A Commendable Act.
Snake Run, April 20.
The writer of this article while on a visit with Austin Loyd and family, witnessed a sight on the 19th which goes to prove that the world is not half bad, and that the people are not all swallowed up in the greedy strife for gain. Austin Loyd, who but recently moved on the Joseph Holcomb farm had the misfortune to lose two valuable mares and one colt and, to add to his ill luck, had, on the 16th, a runaway with four horses and a disc harrow. One mare received quite a severe cut on the right hind leg and a mare, valued at $150, was struck by the disc on the right hind leg at the ankle joint, severing the leg leaving only a shred of skin, completely ruining her.

With this heavy loss thus sustained and owing to sickness in his family he was behind with his work, but on Friday afternoon, the 19th, he was agreeably surprised to see the teams flocking to his place and taking things by storm.

When, in the evening, they scattered for their homes they had sowed, double disced and harrowed in between 45 and 50 acres of grain. There were at work thirteen disc harrows, two seeders, two drags, sixty-four horses and eighteen men.

The neighbors participating in the work were: Ted Sanford, Alfred Larsen, John Wooters, Carl Holcomb, Floyd Holcomb, Earnest Cole, James Marshall, Ed. Chip, James Martin, Earnest Hipsher, Jos. Loyd, Walter Loyd, Earnest Baker, Herb Smith, Herbert Tye, Arthur Stewart and James Loyd.

Such kindness and neighborly actions ought to receive the highest praise of the community, and Austid Loyd and wife join in sincerely thanking their friends and express the hope that none of them may be called to pass through such troubles as they have experienced. TRAVELER.

Obituary—Wolford.
Paul W. Wolford was born in Knox county, Ohio, Oct. 18, 1834, and died at his home in Ansley, April 20th, 1907.

Mr. Wolford was a well known and highly respected citizen of Custer county, having been one of the early settlers in the vicinity of Westerville. He leaves behind, his wife, three sons and three daughters. Of the sons, the oldest lives on the old farm east of Westerville, the other two in Ansley. One daughter lives in Grand Island, one at Walla Walla, Washington; and one at Ashland, Oregon.

For a number of years Mr. Wolford had been a member of the Methodist church, and lived an honest, consistent Christian. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. H. M. Pinckney, were held Sunday afternoon, April 21st, at the Methodist church in Ansley, which was much too small to accommodate the large number who gathered to participate in showing respect to his memory.

Quite a large number of members of the G. A. R. were present to pay the last honors to their departed comrade, Mr. Wolford having been a volunteer in the 121st Ohio Infantry.
