Frank Robinson, who is employed as billing clerk with a wholesale implement firm in Omaha, is at home on a week's vacation.

James E. Haney, Charles Brown and James Philpot of Gandy, were city visitors Tuesday, Mr. Haney making proof on his homestead.

C. H. Kennedy, genial landlord of Hotel Ortello, Merna, spent Wednesday in the city. He contemplates retiring from the hotel business shortly.

The Broken Bow Club club will hold a shoot next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the traps on the fair grounds and it is hoped a goodly number of members will be present and participate.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burton, of Bingham, arrived in the city this morning enroute home from Omaha and went out for a few days visit with his brother, Harve Burton, and family, 5 miles northwest.

Next Thursday night is All Halloween and City Marshal Malloy has arranged for several special police to be on guard that night with instructions to arrest everyone who oversteps the law in cutting up capers.

All the old board walks on the west side of the square have been replaced with cement pavements and by the end of this week cement walks will be completed in front of all but three of the business houses on the north side of the square.

W. R. Wheeler, George and Arthur Roper, residing 10 miles south of Ansley, drove to Broken Bow Tuesday afternoon and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Pigman that night. They were enroute to the sandhills on a duck and chicken hunting expedition and will also keep a lookout for good land open for settlement.

H. E. Hall has sold his cigar manufacturing implements to "Dade" Walters who will ship them about the 15th of next month to Missouri and open a factory at Mountain Grove, to which place he has moved. Mr. Hall has not fully decided upon his future maneuvers, but has a notion to also try his luck in Missouri.

The Myrtle Vinton Dramatic Co., will open a three nights engagement at the Opera house next Thursday night. Manager Groat has assurances that the company is first-class in every respect and that all who attend all three performances—or anyone of them—will be well pleased. Seats can be reserved at McComas' drug store or Groat's hardware store.

E. J. Powell, who recently returned from Payette, Idaho, is selling his holdings at Weissert preparatory to going to that state to locate permanently. Mr. Powell is one of the early settlers of the upper Clear creek valley, one of our best citizens, and it is with regret the REPUBLICAN chronicles the fact that he has decided to move from Custer county.

"Hi" Cline, who resided in this county several years on the South Loup, but who has resided in Cherry county the past thirteen years, is in the city for a few days' sojourn. Cherry county is larger than Custer and Mr. Cline says that although he has had considerable business to transact at his county seat he has been able to do in a satisfactory manner without going there personally and, as a matter of fact never visited the county seat during the 13 years he has resided in Cherry county. He says if those who want to divide Custer will adhere more closely to the Golden Rule, they will not be entangled in trouble and have to visit Broken Bow and in that event they are better off with Custer as it is at the present time.

Mrs. L. W. Amsberry left Monday evening for Sidmore, Mo., to visit her parents for a couple of weeks.

If you want to be entertained, go to the Halloween entertainment at the Opera house next Wednesday night, Oct., 30.

Miss Lillie Amsberry came up from college work at Grand Island last Friday evening and remained until Monday evening.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give their Sixth annual Halloween entertainment at the Opera house, Wednesday evening, October 30th—Halloween eve. Admission only 25 cents.

Yock Coffman, of Ute, Iowa, who has been visiting with relatives at Mason City and Ansley, spent last Monday in Broken Bow with acquaintances whom he had not seen for thirty-three years.

Wm. Moorehouse, who was formerly a partner of Judge Reese in the stock business, has returned from the west where he has sojourned since last spring and will take charge of the Reese farm near Arnold.

Mrs. Street, of Merna, accompanied by her daughter and son, Euella and Willie, visited with her sister Mrs. Maggie Bangs, on Monday and witnessed the "Millionaire Tramp" production at the Opera house that night.

Rev. W. T. Powers of Weisert, was in the city last Saturday and informed us that he has sold his farm—on the edge of Rose Valley—for $35 per acre. He expects to reinvest in property in this city or nearby.

John Pirnie, the efficient superintendent of the county poor farm, was in the city Tuesday and in conversation with the REPUBLICAN stated that there is but one charge now in the county home. This certainly speaks well for Custer county which will "fadeth not away."

