JESSE GANDY, Broken Bow,

Look For It.

One of the best equipped productions on the road today is "The District Leader." No expense has been spared to make a stupendous scenic garniture. The first act is a reproduction of the rotunda of the Hoffman House, New York, one of the most magnificently appointed hostleries in the United States. The second act, a scene from Chinatown, was built from sketches made by the scenic artist for this production from studies made in San Francisco's Chinese quarter. The costumes for the chorus and principals in this act are made by a Chinese importing tailor and are replicas in silk and brocade of the royal court costumes of China. The last act is a palatial summer home and gardens of beautiful Riverside drive, overlooking the Hudson river and palisades. The act fairly scintillates with grand effects. The chorus is gowned in gauzy summer draperies from the hands of the best Parisian modistes. The District Leader, will at the Opera house on Saturday night, May 30th. Seats on sale at usual place.

A Great Play By a Big Company of Forty-two People.

A musical comedy will appear at the Opera house Saturday evening, May 30th. The largest company even seen in Broken Bow. The play was written by Joseph E. Howard. His plays are exceptionally good. This is called the best. It portrays a city election in New York and the wit and humor in it is bright and continuous. Chorus of over forty voices has filled the largest theatres in New York and the large cities in the whole country. Besure and see it. Prices later.

E. B. Barber intends to move to the county seat this week and live a life of ease. After farming his place here for a number of years he concluded to rent his farm to his two enterprising nephews and say farewell to the hard work on the farm. He will be greatly missed in our neighborhood, but what is our loss will be Broken Bow's gain.

Sunday School Convention.

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Custer County S. S. Association met at the Christian church in this city, May 13. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, only a small audience greeted Rev. O. B. Sarder, of Grand Island, who gave a splendid lecture on "Child Evangelism."

Thursday morning the session was very enthusiastic and interesting and this was a characteristic of the entire convention.

The number of schools represented was small, yet the fifty delegates who attended were there with a definite purpose in view—that of getting knowledge that would benefit their schools.

The talks on primary work by Mrs. McCloud of York, the view of mission work in Japan given by Mrs. Smelser of Yokohama, Japan, and the lectures and beautiful solos by Mrs. English of Lincoln, were features that made the convention a success.

The nominating committee reported as follows:

President, J. M. Fodge; vice-pres., Mrs. B. L. Atkinson, secretary and treas., Mrs. L. D. George; supt. primary work, Mrs. W. H. Danielson; supt. teacher training, Rev. Jon. D. Brady; supt. home department, Mrs. L. McCandless; supt. adult department, Martha H. Fodge.
