News Notes From Our Assistant Editors

Callaway Siftings.

Dwelling houses are in demand; a number of persons have to store goods until they can build or rent.

Mrs. Wm. Wolf of Broken Bow was visiting her mother and sister, Mrs. Nolan and Mrs. Yates, last week.

Rev. J. W. Seabrooke, pastor of the M. E. church at Callaway, transacted business in Grant county last week.

H. J. Benckeser and his mother of near Cozad were in town Monday of this week transacting business pertaining to the estate of John Benckeser.

Nicholas Taylor sold his residence property last week. We don't know just what Nic is going to do but we don't want to miss him as he is too good a man to lose.

The new Catholic church is nearing completion. This is a much needed edifice for that society, and when finished will be a good addition to Callaway and surrounding country.

The Republicans of Callaway are putting on airs now, and posting Taft's and Sherman's pictures. This is the proper thing to do. So far no Bryan pictures are in sight. Surely they have a big lot left over from 1896 and 1900 they might use.

Clara Lodge Order Eastern Star lately instituted at Callaway is holding schools for instruction with Rev. J. W. Seabrooke assisting. Brother Seabrooke is Worthy Patron of the lodge at University and is an able instructor. The new lodge here is starting out in fine shape.

Mr. G. H. Kinsey of Arcadia was in Callaway last week fixing up his fences for the nomination of State Senator on the Republican ticket. Mr. Kinsey feels sure of his nomination, and from his expressions as to his position on public matters if he succeeds the district will be ably represented.

Mr. W. S. Mattley of Ansley was in town Monday of this week in the interest of his candidacy for State Senator. Mr. Mattley is quite sanguine that he will win out at the primary, and if so will no doubt win at the polls in November, and this senatorial district will then have a good man in the senate.

Attorney N. T. Gadd of Broken Bow delivered a fine temperance lecture to a crowded house at the Evangelical church last Sunday evening. His subject was "What Makes a Happy Home And The Greatest Enemy of The Happy Home." Mr. Gadd is also a candidate for County Attorney, and he promises that if elected he will hit that enemy of the happy home as often as it gets in his way.

The new two story building of W. T. Keyes is nearing completion and when finished will be one of the best constructed buildings of the kind in the county. It will be a two story building, 25x120 feet. First floor to be occupied by Higby and Keyes as a hardware store, upper floor with tin shop, store room and suite of offices in front. A winding iron stairway on the outside and an elevator inside. The outside walls are of pressed brick and the building is a beautiful structure, and Callaway feels proud of it.

Visiting Relatives Here.

W. D. George and wife of Dumba, California, and Mrs. Emma Knepper, of Butler, Nebraska, and Mrs. Clara Tollefson of Kearney, Nebraska, arrived in the city Tuesday morning for a few days visit with their brother and sister, W. A. George and Mrs. Joseph Pigman. W. A. and W. D. George and their wives were recently touring the New England states, W. A. and wife returning home several days ago. W. D. George and wife remained for a more extended tour. They are on their way home to California and stopped off here for a visit. The REPUBLICAN office acknowledges a pleasant call by W. D.

Same Election Board

The same election board which served at last fall's election will serve at the primary election September 1st. Those who composed this board will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Vice-Chairman Herbert G. Myers of the County Central Committee made a trip to Mason City and Ansley the first of the week to push the Republican Clubs in those towns and look up the Republican situation in general. He reports the interest much better than two weeks ago and believes that conditions in that part of the county are getting better and that people are becoming more and more favorable to Taft and Sherman as the time for election approaches. Each of the clubs in those towns have a membership of over seventy-five and the membership role is growing constantly. These clubs promise to have a membership of one hundred and fifty within the next two weeks. Mr. Myers has been going over the situation very carefully and finds nothing to indicate a landslide for Bryan in Custer County. He says the people would like to vote for a Nebraska man and they would like to have the president from Nebraska but that they do not want it bad enough to vote for Bryan and his ever-changing free trade, free silver, anti-imperialism, anti-Roosevelt, government ownership of rail-ways paramount issues.
