

News of a Local Nature

C. C. Holliday, of Mildale, was a city visitor Tuesday.

R. E. Williams, one of the pioneers of Redfern Table, was a city visitor Tuesday.

Michael Lenard, of Anselmo, was in the city Tuesday making final proof on his homestead.

Mayor George was attending to business matters in Omaha and Lincoln the first of the week.

The graduating classes of Mason and Ansley were in the city Saturday getting photographs taken.

Miss Eva Cadwell reached home last Thursday from Chicago where she has been studying music since last fall.

Charley Jeffords was out Tuesday, announced himself recovered from a four days sickness and needing the price of a shave.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wilson left last Sunday for a trip through New Mexico, expecting to be away from home about three weeks.

At the rate cement walks are now being laid—if continued—several miles will be constructed in Broken Bow before snow flies next fall.

Harry Sutton, Percy Yeast and L. E. Ballinger, of Hyannis, were in the city Tuesday. Mr. Sutton was making proof on his homestead.

The heavy frost Tuesday morning was general over the state and reports from various portions announce the destruction of the strawberry crop.

Mayor George found a taker for the dollar he offered to anyone who would put a new rope in the pulley on the park flag staff. O. H. Conrad did it.

Amos and Henry Rummery and Ira Runyan, of Mason City, were in the city last Thursday night on their way to Halsey to look for government land.

J. D. Ream secured a release from jury duty Tuesday on account of the illness of Mrs. Ream who has an attack of measles which are most severe when contracted by persons of her age.

J. M. McCormick, deputy assessor of Ansley township, was in the city Monday making his returns. He reports quite an increase in the valuation of the township during the past year.

Rev. T. C. McIntire, pastor of the Christian church of Ansley, was looking after government land at the U. S. land office in this city Tuesday. He thinks of locating in the vicinity of Halsey.

Clarence Smith and sister, Miss May, expect to leave Saturday morning for a three or four weeks' visit in Northwestern Iowa. Miss Mildred Windnagle accompanies them as far as Lincoln.

Major J. S. Miller, of Omaha, who is to deliver the Memorial address this afternoon, arrived in the city Monday and has been visiting his brother, Cyrus Miller, who resides a few miles southeast of the city.

County Clerk Pigman is humping around this week with a kink in his back. He says it's a slight attack of rheumatism, but his friends claim it's pleurisy and in order to settle the question a mass meeting of citizens will probably be called to decide the question after he recovers.

Ben Johnson has returned to the city from the Currie ranch where he has been engaged in painting the buildings the past four weeks. Two barrels of red paint, one barrel of linseed oil and 500 pounds of white lead was consumed in the operation.

Frank R. Huxtable writes that he is now holding down and cultivating a chunk of Uncle Sam's domain with Halsey for his postoffice, and requests that the REPUBLICAN be sent him so he can keep posted on Broken Bow doings. He will return sometime during the summer for a few days visit, he says.

Sterling Boyles, residing near Berwyn, returned yesterday from a trip to British Columbia, accompanied by a brother whom he had not seen since before the war and knew not whether he was alive or where he was until last January, when he received a letter from the brother in reply to an advertisement inserted in an eastern paper by Mr. Boyles, who left here last March for an overland trip of 200 miles from Vancouver to his brother's residence.

This is indeed lovely weather for the weeds.

Every load of hay brought into Broken Bow is eagerly sought by citizens, regardless of price which is "up and coming."

Miss Ollie Pickett went to Dunning last week and will visit her brother, Capt. Pickett, until the opening of the Junior Normal, the 17th of next month.

It is just as necessary that Broken Bow be attractive as it is to have its business great or its morals sound, but the appearance of the city hall building does not indicate that this is a fact.

Those Broken Bow ladies who invested in much summer weather toggery are becoming very weary of waiting for weather that will permit of its wearing without appearing to be "rushing the season."

The dog muzzling ordinance is being enforced in several neighboring towns, but isn't necessary in Broken Bow. Our canines are not of the beligerent or crazy sort and, anyhow, this city is not crowded with purps.

Doctor Pickett attended the annual meeting of the State Electric Medical Ass'n in Lincoln last week and reports one of the best sessions ever held, the addresses delivered and the papers read being very entertaining and instructive.

The Broken Bow small boy wasn't long without an occupation after the close of school. This week he has been very busy on the banks of Muddy creek using all the persuasive powers he can command in an effort to induce bull heads, to partake of feed he has prepared for them—with a "string to it."

The board of supervisors are scheduled to assemble at the court house next Tuesday, the 4th day of June, to clean up a bunch of business matters that has accumulated since adjournment two months ago, and if the members are as full of vim as usual, it won't take long to accomplish the task.

W. S. Stevens, of Comstock, postmaster and dealer in general merchandise was in the city Monday and Tuesday. Comstock is a lively burg and good business point and with a newspaper would become more so. He realizes this and says it would also be a profitable investment for some printer who can get up a newsy sheet.

