

CUSTER COUNTY REPUBLICAN.

VOL. XXVI.

BROKEN BOW, CUSTER COUNTY, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1907.

NO. 7.

You have an old clock on your shelf or stowed away in some dark garret, that hasn't ticked the time of day or night for many moons.

It may have good works that only need a little oil and brushing to make it just the thing for a kitchen clock.

Use the 'phone or drop a postal card and I will send for it.

If there is any life left in your old clock I'll revive it and bring it home in good order, at trival expense.

Summer Drug Store Service

The proof of good service is the Summer time—"The Good old Summer time."

It's easy enough to be courteous and pleasant and obliging when the weather man has brought cool refreshing breezes near the freezing point.

Come to Baisch's Drug Store, and be surprised. We will be just as courteous and pleasant as when the weather was cool. We hope you are always satisfied with our service.

Ed. McCormick Shot Himself.

On Wednesday of last week, near Arcadia where he and his family have been visiting the family of James Carmody, Ed. McCormick of this city accidentally pulled the trigger of a rifle and sent a bullet through his foot. He and Mr. Carmody were out shooting at targets and Ed. thought of something to say—which is very seldom with him—so he placed the muzzle of the rifle on his foot—its weight and his talk being too heavy to hold up at the same time—and in this position started his spiel to Mr. Carmody. Suddenly there was a report from the gun and also one from Ed. the latter being to the effect that he had shot a hole in his foot. Mr. Carmody could hardly believe the statement and so expressed himself, whereupon McCormick removed his shoe and 'twas found the bullet had gone clean through his foot and lodged in the sole of his shoe.

While quite painful the wound is not deemed a necessarily fatal one and the chances for him having to "pass in his check" is not very encouraging—at the present writing.

A Disastrous Hail Storm.

Mathew S. Harl, of Mullen, was a visitor in Broken Bow on Tuesday and reported the most disastrous hail storm on Monday evening, at about 7 o'clock, that had ever visited the vicinity of Mullen. He stated that after the storm hail stones were nearly a foot deep on the ground. Windows on the north side of the buildings were nearly all broken and all vegetation was beaten into the earth. The hail only extended about two miles south of Mullen.

A Historical Flag.

Reposing in a case in the Smithsonian Institute, is the famous old flag which inspired Francis Scott Key to compose what is now the American national hymn, "The Star Spangled Banner." It is to remain there for two years at least? The historic banner is owned by Eben Appleton, of New York, and is about 20 by 30 feet in size. The flag was loaned to the government by Mr. Appleton through the personal solicitation of Dr. Charles D. Walcott secretary of the institution. Mr. Appleton came into possession of the flag by inheritance. Its first owner, after it had waved in triumph over Fort McHenry during the bombardment of the fortifications by the British on the night of September 13, 1814, was Colonel Aristed, who took the flag down and carried it to his quarters after the British fleet, baffled, had withdrawn. Later he gave it to his mother, who in turn passed it along to her grand-daughter. Through marriage, the flag passed into the possession of the Appleton family.

Words of Commendation.

The office of county assessor is the office coming closest to all the people and a man must be chosen who has more than an ordinary knowledge of taxable values, one who will as strenuously and as cleanly use same as has Mr. Haumont in establishing the regime of this especially important county office.

It will be remembered that Mr. M. R. Foster, of Victoria precinct, came to the county convention which nominated Mr. Haumont, with superlative endorsements and many votes for the position, and it is wished by all these influences that he now get into the race as a candidate before the people in their initiation of the primary law.

Mr. Foster is a Custer county pioneer farmer and is favorably known over the county as one of the "wheel horses" of republican zeal for the "square deal" and for clean politics. He is not a party partizan and his standard of equal privilege before the law and equal opportunity before the people to every man has been so evident that Victoria precinct has never failed to elect him to any office he would accept. He has had all the experience there is as precinct assessor in both successive elections and appointments and the county could not make a mistake in nominating and electing him to the county assessors office. Let's do it.

VICTORIA REPUBLICAN.
