Through an order of the Interstate Commerce commission this week, the rates on wheat from Nebraska to the Pacific coast terminals was cut sharply. The rate has been 75c a hundred; the commission rules that everything over 65c is excessive. The decision was handed down in the case of the A. J. Poor Grain Co. against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway and others.

Local provision dealers have been advised that bulk oysters are a thing of the past in this section. The bivalve trust has designated that the public must buy them in cans or go without them, and the price lists indicate that the prices have been boosted so that instead of two oysters in the stew bowl there will only be one—and the shadow of that one.

The republicans will have no occasion this year to vote for any of the candidates on other tickets in order to get better men. The republican candidates are all well qualified to fill their respective positions for which they have been nominated, and personally, are men of good character and worthy of support.

Somebody—whose mind runs strongly to classification—ought to get out a descriptive catalogue of the different species of tariff revisionists, such as premature, early spring, late fall, after election and twenty-gryt century.

If the small boy or young man so far forgets himself as to hold his Mary Ann's hand while riding on the merry-go-round, just sorter shut your eyes and never notice. Remember that you were young once—yourself.

The voters who persist in voting for the best men regardless of their political affiliations will find these men on the republican ticket this year for both state and county offices.

The queerest thing about baseball is the way some dub team can arise at the crucial moment in an exciting race and lick the tar out of a team with permanent possibilities.

Men Are Queer Ducks. According to the Mullen Tribune "men are queer ducks, there is no question about it. For example, wouldn't there be a roar, when they went home to their meals, if they had to climb upon a high stool in front of a table on which there was no cloth, and eat their meals in this fashion. Yet the majority of men, when they go to a restaurant to eat, will pick out the highest stool, and the feed board with no cloth on it in preference to a comfortable chair and a cloth-covered table.

"A man will borrow a chew of tobacco and most of them will set their teeth into the plug right over where some other men have gnawed off a chew. But offer him a piece of pie, at home, from which his wife or one of the children have taken a bite, and he would holler his head off.

"At home he will not drink out of a cup from which some one of the family has been drinking. Just call him into the back stall of a livery stable, pull out a bottle and stick the bottle half way down his throat to get a good swig after a half dozen fellows have had the neck of the same bottle in their mouths, and he will call you a fine fellow. Yes, man is a queer duck."

My Hair Ran Away

Don't have a falling out with your hair. It might leave you! Then what? That would mean thin, scraggly, uneven, rough hair. Keep your hair at home! Fasten it tightly to your scalp! You can easily do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is something more than a simple hair dressing. It is a hair medicine, a hair tonic, a hair food.

LARGE CROWD IDEAL WEATHER

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS THE ORDER OF THE DAY

Cattle and Hog Exhibit the Best in the History of the Exhibition—Horses and Poultry Exhibit a Little below Average of former Years.

When "Old Sol" peeped his head above the eastern horizon Tuesday morning it fairly beamed upon the fair city of Broken Bow. Early were its inhabitants around making ready for the entertainment of visitors from far and near.

Long before daylight wagons, buggies, bicycles, automobiles and carriages could be seen wending their way towards Broken Bow to attend the fair.

From the first crack of the cannon on Tuesday morning until the last tired head rested on its pillow Friday night joy was unconfined, and when the moon spread silvery rays across the plains it rested upon thirty-five hundred tired but happy people.

Many innocent sports were indulged in by the masses during the evenings. There was baby rackets, nigger dodgers, merry-go-rounds for the children, while the grown-up people took in theatres after which they adjourned to the armory or bowery where the brawny arms of the noble sons of Nebraska encircled the willow waists of the fair daughters of this great country and there they tripped the light fantastic toe until the 'we sma' hours of the reign of Morpheus.

The crowd at the Opera house on the North Side last night was the largest ever seen at a play in this city. The attraction was "A Texas Ranger." Over one hundred people were refused admission as standing and sitting room was unavailable. There was also good crowds at the Temple theatre each night.

Some gambling and skin games were conducted the first day at the fair grounds, but was soon stopped when the fine Italian hand of Mayor George was made visible therein.

No serious accidents were reported during the week and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of visitors Crooks, of all kinds, which have been infesting other fairs throughout the state gave Broken Bow a wide berth and it is well they did, for the police force were prepared for them.

There was a fine exhibit of cattle and hogs this year. Judge Reese had a fine selection of his Durocs on exhibit. John Woods exhibited some Poland-Chinas.

J. E. Sargent had a fine exhibit of Poland-China hogs.

Charley Wright exhibited some very fine Chester White hogs.

M. E. Vanderburg of Sargent, exhibited some very fine short horn cattle.

Quintance Dady had a fine two year old red Polled bull on exhibition. It weighed 1800 pounds and last year took first prize in sweepstakes at the state fair.

