Two negroes, while trying to board a freight train at Gibbon, failed to get on, and one falling with his leg across the track, had it cut off just above the ankle.

Moor & Dearing closed deals at Brule with C. M. Gray of Humboldt, Ia., and A. H. Winkler of Glenwood, Ia., two capitalists, for Keith county land to the amount of $60,000.

Eighty acres of land lying one-fourth mile west of St. Paul limits was sold at referee's sale at $55.10 per acre. This was the ground value alone, as there are no buildings on the farm.

A shooting affray occurred at Cody and as a result Pount Sanderson of this place lies in a critical condition from two bullet wounds, one in the breast and one in the left shoulder, inflicted by Jim Butcher, a half-breed Indian. Both men were intoxicated when the shooting occurred.

D. W. Hoyt of York county has been appointed commandant of the Soldiers' Home at Grand Island to succeed Commandant Askwith of Omaha. Mr. Hoyt is at present a deputy oil inspector, having been appointed to that place by Governor Mickey and reappointed by Governor Sheldon.

Preparations are being made for the Gordon county fair and street carnival, which will be held at Gordon on September 17, 18, 19 and 20. Besides the usual display of mammoth field and garden products, there will be balloon ascensions and other free attractions on the grounds each afternoon.

The track layers on the North River branch of the Union Pacific have reached Lewellen and have laid the track for several miles from Lewellen westward on the road to Oshkosh. As long as plenty of material is furnished, such as ties and steel, almost a mile of track can be laid daily, but the shortage of supplies has prohibited the keeping up of any such record.

Charles Shindler, who lived near Flowersfield in Banner county, came to his death under singular circumstances. It is presumed that he was standing on a wagon, filling a barrel from a large tank, when he fell into the tank, where his body was found later in the day. The state board of public lands and buildings has rejected all bids on the proposed new addition to the Orthopedic hospital and the Home for the Friendless because the estimates of the contractors exceeded the appropriations. The legislature appropriated $2,500 for an addition to the home and the lowest bid called for an expenditure of $3,004. The board will probably secure some reputable contractor to supervise the building of the structure for an agreed percentage on the cost of material and labor.

LINCOLN FORTY YEARS OLD.

Capital Formally Located by Proclamation, August 14.

Forty years ago today, says the Lincoln Journal, a proclamation was issued declaring the state capitol should be located at the village of Lancaster and that provision should be made to reserve land for the use of state university, a state farm, a court house for Lancaster county, a city hall and market space, a state historical library association and several public schools. The commission, composed of David Butler, Thomas P. Kennard and John Gillespie, started for Nebraska City on the afternoon of July 18, and visited the towns of Yankee Hill, Lancaster, Ashland, Seward, Milford, Camden and Saline City. On the afternoon of July 29 the commissioners assembled in the house of W. T. Donovan in Lancaster, and after a free discussion as to the advantages of the different places visited, a ballot was taken, resulting in Lancaster two and Ashland one. On the second ballot the choice fell on Lancaster by a unanimous vote of the commission. The governor announced the result to the people, many of whom were on the outside awaiting the result of the vote.

After the place was decided upon, a surveyor was left here to locate the depressions and elevations preliminary to furnishing a design for laying off the blocks, streets and reservations. On August 13 the commissioners again assembled at Lancaster and the next day formally announced the founding of the town of Lincoln as the seat of government. After that the town was blocked off. On September 17 the first sale of lots was held. It was a rainy, cold day and a small crowd came to the sale. The first lot was sold to J. G. Miller for $40.25. However, the following days were better and the sale closed after five days with an aggregate sale of $34,000.

GLANDERS IN TWO COUNTIES.

Fearing in Saunders and Dodge and Seven Horses Have Been Shot.

Fremont—Something of a sensation among farmers of this section was caused when it became known that an epidemic of glanders threatened horses and stock.

William Hayes, a farmer living three miles south of Fremont in Saunders county, filed suit in district court asking judgment for $1,500 against Arthur Rasmussen and Henning Nelson, both of Saunders county.

The complaint alleges that in February Hayes bought two horses from the defendants and both had glanders, that Nelson and Rasmussen knew it but represented the animals to be sound in every way.

