply to a question put to him by the head of the family concerning his health, the minister stated that he felt well but that his head felt bad that day. Before either the layman or his wife could offer sympathy the little daughter spoke up and said: "Perhaps it's because it is empty. It might feel better if you had something in it." And then followed a very profuse explanation by mama to the seemingly great relief of the minister whose laugh was rather sickly at the conclusion of the child's remarks.

Is Perfectly Competent.

In nominating Wm. Warren, of Callaway, for representative, the republican convention held at Broken Bow, voiced our sentiments exactly, as we have known Mr. Warren personally and are in a position to know that he is a gentleman, and is perfectly competent for the office he aspires. He is a man that is always ready for anything that is beneficial to the general public. Mr. Warren is a man who has put in a great deal of study on the question of good roads, and this is the one thing which the people have been praying for, hence the sensibility of placing an advocator of good roads in the legislature. Let the voters not stop at the nomination of Mr. Warren, but when the proper time comes, cast their vote, and elect him to the legislature.—Oconto Register.

An Old Time Land Case.

The U. S. Land office of this place is hearing a final proof and protest on a timber claim this week that was filed on eighteen years ago. The case is one in which D. A. Swisher made a timber claim entry near Arnold nearly eighteen years ago. After cultivating the land and planting trees for a time the entryman was sent to the Asylum for the insane at Norfolk. After the limitation of time to make proof the Government cancelled the entry and Wm. Watkins filed homestead papers on the land. The relatives of Swisher entered protest and the General Land office granted a hearing of the case. Watkins entry was cancelled by the Government and a further investigation ordered. A year ago the relatives were given leave to make proof. For seven years the claim has been in litigation. The proof is now being taken and the protest evidence submitted by Watkins goes to the special appointed commission for final judgment.

Do Not Burn Off Old Paint

You will have to do so if you use hard, inelastic paint; but there is a better way. Use old-fashioned white lead and linseed oil paint. It wears down uniformly, without that scaling off which disfigures so many modern houses, and is ready for re-painting without burning or scraping.

Red Seal or Southern Pure White Lead

is just such an old-fashioned paint. Our booklet will tell you about it, and give you other paint information valuable to the house-owner. NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY, Clark Avenue and 20th Street, St. Louis, Mo. For sale by first-class dealers.
