

News of a Local Nature

Mrs. Dubry, who was operated on Monday, is reported as doing nicely.

Hugh McMillian, of Dunning, was transacting business in the city yesterday.

B. C. Empfield, one of the Anselmo hustlers, was transacting business in the city last Saturday.

Prof. Chase, of Pawnee City, lectured on the "Leaks on the Farm" at the farmers institute last night.

Prof. Leonard, of Pawnee City, gave a profitable lecture on Hogs, before the Farmers Institute in the court house last night.

Mrs. G. F. Bray and children left Monday morning for Salem, Mass., her old home, for a visit of two or three months with relatives.

W. T. Cannon went to Ansley Sunday to see his daughter, Miss Cannon, who has the small pox. He reports that she is getting along very well.

W. H. Farrer, of Oconto, was in the city yesterday. While here he filed on a homestead in the North Platte district, before District Clerk Mair.

William Brewer, of Arnold, transacted business in the city and visited mother and sister, Mrs. Mary and Miss Sadie Brewer, last Friday.

Peter Beck came over from Georgetown last Saturday on a business proposition and reported the going—under foot—in pretty bad condition.

Prof. Chase's lecture on raising and breeding corn yesterday afternoon, before the Farmers Institute, was well received by the large crowd that was present.

Judge Rice, the unterrified anti-divisionist of the Merna neighborhood, was in the city yesterday enroute home from Whitney where he spent a couple of weeks.

Taylor's orchestra will give a social ball at the Opera house tomorrow (Friday) night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. A fine time is anticipated. Tickets are only 75 cents.

Prettyman & Heape bought of Fred Bertrand and shipped two car of cattle to South Omaha Tuesday. John Rickle accompanied them and performed the "cow puncher" act.

Mrs. Harley O. Wantz, of Cambria, Wyoming, arrived in the city last Saturday to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Marquiss, and will remain until the first of next week.

Regardless of the inclemently inclined weather conditions on Monday, Francis Marsh, of Myrtle town, associated with friends and transacted a bunch of business in the county seat.

Attorney J. E. Morrison, of Gandy, Grand Master of the I. O. O. F. of the state, was in the city on business Monday and that evening met with the local lodge, the members present highly appreciating his visit.

Taylor's orchestra concert at Ansley last Friday night did not prove a howling success from a financial stand-point, the receipts being $8 to the bad. This state of affairs was caused by the development of a case of small-pox in that burg which resulted in throwing a scare into the inhabitants and preventing them from attending.

The home of Robert Ledwich was the scene of a social gathering last Friday evening, which was voted by those present as one of the most enjoyable they have attended this season. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames A. R. Humphrey, E. C. House, E. Taylor, Jud Morton, James Ledwich and Mrs. Speaks. Progressive High Five was played and refreshments served.

In the pages of the February American Boy there is everything to please and delight its readers. The practical boy will be sure to find matter to please him in the many articles devoted to school, travel, electricity, mechanics, amateur journalism, stamps, coins, and curious tangles, poultry keeping, and other hobbies of boys. Certainly a number which it would be hard to beat. In addition to the handsome colored cover page illustration there are over seventy-two pictures. $1.00 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich., publishers. The American Boy and REPUBLICAN, both one year for $1.65.

Supt Pickney left for Lincoln this morning for a two days stay on business in connection with his office.

Messrs Wm. H. Mast and J. D. Shockley, of Halsey, and Mrs. V. C. Talbot, of Berwyn, a sister of the bride, were in the city yesterday to attend the Scott-Jewett wedding last night.

Mrs. Geo. Eastman, and two children, of Lee Park, returned home last week after a visit of a month in this city. They were accompanied as far as Ansley by her mother, Mrs. P. A. Walton.

If the mercury wasn't 33 1/2 below zero in this neck o'woods Tuesday morning then some of the "oldest inhabitants" missed a guess. And they did if those who reported 8 below were correct.

Supervisor Cushman "footed it" in from the plantation, 6 1/2 miles southeast of town, Tuesday evening and went to Ansley yesterday morning on an errand in behalf of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Molyneaux, who went to Lincoln last week, he to attend the Lumberman's convention, went from there to Kansas City. They are expected home by the first of next week.

Rev. J. H. Haney, of Anselmo, visited the metropolis of Custer county yesterday and reported his town in a prosperous and lively condition regardless of extenuating circumstances in the shape of chilly zephyrs.

It is reported that Miss Winnie Joynor, who had her arm broken while coasting a couple weeks ago, is getting along very nicely and hopes are entertained that in a short time she will be able to resume her work in college.

W. B. Eastham returned on Monday from Lincoln where he was summoned to served as a juror in the Federal court. He was there a week, called on two cases and excused from each of them, consequently did not experience a very strenuous time.