Innocent of the ailment Hayes used the team for driving through the county, and many horses in both Saunders and Dodge were laid liable to infection of the fatal malady. About a month ago one of the horses died. Dr. P. Simmons, a local veterinarian, was called in to attend the other horse. He pronounced the disease glanders, and sent for the state veterinarian. The second horse was shot.

Last week Hayes found five horses sick. Dr. Simmons was called. "Glanders," he said. This time, the state veterinarian shot all five horses. For the loss of the seven horses Hayes, who is highly incensed, because his wife and children may have caught the dread disease, wants $1,500.

WOLVES FOR NEBRASKA.

Wyoming Man Has Two to Sell to the Governor.

Lincoln—Governor Sheldon has been offered a couple of young wolves by a resident of Sheridan, Wyo., at a reduced figure of $25 each. They are as gentle as dogs, he says. He evidently wants to get rid of them, for he offers to ship them to the executive without pay. His letter is as follows:

Governor Sheldon, Lincoln, Neb.—Hon. Sir: Having been informed you were getting a zoological collection, I write you in regard to the purchase of two pet wolves, aged about 5 months old, very large and as gentle as dogs. The price asked is $50, or will ship direct to Lincoln, if you prefer, and the express charges being guaranteed both ways, if not satisfactory. Yours truly, B. E. GARRETSON.

After Local Lumber Combines.

When the suit now pending against the Lumber Dealers' association is decided, Attorney General Thompson in all probability will proceed against alleged local combinations among the dealers. The testimony introduced in the case against the state association indicated the existence of local combinations and this evidence will be sifted to the bottom. Since the case was submitted Mr. Thompson has secured other evidence tending to prove there are local combines which control the price of lumber to the consumer.

Her Legacy Only $25.

Central City—Twenty-five dollars is the legacy left by William H. Denniston, a wealthy Pittsburg capitalist, to his daughter, Mrs. Mary Winslow. Mr. Denniston, together with two other Pittsburg capitalists, invested in Merrick county ranches, and in his will which was filed for probate in this county a peculiar tale of domestic trouble is presented. He stipulated that $25 should be all that his daughter Mary should receive from his estate directly or indirectly.

THIRST WAS FIRST THOUGHT.

Familia: Sound Cause of Young Man's Bad Break.

John C. Risley of Detroit, at the New York convention of the International Society of Hotel and Restaurant Employes—a convention notable for its condemnation of the tipping system—said to a reporter:

"The public thinks that we waiters get rich off our tips. The public is very ignorant in this matter. When I think of its dense ignorance I am reminded of a political meeting I attended last April. There was a chap at this meeting who knew nothing of parliamentary procedure, and, besides that, he was half full. Well, in the course of the meeting there was a lot of excitement and shouting. It grew worse and worse. The chairman, in the end, had to hammer on the table and yell:

"Order! Order!"

"Beer for me," said the ignorant young man."

VERY BAD FORM OF ECZEMA.

Suffered Three Years—Physicians Did No Good—Perfectly Well After Using Cuticura Remedies.

"I take great pleasure in informing you that I am a sufferer of eczema in a very bad form for the past three years. I consulted and treated with a number of physicians in Chicago, but to no avail. I commenced using the Cuticura Remedies, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills, three months ago, and to-day I am perfectly well, the disease having left me entirely. I cannot recommend the Cuticura Remedies too highly to anyone suffering with the disease that I have had. Mrs. Florence E. Atwood, 18 Crilly Place, Chicago, Ill., October 2, 1905. Witness: L. S. Berger."

Patron Saint of Lawyers.

This story is told at the expense of Francis H. T. Maxwell, a well-known lawyer. The members of the Taunton, Mass., Bar association thought they ought to have a patron saint, but after much wrangling they could not hit upon any particular saint.

Finally a committee, of which Mr. Maxwell was a member, was appointed to make a selection. They made a trip to New York, and there visited a gallery where most of the saints were carved in marble. It was decided to leave the selection to Mr. Maxwell, and after making the rounds he placed his hand on one in a group of two. "This one will do," he said. He had his hand on the devil, whom St. Michael was driving before him.