Although a large number of farmers were in town last Saturday most of whom attended Ranney's sale of horses at Richardson's barn, the bidding was not spirited, less than half of the 55 were sold and they were captured at very low prices. The fellows present did not seem to be hungry for horse flesh and no amount of persuasion could excite them to the extent of taking a liberal bit.

J. A. O. Thomas has just attached an auto-sparker to the gasoline engine in his Broken Bow Steam Laundry and he is not only well pleased with the results, but wonders how he managed to do without it so long. It is an insignificant little contraption, but supplies satisfaction in large quantities. Mr. Thomas has put in a number of new machines during the past year and will have to add more if the business continues to increase as it has during that period.

Mel Steinman ceased tickling the soil on his plantation, two miles east of Weissert, long enough to visit his county seat town, Monday, and while here was held up by a representative of the REPUBLICAN for his opinion of crop prospects and he thought that corn would come out all right, thanks to the soaking rains the latter part of last week. He believed, also, that winter wheat would be Johnnie-on-the-spot when the time came for taking it in out of the sunlight.

B. F. Empfield, deputy assessor for Custer township, was in Tuesday bringing the returns. By rustling he found 5,900 head of cattle; 6,350 hogs; 1,580 horses, and that 108 head of critters died from stock disease. During the first year $10,200 worth of improvements have been made and acreage as follows: wheat 3,107; oats 3,000; corn 11,863. If he failed to list every assessable in the township he would be glad to be notified by parties who were missed. It was not his intention to slight anyone.

Charley Penn has gone to New Mexico and, with J. J. Wilson, will investigate a mining proposition.

John Finch and John McGuire, of Arnold, are in the city this week, summoned as witnesses to testify in the Grautman-Smith shooting episode.

Lewis Kimberling, deputy assessor of Arnold township, brought in his returns the first of the week and is still in the city, a witness in the Grautman-Smith shooting case.

At a regular meeting of the Odd Fellows lodge Monday night J. W. White was elected Noble Grand and Wm. B. Schaeffer Vice-Grand for the ensuing term beginning July 1st.

Rev. Jno. D. Brady will spend next Sunday at Loup City and Rev. R. T. Gurnsey, pastor of the Loup City Baptist church, will preach both morning and evening in Broken Bow.

Mrs. Dr. Pennington and daughter, Luella, leave this evening for a visit of two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Stewart, at Denton, Kansas. This will give the doctor an opportunity of filling up on lunch counter diet and getting fat, but will he?

Prof. McIndoo hopes that the pupils of the Broken Bow schools turn out en masse, assembling in the park, to accompany the old soldiers to the cemetery and decorate the graves of their departed comrades. The procession will form and leave the square at 10:30 this forenoon.

Harry Wright, residing 5 miles northwest of town was taken with measles, but after laying up a couple of days could not stand to be cooped up any longer and went forth to his work with the result that there was a relapse which developed into pneumonia and he is now a very sick young man.

Bert Kimball, residing 5 miles southeast of Broken Bow, is a very much father since last Friday when a pair of girls arrived to call him papa and, until they are old enough to be taught better, keep him busy during the small hours of the night. But he's as happy as if the bunch had consisted of twice as many.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Willing left last Sunday evening for the east to be absent from home until about the 1st of July. They will first visit the family of his brother at Youngstown, Ohio, and then a number of cities in several states as far east as New York. J. R. Teagarden is assisting in the store during his absence.

Judge Sullivan, president of the Custer County Fair association, states that the fair will be held the second week in September, beginning the 10th and continuing four days. He says there will not be an ostrich race, but some of the best horse races ever pulled off in Central Nebraska, and an increase in the amount of premiums for stock and agricultural products. There will also be numerous and new free attractions.

James Whitehead, who returned from a visit to Kansas reports that the small grain crop in Kansas and southeastern Nebraska can not possibly make more than a third of a crop. The green bugs, together with the unfavorable season, have combined to greatly injure the wheat, oats and barley and fear is entertained in Kansas that the green bug will go to the corn fields as soon as it completes its devastating work in the wheat fields. Mr. Whitehead states that he was informed that the condition of the wheat in Oklahoma is even worse than in Kansas as there is scarcely a field that will be harvested.

Now that the city schools have closed and those teachers who live at a distance gone to their homes a little incident that occurred in one of the rooms one day last winter may not cause the lady instructor to blush. She suddenly asked a boy: "Johnny, what are you fumbling with?" He did not reply but his seat-mate answered that he had a pin. "Take it from him and bring it to me," said the teacher. This was done, whereupon she ordered him to rise and recite a lesson. The boy grinned and sat still. "Stand up, I tell you," commanded the teacher. Then the boy blurted out: "I can't, ma'am; that there pin wot you took from me was a-holdin' up my pants." It is needless to add the pin was returned to him.