Dr. Brenizer had on exhibit a very fine bunch of short huns. Some of them took first premium at the state fair.

B. J. Tierney was on hand as usual with a large exhibit of short horn and Hereford cattle and Poland-China hogs.

The fruit exhibit this year was not so large as former years, but what was shown deserve special mention, especially the peaches and grapes which were of a very fine quality. The display of vegetables and garden stuffs was well represented.

The flower parade was one of the very prettiest attractions at the fair in which everybody was delighted. Some of the individual rigs were decorated most beautiful, even more elaborate than any seen in larger cities. Both the Highlanders and M. B. A. lodges were represented. On the latter float were both the degree and drill teams, dressed in the respective costumes. The drill team gave a public drill in front of the amphitheatre and it was highly complimented.

Another of the many attractions at the fair grounds was the balloon ascensions Wednesday and Friday which proved to be the most successful ever seen in this country.

Frank Ward's horses made an excellent showing this year. In the 1/2 mile green trot "Totwood" won first. His horse "Billy" got first in the green running race on Wednesday and "Sweethome" first in the 1/2 mile and repeat.

On Thursday, "Sweethome" won first in the 3/4 mile dash and on Friday she won first in the 1/2 mile and repeat.

Ed. McComas' horse won the three-year-old trot or pace on Thursday.

"Maud Allen", a horse from Ravenna, won the free-for-all trot or pace Friday.

As we go to press we are unable to give a full account of the different prizes awarded.

Police Have Their Troubles.

An event of some interest in certain circles was the arrival at the fair grounds on Friday afternoon of a certain individual of whose name we have not learned and who appears to have made matters lively for the ground police for quite a while. The man in question attempted to go over the quarter stretch when he was accosted by Marshal Armstrong, who tried to force him back. He was unable to handle the stranger and called upon three more. The sights were raised and one, two, three followed by four were invited to step forth at an identical instant. Then the fracas commenced and in a few minutes the officers were crawling around on their hands and knees. The crowd finally overpowered the giant and loaded him into an open hack and started for town. When on top of the hill between here and the grounds the stranger hit Armstrong, knocking him back over out of the rig and then he started across the alfalfa field, a posse in pursuit, headed by Sheriff Richardson. He was found hiding in a barrel of rain water on Mr. Waters' place. He was placed under arrest, bound and tied between two horses and escorted to the city bastille and placed in repose within its storied walls. It is said the stranger pulled a gun on Marshal Armstrong, but this report lacks verification.

Big Seller.

"She is very wealthy?" "Very." "Money left to her?" "No; she is the author of a book entitled 'Hints to Beautiful Women.'" "I presume all the beautiful women in the country purchased it?" "No; but the homely women did."—Houston Post.

Gold Production.

The production of gold in the United States during 1906 is estimated by the director of the mint at $96,101,000, which is an increase of $5,000,000 over that of 1905. The production of silver is estimated at 56,183,000 ounces, an increase of $2,000 ounces over that of the previous year.

A Useful Explanation.

"The climate is very cold in St. Petersburg, is it not?" "Yes," answered the traveler, "and fortunately so. The circumstance enables an official to argue that he is shivering because he is chilly instead of because he is nervous."—Washington Star.

Didn't Always Refuse.

"I've tried to discourage Mr. Nerville from calling on you," snapped the stern parent, "but the young scamp refuses to be sat upon." "Why, father, you do him an injustice," indignantly replied the dear girl.—Kansas City Times.

Heard at the Circus.

The "professor" was assuring his auditors that the strange animal they now beheld was the only one of its kind in captivity. A mild-mannered man edged his way to the front and waited for a pause in the oratory. "Is this an amphibious animal?" he asked, timidly, when his chance came. "Amphibious?" retorted the "professor." "Amphibious nothing. Why he'd bite you in a minute."—Kansas City Times.

Took Six Years to Make.

Six years, 540 yards of duchess silk lace, 400 yards of silk thread, and an infinite amount of patience were consumed by Miss Amelia M. Redel, of Marshalltown, Ia., in making a black lace dress. Miss Redel conceived the idea of a hand-made lace dress six years ago, and immediately set to work to carry out that idea. She has just finished her task. The waist and skirt each are in one piece. The design was worked out over a foundation of cambric.

From Society News of the Future.

"At midnight, amid the customary shower of rice and old shoes, the bride and groom left by special express elevator for the roof, where they went immediately aboard the Mars-American liner Windjammer, which flew at nine o'clock this morning. On their return from an extended tour of the planets, the young couple will reside on the forty-second floor."—Puck.

An Important Distinction.

"Do you think America is developing an aristocracy?" "I strongly suspect it," answered Miss Cayenne. "A great deal of deference is being shown toward people who got their money in trade instead of getting it by graft."—Washington Star.
