Drugs

No medicine can be exactly right—do the work your doctor intended it should—unless the proper ingredients are used in their composition. The only way you can possibly be sure of obtaining the best results with medicines is by having your prescriptions filled at a pharmacy where the greatest pains are taken to co-operate with the physician for better results. We ask you to let us do your prescription work.

Better Pleased Than Ever Before

From the Callaway Queen.

The writer succeeded in visiting the Broken Bow fair last Friday, and was well pleased with the entertainment. We have visited this fair a number of times, but must say that we were better pleased with the entertainment this year than ever before. The racing program was excellent, and the balloon ascension was the very best we have ever seen. The stock and agricultural exhibits were excellent. One thing in particular which took our eyes was the exhibit of Duroc Jerseys by Judge Reese. We do not just remember the number of pens his herd occupied, but we do remember that there was but one second premium awarded him while the balance of the pens were labeled with first premium tags. Mr. Reese certainly has some of the finest Durocs we have seen, and to say he is proud of them is not half expressing it.

Swallows the Lump—Hair and All

From the Callaway Queen.

For the past fifteen years the editor of the Custer County Beacon has been howling against the third term, and when Joe Armour was elected county judge the third time, Mr. Beal had seven kinds of fits, yet when Charley Richardson received the nomination for sheriff for the third time, Editor Beal swallows the big lump, hair and all, places Richardson's name on the ticket, and dubs it "our ticket." Editor Beal is doing a whole lot of things these days that the said he wouldn't do a few years ago. Wonder why?

Those Who Attended Were Satisfied

From Anselmo Enterprise.

The county fair is once more a thing of the past and all who attended are satisfied that the people of Broken Bow did all in their power to show them an enjoyable time. It being exceedingly hot and dusty made it disagreeable at times but the fair association kept the street sprinkler going night and day thus making it more agreeable than it would otherwise have been. The races and the other attractions were well carried off, there being the best bunch of horses ever put on the Broken Bow track.

Kennedy will Have a "Walk-away"

From the Ansley Chronicle.

Horace Kennedy, the republican nominee for sheriff, was in Ansley Monday getting acquainted with the voters. Mr. Kennedy has a strong following here regardless of party. We have met a number who have been strong supporters of Sheriff Richardson for the past four years, who are now working for the election of Mr. Kennedy. It begins to look like he would have a "walk-away."

Last but Not Least.

Each division of the brewery workers (in the Labor Day parade) carried a banner that explained their connection with the work. Here they are:

We Brew It.

We Bottle It.

We Label It.

We Deliver It.

We Serve It.

We Wash the Bottles.

A wagon occupied by six or eight very large, corpulent, red-checked men, bore the banner:

And We Drink It.

—Kansas City Star.

Truly, a wonderful showing, but the half wasn't told. To have made the story complete there should have been a thousand wagons each wagon occupied by a hundred women and children in mourning or poorly clad, bearing the banner:

We are Wives and children of Men Who Drink It.

The October American Boy.

The October American boy will delight the boys; it is full of matter of interest to grown-ups, as well. There appears the first instalment of a new serial pronounced by the Editor to be the best sea story published in recent years, entitled Jimmy Jones—Pirate, by Dr. Orville Ward Owen. The first chapters of another new serial, A Boy of the Revolution, by Arthur J. Burdick. In all there are 63 separate articles, illustrated by 56 pictures. One dollar a year. The American Boy and REPUBLICAN, both one year for $1.70

What They Would Like.

Nothing would tickle the democrats so much as to have the republicans revise the tariff at the coming session of congress, but republicans have been caught napping in that way once or twice and they will not be caught in the same way another time. The democratic party, two or three years prior to 1892, made strenuous campaigns for the revision of the existing tariff act on the lines of what that party was pleased to denominate "tariff reform." In October of 1890 the McKinley bill was enacted and went upon the statute books. That was only a little more than a year before the presidential campaign of 1892 was opened, and the democrats attacked the tariff act in the most mendacious way. The falsehoods that were told about the operations of the act would make Ananias surrender his leadership as the champion liar of all history and retire in confusion. In the presidential campaign of 1892 democratic workers, disguised as peddlers selling various kinds of merchandise and produce, went about through nearly every congressional district in the northern states, hawking their wares at enormous prices and claiming that the McKinley bill had caused a great increase in the cost of everything. A very large number of people throughout the country believed these democratic workers, became incensed at the republican party and voted the democratic ticket. The result was the defeat of enough republican congressmen to make that body democratic and secure the election of Grover Cleveland.

Republicans Come Out.

The republican primary in Broken Bow township, for the purpose of nominating township officers and the transaction of other business should it be deemed necessary, will be held at the court room in the Custer county court house, in Broken Bow, Nebraska, on Saturday, October 5th, 1907, at 2 o'clock p. m. Every republican should make a special effort to be present.
