

THE ESCAPADE

A POST MARITAL ROMANCE By Cyrus Townsend Brady

ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

The Escapade opens, not in the romance preceding the marriage of Ellen Bloom...

back and could have screamed aloud. "Ellen," said Deborah, who had given no thought to what was before her...

CHAPTER XII.—Continued. "What are you going to do?" asked Deborah again.

In those days a long shoal, of which Ellen knew nothing, jutted out into the roads.

"If you run down my boat," answered Ellen, handling her pistols, "I swear I'll use these weapons."

There was a sudden scream from Mistress Debbie. The boat in which she sailed met with a sudden check.

Sir Charles was close aboard. Not far from a sailor, he had not noticed, and in the excitement of the chase, Sir Charles offering reward upon reward to the fishermen if they overhauled the other boat...

their position. Indeed, they had barely escaped ripping a mast out of the lugger.

"Who is it then?" asked Ellen who was thinking hard and desperately as to what was best to be done.

"You must. Would you fall into his arms?" "Tis most unmaidenly," answered Ellen.

CHAPTER XIII. An Impromptu Affair on the High Seas. It was hardly possible at first, even for so practiced and acute an eye as Carrington's...

Both of them sailed faster than the Flying Star in the air then prevailing. When the big ship got out into the channel she would probably run away from the two fishing boats...

Carrington studied the sea intently and concluded that if the wind did not shift and it did not come to blow harder than it was, there was every prospect that both boats would overhaul the ship.

That worthy fisherman, Cooper, who was sailing Strathgate's boat, albeit he did very well, was a mere tyro compared to Carrington.

MAN WAS TAKING NO CHANCES. Elaborate Precautions to Forestall the Festive Germ.

A man whose poor hearing obliges him to use a speaking tube met another man who certainly deserves to be set down as the champion foe to germs.

A Golden Rule. In reflections on the absent, go no further than you would go if they were present.

NEBRASKA POINTERS

STATE NEWS AND NOTES IN CONDENSED FORM.

THE PRESS, PULPIT AND PUBLIC

What is Going on Here and There That is of Interest to the Readers Throughout Nebraska.

Corn in Phelps county is looking fine and prospects are for a big yield. The contract has been let for putting in a system of water works at Pilger.

Thieves did a wholesale business in David City recently, breaking into five houses in one night.

The next meeting of the Northwestern Dental society of Nebraska will be held at Grand Island.

Washington county has a good fruit year, and a great deal of the same is now being shipped out.

At Nebraska City the Bernardino sisters have rented the home of the late Senator M. L. Hayward and will turn it into a school for girls.

Much interest is being taken in the preparation for the Stanton county fair, which is to be held from the 15th to the 18th of September.

John E. Bennett of Bell Center, O., started to go to Deadwood for his health and died near Inman. The body was taken off the train at Alnsworth.

The Grand Island Commercial club held one of its excursions to nearby cities last week, over 100 of the business men participating in the jaunt to Shelton to attend the fraternal jubilee and race meet.

During a severe thunder and rain storm a barn belonging to J. Logan Shultz, a farmer living about thirteen miles northeast of Schuyler, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

The Cass County Teachers' institute was in session in Elmwood a week. It was a success in the number of teachers in attendance and the amount of good work accomplished.

Citizens of York county have been notified that on and after September 6 no one will be allowed to step on a Burlington train at York without having purchased and showing a ticket.

Andrew Taylor and Reuben Campbell are neighboring farmers residing about seven miles northwest of Parks, Chase county. Campbell had taken up as estrays some hogs belonging to Taylor.

One of the largest deals ever consummated in Chappell took place when Wertz Bros. disposed of their lumber yard, hardware, coal, furniture and implement business to Anderson & Peterson of Marquette, Neb.

The postoffice at Juniata was robbed, though but little booty was secured. The funeral services of James M. Woodson, who was a soldier in the confederate army and has resided in Plattsmouth since the close of the civil war, was held in the Christian church.

The latter part of last week, says a Plattsmouth dispatch, there was a strange, sad sight, two boys, barefooted, pulling a rough home-made cart, on which lay their invalid mother, thinly clad and without shoes.

These things are worse than telephones to spread disease," he complained. "I don't know who talked into this last. I'm not going to take any chances."

The owner of the first aid to hearing looked on in consternation that was half anger, but as he was very anxious to secure an answer to his question he did not protest against the sterilization of the tube.

Frank Iams, the St. Paul horseman, arrived from Europe with a Wells-Fargo special express train of six cars carrying his annual importation of European stallions.

News has reached West Point of the death at Santa Paula, Cal., of Emory Briggs, late of West Point. The deceased was one of the first settlers in the city, coming there in the early part of 1867.

It's a mighty cold day when a woman can't make it hot for a race.—Detroit Free Press.

CRUSADE AGAINST CONSUMPTION

Nebraska Should Not Be Derelict in this Important Matter.

An official of the State Board of Health speaking of the spread of tuberculosis in Nebraska says: "This state should not be derelict in its duty. Let us get on the same plane with Ohio, Minnesota, Michigan, Kentucky and numerous other states and place health above politics."

For generations consumption or tuberculosis was believed to be hereditary and hopeless. Perhaps this belief brought the conviction that it is a sort of disgrace and should be concealed as much as possible.

A special campaign against spitting should be inaugurated. We have been stigmatized as a nation of spitlers—which being interpreted means breeders of disease.

During a severe thunder and rain storm a barn belonging to J. Logan Shultz, a farmer living about thirteen miles northeast of Schuyler, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

The Cass County Teachers' institute was in session in Elmwood a week. It was a success in the number of teachers in attendance and the amount of good work accomplished.

Citizens of York county have been notified that on and after September 6 no one will be allowed to step on a Burlington train at York without having purchased and showing a ticket.

One of the largest deals ever consummated in Chappell took place when Wertz Bros. disposed of their lumber yard, hardware, coal, furniture and implement business to Anderson & Peterson of Marquette, Neb.

The postoffice at Juniata was robbed, though but little booty was secured. The funeral services of James M. Woodson, who was a soldier in the confederate army and has resided in Plattsmouth since the close of the civil war, was held in the Christian church.

The latter part of last week, says a Plattsmouth dispatch, there was a strange, sad sight, two boys, barefooted, pulling a rough home-made cart, on which lay their invalid mother, thinly clad and without shoes.

These things are worse than telephones to spread disease," he complained. "I don't know who talked into this last. I'm not going to take any chances."

What is Pe-ru-na.

Are we claiming too much for Peruna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh?

Take, for instance, the ingredient Hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensary says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes lining various organs of the human body.

Send to us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Peruna as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

Miss Sentimental—Tell me, are you sure, Milton, that I'm the first you've asked to marry you? Mr. Manyack—Do you mean this present month or do you include last as well?

Important to Mothers. Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of J. C. Watson.

Being bad all the time is almost as monotonous as being good. Feet Ache—Use Allen's Foot-Paste.

Habitual Constipation. May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

Bank Tax Remains Unchanged. The State Board of Equalization decided to leave the assessments of the Douglas county banks just as they are fixed by the county assessor.

State to Furnish Light. The state house will soon be lighted with electricity furnished by the state. The dome already has been decorated with sixteen lights of 150 candle power.