J. L. McBrien, state Supt. of schools, will deliver a lecture Friday evening next week, Feb. 8th, at the court house. A cordial invitation to attend is extended the citizens of Broken Bow. Supt. McBrien is a pleasing speaker and all who attend will enjoy the occasion.

Rev. J. R. Wood, of Mason City, slipped and fell last Sunday evening and injured one of his hips so badly as to prevent walking. He preached at Bethel Union church, 7 miles northeast of Broken Bow, that day and was brought here and took the train for home Monday morning.

Mrs. G. T. Robinson left left yesterday morning for Farmington, Iowa, in response to a telegram announcing that her sister, Mrs. Kate Kelly, was so seriously ill hope for her recovery had been abandoned. Mrs. Robinson was accompanied from Omaha by her husband, who was there visiting his brother, Lloyd.

Deputy Sheriff Thompson left for Hastings this morning in charge of Barney Mohatt who goes to the Asylum for Incurables. Mohatt was on parole from the State Insane asylum at Lincoln and, since his attack on Mrs. Grant two weeks ago, it has been deemed advisable to take him to the Hastings institution.

On Monday J. S. Benjamin received a small box, containing cotton blossoms, from his son, John, who is touring Texas with a theatre company. They looked good to Bro. Benjamin who hasn't seen any since he toured the south fighting to perpetuate the stars and stripes and the atmosphere seemed to warm up when we saw 'em, although the mercury hovered near the zero mark.

Broken Bow has been exceedingly fortunate this winter in not having had a conflagration. Of course we are not "out of the woods" yet, as the saying goes, but numerous other towns not far distant have suffered considerably from the fire fiend and citizens have reason for being thankful for having thus far escaped. Like death, a fire is liable to occur at any time and preparation should be made to meet it. Those in charge of the fire department should see that the hoses are in good shape and the hydrants, by flushing, free from ice. The time to attend to this is now and not after a fire has laid waste that could have been prevented by timely action.

The regular February term of District court in and for Custer county will begin next Monday, February 4th, Judge Hostetler presiding.

Miss Vera Meyers has accepted a position in the Broken Bow postoffice temporarily, but if the work is congenial will remain permanently.

The next number on the Young People's Lecture course will be Ralph Parlette at the Temple theatre, Monday night, February 11th. Seats will be on sale at Baisch's drug store Feb., 8th 9th and 11th.

Odd Fellows hall will be the scene of a general good time tomorrow (Friday) night. Everybody is invited to come and join in the festivities which promise to be something entirely out of the ordinary.

A case of small pox was reported from Ansley and Dr. Pennington went there and quarantined last Friday evening. Only the one case has so far developed and it is thought by this prompt action there will be no more.

The Broken Bow lodge, Woodmen of America, will give their Annual ball on Tuesday night, February 12th, at the Temple theatre. Taylor's orchestra has been engaged to furnish music. The price of tickets is only 50 cents each.

M. K. Hagadorn, J. M. White and R. N. Norcutt, returned home Tuesday night from Halsey where they have been working on the Government's new forestry reserve building. They report the weather too cold to permit good work.

A bill has been introduced into the state legislature, and it will become a law, making the killing of quail during the year 1907 a misdemeanor. There was a "warum" discussion in the lower house when the measure was brought up, but a majority voted in favor of it. The senate will, it is thought, coincide with the house.

Walter W. Waters, who established the Columbus Commercial college four years ago, sold a half interest therein a year ago, recently disposed of his other interest in the institution to his partner and, purchasing a quarter section of land of Joseph Burdick, near Berwyn, moved thereto last Saturday.

Prof. Hunt, of Nebraska City, formerly one of the faculty of the State University was in the city yesterday. He was one of the lecturers before the Farmers Institute now in session. It was Mr. Hunt's first visit to Broken Bow in the past 18 years. He conducted the Teachers Institute in 1889 when Prof. Randall was county superintendent.

Roy Walker, manager for the Gold Medal Mining Co., writes from Hill City, South Dakota, that they expect to have their new 5 stamp mill ready for operation by February 10th. He has sent samples of ore from different ledges on the company claim to Doctor Bartholomew and they are fine specimens. Shares in the company are advancing rapidly in price.

Lieut. L. F. Oxford, in charge of the Dierks Lumber and Coal Co., yard at Berwyn spent last night in the city, returning home this morning. He says the coal shortage has kept them worried nearly all winter and at the present time their bins are empty, but they are notified two car loads of coal will reach them tomorrow or Saturday. News of a local nature were at low tide in Berwyn, social events being few and far betwixt on account of the cold weather. The health of the community averages fair to good.
