

"The Preacher and the Bear" from Another View.

Courage is one of the high attributes of human nature. There are two kinds of courage and for the purpose of this article we will call them honorable and dishonorable.

The dishonorable courage delights in daring deeds—fearless of consequences and glories in physical or mental combativeness. Frequently that kind of courage is prompted by anger, rather than good motives. Their ambition to engage their adversary in physical combat is not the only phase of this courage nor is it confined to either sex.

The courage of the tongue of the tattler, which does not hesitate to busy itself in other people's affairs or to injure the good name of another often results in more harm than does physical strife.

Another phase of that dishonorable courage manifests itself by cowardly methods. Sometimes in writing to another or sending an article to the paper for publication concerning some one, withholding their own name. Sometimes they will prompt someone else to do some mean act and keep themselves in the background. That we consider most detestable cowardice.

The honorable courage is the one which is actuated by principles of right. The courage that seeks to do the right thing and has the power to say no when tempted to do wrong.

It is a grace not common to all and can only be acquired by living in close touch with the teachings of God's word.

Apostle Paul gave us a striking example of true courage when he was brought, bound, before Felix and stood up in the midst and boldly declared Christ.

The man or woman who has the discretion to hold his tongue, control their temper and the courage to exemplify the teaching of Christ, when he said, "Resist not evil; but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek turn to him the other also," has attained to that degree of Christian courage that should be commended rather than ridiculed—especially by Christians. When Rev. Baumgardner was smitten on one cheek he manifested the Christ spirit in retreating, practicing what he preaches.

Gun Club Organized.

A number of citizens of Broken Bow, with the object of organizing a gun club, met at the court house Monday evening, J. G. Van Cott was chosen chairman and Chas. K. Bassett secretary.

After consideration of the matter and remarks by Capt. Hardy, of Lincoln, who chanced to be in the city, an organization was perfected by the election of the following officers: John McGraw, president; J. G. VanCott, vice-pres.; Chas. K. Bassett, secretary; E. H. Holcomb, treas.; Walter Harris, field captain.

The membership fee was placed at $2.00, and committees appointed on Constitution and By-Laws and to select grounds.

It is the intention to hold a shooting tournament during fair week which will bring a large number to the city from all parts of the state and the efforts of the club are worthy of encouragement.

Married.

At Grand Island, Neb., on Monday, July 21, 1907, Mr. Alvin Burk and Miss Emma F. Bennet, of Broken Bow, were united in marriage. Rev. John Gregory of the First M. E. church at Grand Island performing the ceremony.

This union of hearts and hands, for better or for worse; for weal or woe, has long been anticipated by Broken Bow friends of these popular young people, but it was not thought they would "steal a march" when the appointed time came. But all is forgiven and acquaintances will take pleasure in extending best wishes for their happiness and prosperity throughout the remaining years of their lives.

It's about time for the speculators to start another green bug scare.

My Hair is Extra Long

Feed your hair; nourish it; give it something to live on. Then it will stop falling, and will grow long and heavy. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the only hair-food you can buy. For 60 years it has been doing just what we claim it will do. It will not disappoint you.

"My hair used to be very short. But after using Ayer's Hair Vigor a short time it began to grow, and now it is longer than I have had. This is a special merit to mention being almost without any hair."—Miss J. H. P. Smith, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Good Morning, Doctor Lee.

The following, published in Kearney Hub, concerns a former resident and young business man of this city, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Lee. He has many friends here who will congratulate him on having acquired a handle to his name. The Hub says:

Sometime ago A. J. Lee, the druggist, took a trip to Oklahoma City and there took the required examination before the United States medical board for the practice of medicine. Today he was informed that he passed and was granted a certificate entitling him to practice in Oklahoma. It is not his intention to go there, however, and the examination was taken simply to see how he would stand.

Ryno Rumbings.

Mrs. C. E. Conley has got back from the Ozark country, where she went to see her brother, Frank Lyle, reported very low with heart trouble. She left him much improved in health. Frank used to range over this country and his many acquaintances here will be pleased to hear of his recovery.

S. W. Birge and son, Jim, of Broken Bow, are out on the farm harvesting their wheat.

The wind the other night came near playing havoc with Geo. Pelkey's new block house now in course of erection on Ryno table.

Mrs. Reeves is still in Iowa in attendance on her mother who is gradually growing worse. It keeps Jack busy doing his own work and hoeing the garden. Raspberries and cream is on the menu now.

Dry Valley Doings.

Harvesting has begun, John Koohn's wheat being the first to be cut, Mr. Ferguson doing the cutting with his new Deering binder.

Mrs. Henry Worley arrived at her sister's home in Tennessee too late to see her as she was buried before she got there.

We are having some awfully warm weather—just the kind for corn. The second crop of alfalfa is being cut and stacked and is pretty good.

Some hail stones fell during the rain Wednesday night but did no damage. This kind of weather makes business good on the shady side of the street and the idlers may be seen congregating where there is the most shade.

Mr. Glover, the president of the Farmer's club, was saying everyone ought to be able to spare 1/2 day each month to attend the club's meeting. We are sorry to say, however, that it is impossible for us to do so, much to our regret, but on the other hand are obliged to use the Sabbath to "chock in" occasionally in order to keep up the work.

A heavy wind visited these parts doing some damage in the way of blowing the tops of stacks and blowing down and tangling small grain.

Prairie Hill Happenings.

Mrs. Lizzie Poul, of Callaway, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bay last week.

Mr. Neth and daughter, Belle, visited at the Loup, Saturday and Sunday.

Goldie Hogaboom spent Sunday, at Mr. Neth's in Union Valley.

Roy Huffman and Perry Morford, spent Sunday at Mr. Neth's.

A large crowd attended the ice cream supper at Prairie Hill Saturday night. An enjoyable time was had by all, but all going home at an early hour on account of the rain.

Ola Thomas and Flossie Evens, spent Sunday at Mr. Bryon's in Union Valley.

Susie Thomas visited at Huffman's last Sunday.

A heavy wind and rain visit the neighborhood last Thursday, destroying a number of trees and blowing down several wind mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Thomas, spent Sunday at George Reader's.

Zumbrotta Zephyrs.

On the evening of July 18, Mrs. A. I. Routh gave a party to the young people of the neighborhood. The gathering was in honor of her son, Walter's, twenty-second birthday. It was planned as a surprise to the young man and no doubt would have been carried out successfully had he not found the five cakes which his mother had prepared to be eaten with the equally fine ice cream which was served during the evening. A most enjoyable time is reported by those present.

John Kooser's had quite a large family last Sunday for dinner. Those present were: Frank Griffith and wife, Jack Martin and family, Mr. Bradburn and sister, Grace, and M. D. Callen, wife and little Maudie.

Joe Cole's enjoyed a few days visit last week with their cousin, Mrs. Seeley, whose home is in Kewanee, Ill., but who was on her way to Colorado to spend a short time before returning to Ill.

Butler Sands and family visited in the Bow last Sunday at I. N. Pershall's.

Miss Nine McComas is on the sick list. Miss Lola Ellis is staying with her for a few days.

Olive Cole visited a few days with her grandparents in the Bow last week.

Miss Florence Emerson sewed a few days this week for Mrs. M. D. Callen.

Everyone is busy harvesting.

Chas. Foote is working for Dave Dewey.
