Bryan says that discrimination has driven the farmers into the towns. We know that lots of farmers were moving into town but did not know exactly the reason.

We are proud of the fact that the Weary Willies who make curbstone political speeches and hold their audiences by the cheap street fakir methods...

A Democratic paper in Missouri where there are over three thousand straight Democratic votes polled at nearly every election, has, after considerable pleading succeeded in raising $6 to help elect Bryan.

Too much care cannot be given to the selection of a chairman and secretary of the Republican County Central Committee next Saturday.

The Republicans have no time to waste ammunition on each other. In order to do good work every shot must be turned on the common enemy.

Indications point toward a hundred thousand majority for Taft in Ohio.

Governor Crawford of South Dakota, who is also the nominee of the republican party of his state for United States Senator...

Taxes are raised from the people and are spent by the public officials elected by the people, consequently the public officials are the business agents of the tax payers pure and simple.

A bit of grim humor is injected into the presidential campaign by Mr. Bryan's insistence that he is not only the heir to the Roosevelt policies but that he is also the parent of them.

The past week has been "primary week," the first time in the history of Nebraska when the people at direct primaries have named all the nominees for the various offices within the state to be voted for at the November election. Owing to the failure of many primary boards to keep copies of the precinct returns the result in some closely contested state nominations may not be definitely known until a week from the primary voting day.

The commissioner of internal revenue report shows a falling off in the quantity of distilled spirits produced in the country for the fiscal year ending June 30 last, over the corresponding previous twelve months. The falling off is 14,333,972 gallons and the loss in Revenue to the government is $15,367,038.

If a man is to be known by the company he keeps certainly Mr. Bryan is not very sweet and pure. It is nonsense for him to pretend that he does not know what such men as Schwinn and Allen and Dollman are like and what they are doing in politics.

The suspicion that Judge Taft is not of sufficiently religious turn of mind to be president, is destroyed by his recent talk reproduced by a phonograph. His words were devoted mainly to foreign missions, the importance of which he has been able to understand by reason of his experiences in the orient.

to know how dependent we are on the spread of christianity for any hope we may have of uplifting the people whom providence has thrust upon us for our guidance.

His talk closes with these words: "It is said that there is nothing in the constitution of the United States that authorizes altruism of that sort. Well, of course there is not; but there is nothing in the constitution of the United States that forbids it."

Judge Taft's religious ideas are of a high order and of a practical sort. That fact is appreciated most by those who have known him best in this country and have understood his services among the oriental people.

Can a Pot Call Kettle Black?

To the Editor of The Bee: On the money question Mr. Bryan has never been either sound or intelligent. In 1896 he robbed Mr. Bland of Missouri of the free coinage of silver issue, which meant as all men of sense now agree, payment of all public and private debts with 50-cent dollars.
