A meeting of the Broken Bow Gun club is called for tomorrow (Friday) night at 7:30 o'clock in I. A. Reneau's office. In addition to regular club business the question of holding a turkey shoot next Monday or Tuesday, none but club members to participate, will be discussed.

Mrs. W. E. Clark, who resides near West Union, came to Broken Bow last Thursday and returned Saturday, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Guyle, arrangements having been completed whereby they will remain all winter. Although there is but little of the winter left their many friends will miss them during their stay in the country.

It is stated that Benger & Decker, fancy stock breeders, whose extensive ranch adjoins Callaway, will exhibit two cars of Herefords, one of heifers and one of steers, at the International stock show, which opens in Chicago next Thursday. They hope to be admitted to the contest for the grand sweepstakes at the International, as they will exhibit some fine grade stock.

Editor F. E. Pinch, of the Merna Postal Card, accompanied by Mrs. Pinch and Miss Lyda Zwick, were Broken Bow visitors Monday. On Tuesday Editor Pinch was slated to leave for a visit to Texas and be absent for a week. It do beat all how some editors can accumulate enough money to pay hotel bills for a week, railroad fare to Texas and then have enough left to get back home again.

Jesse E. Keyser, of Miller, Nebraska, and Lola M. Davis, of Princeton, Missouri, came to Broken Bow last Monday and were united in marriage by Judge Humphrey. Mr. Keyser is a prosperous young farmer of Buffalo county and the bride a hand some blonde who has been visiting in the vicinity of Miller the past year. When she announced her intention of returning to Missouri Mr. Keyser brought his persuasive powers into play and "showed her" it would be better for both of them if she'd change her name and remain in Nebraska.

Word has been received in Broken Bow that Mr. Lambrecht, who, after being treated in an Omaha hospital for swelling in one of his legs, went to Long Beach, California, last spring, has had to have the leg amputated, and as his strength has been greatly impaired by suffering it is feared by the family he will not long survive the operation.

Lester Corlett, who came here from Iowa and has had charge of the jewelry department at Ed. McComas' drug store the past year, was taken sick last week with what was supposed to be a gripe, but the cause developing into typhoid fever. His request to go to a hospital in Omaha was granted and he was taken there Monday by Dr. W. E. Talbot.

Thanksgiving day is Thursday next, the day for the publication of the REPUBLICAN and in order that the printers may observe it in an appropriate manner and not be compelled to work it will be necessary to issue the paper Wednesday. Notices for publication and copy for advertisements should, therefore, be handed in not later than Tuesday next week. Do not wait—when you think of something you want published next week, sure—but attend to it at once before you forget.

An enlarged picture from a photo taken at Algernon on July 4 1886, graces the wall in the office of Register of Deeds Wood, at the court house. Algernon at that time was a hustling village which the railroad had reached but a few years prior to the 4th, and the picture shows a locomotive and several box cars. It was plated on the 27th of June, 1884, and was located about midway between the present towns of Ansley and Mason City. Maj. C. S. Ellison and F. P. Barks were its sponsors and indications were that it would be the metropolis of this part of Nebraska. But Messrs. Ellison and Barks and the railway managers could not get together on negotiations with the result that the company established Ansley and Mason with depots but didn't even make a sidetrack town of Algernon, whose star, which had been in the ascendancy until then, rapidly faded, and today, where was once a busy, bustling village the jack-rabbit now enjoys himself among the cornstalks, never once imagining that he is scampering over what was once valuable corner lots. The picture revives fond recollections to those who spent many happy days in Algernon.

Do your Christmas shopping early and—pay with checks.

Local dealers say that never before was the demand so great among women for sensible winter wraps. Fancy things, with all looks and possessing no particular warming qualities, are not even getting a smile from the buyers.

The Burlington railroad company has been paying taxes to a number of counties in the state without making any protest, but up to the present time the company has not unloaded any of its wealth into the Custer county treasury.

November 30—Saturday night of next week—the Ideal Comic Opera company, will occupy the opera house in this city. The Ideal company is not new to Broken Bow theatre-goers who will undoubtedly fill the hall to its capacity on their appearance here next week.

Paul Humphrey left last Sunday for Washington, D. C., expecting to arrive there tomorrow and at once enter upon his duties as private secretary to Congressman Kinkaid. Paul is a well-posted, exemplary young man and will make good in the position he has assumed.

Mrs. Effie Dodd, clerk in the U. S. Land office, returned Tuesday from Cheyenne, Wyoming, where she spent a thirty-day leave of absence visiting her mother, brother and sister. She says the month passed away too rapidly as she was thoroughly enjoying her vacation.

Mrs. M. D. Callen, residing five miles northeast of this city, suffered an operation last Saturday which, although very difficult and dangerous, from present indications, will prove very successful. Drs. Stokes, of Omaha, and Bartholomew and Talbot of this city were in attendance. Her speedy recovery is hoped for by a large circle of friends.

If you are tired of the agitation to divide grand old Custer county refuse to sign a petition with that object in view—if handed you for that purpose—and stick to it. The easiest way to do away with this unwholesome agitation is to keep your name off the petitions. The divisionists asked for a fair, square vote on the proposition and they got it, were beaten—and badly beaten. It will be the same thing over again if you sign the petition. Don't do it—for another seven years at least.

A Broken Bow club woman has been keeping tab on a few things and says that the year 1907 will be a red letter one for her sex. The first notable step ahead this year was the granting of parliamentary suffrage to the women in Norway. Then women were made eligible for municipal office in Sweden. Next came the granting to the women of Denmark the right to vote for and serve as members of the board of public charities, and now the British parliament has just passed a bill making women eligible to town and county councillors and aldermen.

Candidate for Insane Hospital.
James Sweeney, who has been working as a day laborer around Merna, was brought here Monday and taken before the insanity board which was not compelled to deliberate at any length upon the question as to his sanity. He is said to have been a well educated man and his dizziness seems to be on figures. He is almost constantly engaged in figures, one of his plans was a pool hall at Merna to be 1200 ft. long, 800 ft. wide, 1 ft. high and cost A. B. C. $70. He also speaks of dividing Custer county by water. Sweeney evidently, is a graduate of the Arbor saloon over at Callaway.
None of his remarks are in the least intelligent and, having been twice sent to an insane asylum and released as cured, his condition this time is such that another cure is not anticipated very soon.