Impudence of Hoi Polloi.

A noted English artist was standing at the edge of the road, waiting for his horse, and he was dressed in his usual peculiar style—mustard-colored riding suit, vivid waistcoat and bright red tie. A man, who had evidently been reveling, happened to lurch round the corner of the street. He stared at the famous artist for a minute in silence, then he touched his cap and asked in a tone of deep commiseration, "Beg pardon, guv'nor, was you in mournin' for anybody?"

The Motor Face.

A few days ago a well-known personage was motoring in Derbyshire when a policeman stopped him, relates the London Tatler.

"You'll have to take off that mask," said the officer, "it's frightening everyone who sees it."

"But I'm not wearing one," explained the unfortunate offender.

Golf Player Lightning's Victim.

During a thunderstorm near Glasgow a golf player named George Harrie was struck and killed by lightning, which ripped off his clothing, including his boots, and extracted all his teeth. It made a hole three feet deep where he had been standing.

No impulse is too splendid for the simplest task; no task is too simple for the most splendid impulse.—Phillips Brooks.

BAD DREAMS

Frequently Due to Coffee Drinking.

One of the common symptoms of coffee poisoning is the bad dreams that spoil what should be restful sleep. A man who found the reason says:

"Formerly I was a slave to coffee. I was like a morphia fiend, could not sleep at night, would roll and toss in my bed and when I did get to sleep was disturbed by dreams and hobgoblins, would wake up with headaches and feel bad all day, so nervous I could not attend to business. My writing looked like bird tracks, I had sour belchings from the stomach, indigestion, heartburn and palpitation of the heart, constipation, irregularity of the kidneys, etc.

"Indeed, I began to feel I had all the troubles that human flesh could suffer, but when a friend advised me to leave off coffee I felt as if he had insulted me. I could not bear the idea, it had such a hold on me and I refused to believe it the cause.

"But it turned out that no advice was ever given at a more needed time for I finally consented to try Postum and with the going of coffee and the coming of Postum all my troubles have gone and health has returned. I eat and sleep well now, nerves steadied down and I write a fair hand (as you can see), can attend to business again and rejoice that I am free from the monster coffee."

Ten days' trial of Postum in place of coffee will bring sound, restful, refreshing sleep. "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. Some physicians call it "a little health classic."

Bobbin Boys' Wages.

John B. Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, delivered recently an address on strikes.

Turning to the amusing features of the strike question, Mr. Lennon said: "I remember a strike of bobbin boys, a just strike, and one that succeeded. These boys conducted their fight well, even brilliantly. Thus the day they turned out they posted in the spinning room of their employers' mill a great placard inscribed with the words:

"The wages of sin is death, but the wages of the bobbin boys is worse."

Sheer white goods, in fact, any fine wash goods when new, owe much of their attractiveness to the way they are laundered, this being done in a manner to enhance their textile beauty. Home laundering would be equally satisfactory if proper attention was given to starching, the first essential being good Starch, which has sufficient strength to stiffen, without thickening the goods. Try Defiance Starch and you will be pleasantly surprised at the improved appearance of your work.

No Peace Conference.

"Are you going to strike, ma?" asked the little boy, as he tremblingly gazed upon the uplifted shingle.

"That's just what I'm going to do."

"Can't we arbitrate, ma, before you strike?"

"I am just going to arbitrate," she said, as the shingle descended and raised a cloud of dust from the seat of a pair of pantaloons—"I am just going to arbitrate, my son, and this shingle is the board of arbitration."

Places of Interest Neglected.

Two of the most attractive places for instruction in New York city are the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the American Museum of Natural History, yet there are thousands of residents of New York who have never been in them, and more than half of their daily visitors are strangers in the city.

With a smooth iron and Defiance Starch, you can launder your shirt-waist just as well at home as the steam laundry can; it will have the proper stiffness and finish, there will be less wear and tear of the goods, and it will be a positive pleasure to use a Starch that does not stick to the iron.

"Why, pa, don't you know," said Johnny, "mamma says Uncle Henry only loafs and fishes."