Hans Dierks, the senior member of the Dierks Lumber and Coal Co., who now resides at Kansas City, arrived in the city Monday evening to look after his financial interests in the county. Mr. Dierks was the pioneer lumberman of Broken Bow and his friends and acquaintances in this city and county are legion.

Franklin W. Hutchinson, who has kept steadily and unceasingly at work in the Sheppard-Burk store the past two years, with but two days lay-off during that time, has resigned his possession and is now a gentleman of leisure—if you please. "Watt" has a notion in his coconut that Montana is about his size and will probably go there and investigate the bet.

L. R. Robinson, who is assistant manager of a wholesale implement house at Omaha, visited in the city a couple of days the latter part of last week on his return from a business trip to Wyoming and South Dakota. This was his first visit here since eight years ago and the improvements made here during that time greatly surprised him although he had heard such things were doing.

Col. John E. Iszard, who has succeeded as landlord of the Commercial hotel in this city eighteen months ago by Frank Smith, since which time Col. Iszard has successfully conducted Hotel Reneau, has now succeeded Mr. Smith and again glitters in the management of the Commercial. He will also continue in charge of the Reneau for several months—till the term of his lease of that property expires.

G. W. Kirkpatrick returned on Wednesday night from an extended visit to scenes of his childhood in eastern states. Mr. Kirkpatrick is one of Merna's respected citizens and a veteran of the civil war. While in the east he visited many places of note, namely: Richmond, Va., Gen. Lee's residence, east of Washington, D. C.; the Mt. Vernon cemetery, where George Washington was buried; the scenes where President Garfield and Lincoln were assassinated. He also took in the sights at the Jamestown exposition.

Claud Willis entertained the M. B. A., Auxiliary at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Willis, last Friday night in an exceedingly pleasant and highly creditable manner. The auxiliary being intended for summer evening's entertainment, it was decided that this be the last meeting until warm weather comes again—next year.

Last Wednesday evening, after the dismissal of school, Miss Maggie Wallace was surprised at home by the arrival there of her teacher and sixteen school mates who brought much good cheer, an abundance of eatables and a bunch of presents, the occasion being Miss Maggie's eleventh birthday. The party was arranged as a surprise by Miss Mamie Chapin and proved a complete success.

Two Blazes.

The family of James Prettyman, residing in the west part of town, were awakened at about 10 o'clock last Thursday night by dense smoke in the house and readily realized the building was on fire. There was a prompt response by the fire department to the alarm bell, but more than an hour's work was required to completely subdue the flames. The cause was a defective flue and the damage is estimated by Mr. Prettyman at about $200.

Tuesday a passing locomotive set fire to the grass on the fair grounds which was communicated to the swine exhibit barn and it was completely destroyed. The alarm bell was sounded which called together the department, and several dray loads of men went out to the scene and prevented the spread of the flames to other buildings.

Death of Mrs. Turnbull.

Death claimed another victim on Monday morning, October 21, 1907, when the grim reaper stole into the home of T. A. Turnbull and deprived them of a mother. Mrs. Turnbull, mother of T. A. Turnbull, has been a sufferer for years from a complication of diseases coupled with advancing years, but has always borne up bravely under her ailments. A few weeks ago she became bed-fast and gradually grew weaker, until Monday morning last when the vital cord snapped and she passed over the river into the great beyond.

OBITUARY.

Sarah J. Clogston, deceased, was born on November 26, 1838, at Marietta, Ohio. She was married in 1854 to Thomas Turnbull; to this union was born ten children, 7 boys and 3 girls. She is survived by four boys, J. W. Turnbull of Omaha; Thomas A. of Broken Bow; Grant of Dunning; W. S. of Brewster. She lived a consistent Christian life for over forty years, was a member of the Peoples' church of Omaha. The funeral services were conducted by the Methodist Episcopal minister, assisted by the pastor of the U. B. church. After the obsequies were performed the funeral cortege was escorted to the Broken Bow cemetery by a large following of the friends of deceased.
